Assemblyman, Brown Trade Angry Words

Hearing Ends On Republican State Central Committee

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown ended a tumultous hearing today by promising to sign a bill Republican legislators hope will prevent what they consider an attempt by ultra-conservatives to take over the GOP State Central Committee.

But before he did, got into an angry, shouting exchange with Assembly Minority Leader Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks).

"I don't want to hear from you," Brown yelled at Conrad.

"You can't come up here to insult me in the governor's office."

MEASURE ON ISSUE

At issue was a measure that backers say is needed to prevent an ultra conservative capture of the Republican State Central Committee.

It would give incumbents nine—instead of the present five—appointments to the body and supporters say this would keep control of the group in the hands of moderate GOP elements.

The Democratic governor was hearing testimony on whether he should sign the measure.

As the hearing opened, Brown remarked that an affect of this bill would be to give control of the party to one group—the assemblymen.

IRES CONRAD

"Why should the control be vested in the Assembly?" he asked.

This remark apparently ired Conrad.

As he began testifying in favor of the bill, he remarked that he hoped the governor "had an open mind."

"I always have an open mind in these hearings," Brown replied.

"Don't make those accusations to me," Brown said.

"That's very unfair. What's the use of talking if you feel that way."

Conrad, his voice getting louder, replied that he just wanted to be sure of a fair hearing.

"I don't want to talk to you. I don't want to hear from you. You can't come up here and insult me in the governor's office," Brown said.

"I don't mind you going over the state with your political pronouncements," said Brown, referring to Conrad's frequent criticism of him.

"But you can't come into the governor's office and insult me."

Finally, their voices lowered and the governor told Conrad to "tell me about the bill and don't insult me."

HOW DO SMOG REDUCERS ON AUTOS WORK?

That new car you bought is equipped with a "smog reducer."

How much does the smog reducer reduce smog? And how much—if any—does it reduce the efficiency and life of your car's engine?

Wat Takeshiita, Independent-Journal reporter, seeks the answer to these and other questions about motor vehicle smog control in a series of three articles, the first of which appears on page 16 of today's I-J.

Ross School To Seek Bond Of $350,000

Ross School District voters will be asked to approve a $350,000 bond issue for expansion and refurbishment of the school Sept. 12.

The board approved holding the election last night as a result of the failure of the district's April 14 election which called for $400,000 in bonds. Had that election been successful, $100,000 of the funds would have been used to purchase two parcels of land south of the Ross Common for a new school site.

It was agreed that improvements which would be realized through passage of the September election would be made at the present site, according to Supt. William W. Monohan.

"The bond redemption tax which will be levied if this election passes will be consistent with the tax which has been levied for that purpose during the past 10 years," Monahan said.

The $350,000 realized from the sale of the bonds would be used to construct five new classrooms, expand the library and multipurpose room and generally refurbish the school.

The board accepted a gift of $15 from the O-Le-Wa-Ya Camp Fire Girls group to the school library.

Discussion of class grouping within the school, presented by James R. Osborn of Ross, was tabled with Osborn's permission for further study.

Contract for renting two portable classrooms was awarded to American Modulux Co. of Hayward which presented the low bid of $4,800.

Award of a contract for repair of the school's roof was postponed for further study of the job specifications.

Mill Valley Phone Worker Shot In Head By Youth

A Mill Valley telephone installer working on a pole in San Francisco was shot in the head yesterday by a 12-year-old boy with an air rifle.

Lawrence Arrington, 23, of 536 Marin Avenue, was able to lower himself to the ground.

A surgeon at Franklin Hospital removed a pellet from between his scalp and skull, then sent him home in satisfactory condition.

Arrington was "doing fine" at home today, and said he would return to work tomorrow.

The boy was cited for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. He told Officer Chap Reese he didn't know why he fired at Arrington. Reese said the pellet, from a pump air rifle, would have been fatal if Arrington had been at ground level.

Japan Is Rocked By Huge Temblor

Fires Set Off, Tidal Waves Hit

NIIGATA, Japan (UPI)—A massive earthquake struck a 300-mile stretch of the west coast of the main Island of Honshu today, shattering buildings, smashing bridges and setting off raging fires that burned into the night.

It was the worst temblor to hit this earthquake-prone country since 1923, when 143,000 persons were killed in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

DEAD, MISSING

The official Japan Broadcasting Corp., NHK, reported 22 persons dead, one missing and 196 injured.

More than 3,000 buildings and houses were destroyed or damaged by the quake which hit at 1:02 p.m.

Seven petroleum tanks still were blazing furiously in Niigata at 11 p.m. and city officials asked for outside help to fight the flames. The officials were reported to have asked the Japanese air self-defense force to air-drop chemical fire-fighting bombs over the tanks.

CITY OF 290,000

Niigata, a city of 290,000, was in the center of the earthquake-stricken zone, with Yamagata, Akita and Toyama also hard hit.

A massive relief and rescue operation was being mounted from many points in Japan to help the affected area, with U.S. Air Force planes, men and equipment on standby alert to help out when needed.

The impact of the quake was depicted in a telephone conversation from Hana Furukawa in

WALDO POINT WOES

Sun Acts Up, So Filming Shuttered

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Lack of light held up shooting this morning of "Erasmus with Freckles" at Gate Six Road, Waldo Point.

But, to a steady coming and going of visitors and one of the Sausalito extras, the whole affair was something of a delightful "circus."

Stocking-capped Bob Carig, who lives at Waldo and is an extra hired to sail a boat back and forth, was asked how he liked acting. He replied "It's a circus."

A rope strung across the rutty, dirt road was lined with movie-making watchers. They were pleased to see Ernie Smith of Hollywood putting his dog, Red, through many roll-overs and other capers. The dog, which Smith calls "just a mutt," is Ed Wynn's dog. Wynn, who plays, Cap'n, knocks his pipe out on the dog in the production.

Juanita Musson, former owner of the Galley on the ferry boat, Charles Van Damme, was parked in her truck watching the movie crews wield the kleig lights and camera in preparation for shooting.

Shooting began yesterday. It was suspended this morning waiting for the sun to come out from behind clouds.

Though the Sausalito extras were in full view, the Hollywood stars were "inhiding," along with the sun. Stars Glynis Johns, Cindy Carrol, Ed Wynn and Billy Mumy—the boy with the freckles who plays Erasmus Leaf—are staying at the Edgwater Inn in Corte Madera. James Stewart, who plays Prof. Robert Leaf, is staying at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. Fabian is due to arrive tomorrow.

A bit of local color was added to the set yesterday. A disagreement between 20th Century-Fox representatives and Kenneth McCurdy, who lives with his wife and family aboard the ferry boat, Issaquah, in the midst of the set.

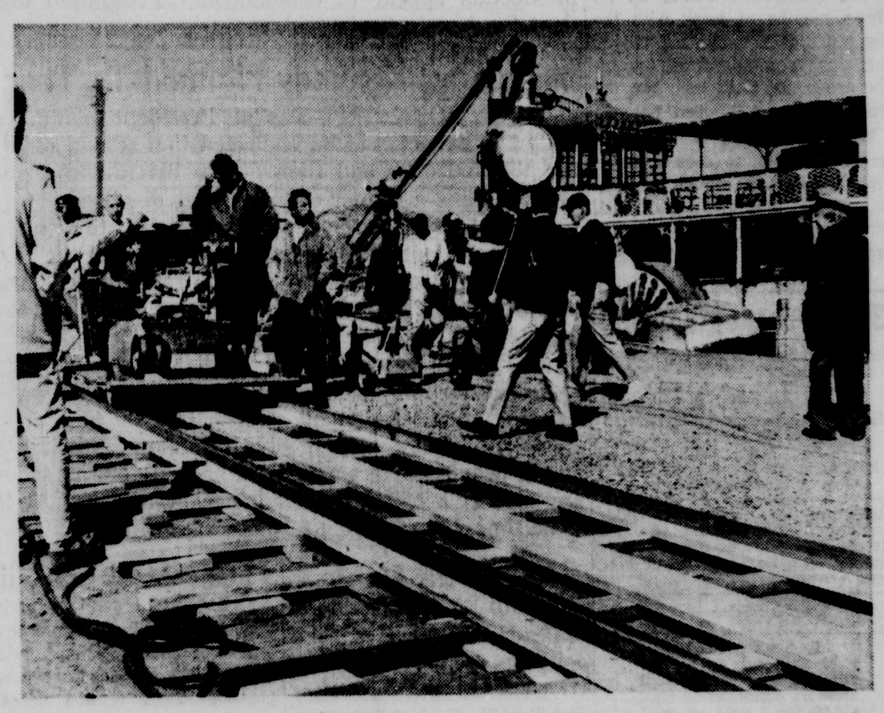
Dean M. Jennings, houseboat dweller who is a technical advisor on the set, said the studio wanted to paint the Issaquah, which was a dirty gray, and offered to put out $125 for the paint. McCurdy said he wanted to paint it himself, then said he would settle for $417. The matter was settled for $417. The Issaquah is now a bright white.

But McCurdy was apparently still unhappy, said Jennings, and brought out signs reading, "Hollywood Go Home" and "20th Century-Fox Stinks."

The shooting centers around a small river boat, River Belle, which was brought in six sections from Hollywood, and a small nondescript boat with no name occupied by Terry and George (Jane Wald and Charlie Robinson). The Leaf family lives aboard the paddlewheeler, River Belle.

Among changes in the road which leads to Kappas Yacht Harbor are a stretch of crushed rock near the River Belle and a number of potted plants.

"People we know come here and think we're big movie stars," said Bill Jones of Sausalito, an extra. "We're not. It's not glamorous." He said extras make $25 a day and when the company uses his car he gets $14 a day for that. "If there is 20 minutes overtime, we get $6," he said "If it drizzles, we get $5 extra. It's called the wet check. We have to be fed every five hours. If we're not, then there's extra pay."



HOLLYWOOD IN SAUSALITO—Twentieth Century-Fox movie crew shoots Ed Wynn (standing at right) in scene for "Erasmus With Freckles," a story of riverboat dwellers being filmed at Waldo Point. The shooting has brought throngs of onlookers—besides employing various waterfront characters as extras and paying Kenneth McCurdy $417 to repaint his houseboat, the Issaquah. Tiburon Picks Temporary City Adviser

The "city" of Tiburon has taken one of its first steps toward independence in the selection of a temporary city administrator.

City councilmen-elect vary on the title of Warren Schmid, 34, whom they chose in a closed session Sunday night, but he has the job. Some councilmen call him adviser; some, counselor; others, administrator.

Schmid is executive director of the Institute for Local Self Government, a research group in Berkeley. He has been working under a Ford Foundation grant and previously was the first city manager of the then-new city of Milpitas.

Schmid already is working for the "city," which officially will not come into being until June 23. He was hired on an hourly basis for approximately two months until councilmen can interview and hire a permanent city administrator - manager, Councilman Leo Souza reported today.

Schmid's salary will be about $12.50 an hour, Souza said — though the council apparently will have no power to pay Schmid until Tiburon collects some revenues. Schmid was chosen from a list of available advisers supplied by the League of California Cities.

Schmid will work out of the newly acquired city office—Room 1 of Del Mar School. Telephones were installed yesterday and the number (435-1040) soon will be listed through calling "information."

Reed School District trustees last night agreed they would not charge the city rent for use of the room, its chairs and tables. The no-rental fee decision follows past district policy in allowing use of school facilities to non-profit groups when no unusual maintenance or plant costs are involved.

Councilmen, headed by chairman Gordon W. Strawbridge, will convene at 8 p.m. today at the Del Mar School to discuss what services the city most immediately wants to take over from county administration.

Young Golf Pro Has Real Swinging Time

By JAMES K. WILLWERTH

Twelve-year-old Frank P. Vanderbuilt of San Rafael is well on his way to becoming a golf tycoon in the confines of his own backyard.

The young entrepeneur, who lives at 204 H Street, has posted signs on trees in the neighborhood reading:

"Golf, only 3 cents at 204 B Street."

And the buyer doesn't have to beware. He simply walks into the Vanderbuilt back yard, plunks down his three pennies, and starts swinging.

Of course there are limits. The driving range is only 30 feet in length. And the flower gardens are out of bounds -- it costs a stroke if you land there.

The young golfer hopes to make "about $10" this summer. Since the course opened Sunday, 24 aspiring Arnold Palmers have made the rounds. The cashbox shows 73 cents.

The extra penny came from a special service offered by Frank. For one cent, he caddies, carrying your club around the course and chasing balls out of the rough.

Included for three cents are all traditional headaches of the Sunday duffer. A specially designed sandtrap vexes putters on green number four. Other problems are a two-foot-deep fish pond, and a dry drainage creek running through one end of the yard.

"The holes," Frank explains, are constructed of "jars stuck in the ground, and dirt filled around them." At present the course has 14, with the remaining four to be built.

Marker flags were made from "a torn sheet, a felt marking pen, and a bamboo stick about two feet high." Frank serves his customers from a red table near the back porch.

He supplies golf clubs and regular golf balls for his more mature golfers. "Little kids" swing plastic clubs and drive plastic balls.

"I swing a big one," says Frank, who is four feet 10 inches

City Manager Is Selected For Belvedere

William Louis Cavalli, city clerk and administrative officer of King City in Monterey County, will become city manager and clerk of Belvedere on Aug. 1.

The Belvedere City Council last night appointed Cavalli to succeed Britton Rey, who is retiring. He will be paid $841 per month as city manager and $7 as city clerk.

Rey agreed to remain on the job one month beyond his announced retirement date of June 30.

Still to be filled are the position of building inspector, which Rey is also relinquishing, and that of city treasurer, from which Mrs. Rey is retiring. Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock said the council is seeking applicants for both positions.

Selection of Cavalli was made at a closed council session which followed last night's regular meeting.

Cavalli, 43, was born in King City. After serving as a pilot in the Army Air Corps in World War II, he was appointed city clerk in 1947, later also being named city administrative officer. He was a member of a state controller's commission to study and assist in implementation of charting accounts for cities.

King City has a population of 3,200 and assessed valuation of about six million dollars. Belveder's population is 2,400 and its assessed valuation, eight million dollars.

Rey has been city clerk since 1947 and city manager since 1954.

Board Starting Work On Budget

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will open two weeks of daily sessions on the county budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The first day will take up the needs of the major spender in county government, the welfare department, asking for more than five million dollars this year in county, state and federal funds.

The board will take time out from formal budget discussions in the morning, however, to meet with officials of the City of San Rafael to discuss plans for widening of Third Street - Point San Pedro Road.

WHERE SIX DIED IN LAKE

Two barges smashed a gap in the world's longest bridge before dawn today and a bus plunged over the edge into Lake Pontchartrain, killing six persons. The 24 mile bridge extends 24 miles north from New Orleans across the lake. The bus driver was one of two survivors. The barges, pushed by a towboat, hit the bridge about eight miles from New Orleans. The bus went down in upper right of picture. (AP Wirephoto)

New Pesticide Rules Are Due For Dairymen

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state has decreed new rules concerning milk and cows, aimed at protecting consumers, effective July 11.

The regulations were announced yesterday by State Agriculture Director Charles Paul.

One will require identification of dairy cows known to be carrying pesticide residues. It is added to rules already forbidding the sale or transportation of such animals.

Officials said it would make California the first state to provide the added protection from pesticide-carrying cows, regarded as a health hazard.

The other regulation will require distributors to obtain a state permit before adding any vitamins or minerals to market milk or market milk products.

It was put into effect, the state said, because some distributors have been lax in adding enough vitamins to their milk to meet their advertised guarantees.

Group Pledges Poverty Fight

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The United Nations Trade and Development Conference ended today with a pledge from its 119 members to strive for the "abolition of poverty everywhere."

The conference wound up its three months of work with the signature of a "final act" which includes recommendations for aid-through-trade assistance for the world's under-privileged nations.

The act pledged Geneva conference nations to seek a more effective system of international cooperation that would banish "the division of the world into areas of poverty and plenty."

Troops Close In On Colombian Bandit

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Troops supported by fighter planes and helicopters were reported closing in today on Castro-Communist bandit leader Pedro (Sure Shot) Marin in the dwindling remnants of his "independent republic" of Marquetalia in the jungle foothills.

Marin and his chief lieutenants fled into the hills Sunday when loyal forces captured the jungle village which had served for years as his "capital."

Copenhagen Reception For Nikita Cool

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Copenhagen today at the start of a three-week visit to Scandinavia and received a friendly but low-keyed reception from thin crowds of Danes.

The lack-luster atmosphere was in striking contrast to the boisterous crowds which howled enthusiasm for Khrushchev on his recent visit to Egypt.

Four thousand police, many of them imported from the provinces, were on the alert in the city of one million people.

Teachers Demand Red Foe Resignation

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A commencement speech by Charles Luckman, chairman of the California State Colleges Board of Trustees, has led to a demand for his resignation.

Luckman, in a speech last Friday at San Diego State College, urged rigid restrictions on campus speeches by Communists.

The campus chapter of the AFL-CIO Federation of Teachers demanded Luckman's resignation yesterday, accusing him of an attack on academic freedom.

"We resent his suggestion that the faculty and students are vulnerable to what he terms the 'seductive intellectual appeal' of communism," Federation president Or. Melvin Crain said.

Aide Says Kennedy Planned To Teach

NEW YORK (UPI)—The late President John F. Kennedy had expected to be re-elected to a second term in the White House and then devote his life to writing and teaching, a former close aide has disclosed.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., an adviser to Kennedy, wrote in the current issue of Look magazine that Kennedy felt he would be too young to retire upon leaving the presidency at 51 when his anticipated second four-year term expired.

"The president intended to establish his headquarters in Boston where he planned to live at least part of the year," Schlesinger said.

"Kennedy wanted to hold seminars and talk to young people at Harvard where he had gone to school, and also at a half-dozen other nearby colleges. At the same time, he was going to write his memoirs."

States Facing Big Shakeup In Government

Court Rules Apportionment By Population

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically every state in the union faced today an explosive change in its law-making and politics which should eventually give city voters a more equal voice in their state governments.

The Supreme Court, arguing that "legislatures represent people, not trees or acres," decreed yesterday that seats in both houses of every state legislature must be apportioned by population.

REACTION SWIFT

The decision held unconstitutional the division of representation in six states—Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware, Alabama and Colorado—but foreshadowed a similar holding in as many as 40 other states.

Reaction was swift and noisy—joy from urban leaders and outrage from state's righters and rural-dominated legislatures.

Both Republicans and Democrats, digging into voting and population charts, figured the decision could help them.

RURAL LOSERS

All agreed that rural residents who for generations have held a disproportionate share of voting power in most states, would be the losers.

The problem pondered in statehouses today was what to do. Special sessions of the legislatures may be needed in some cases. Fortunately the court gave time for planning and preparations. It ruled that action on the decision need not be taken before this year's general elections Nov. 3.

But it noted that in Maryland's case it does not have a state election until 1966 and it added that "under no circumstances" should that election " be conducted pursuant to the existing or any other unconstitutional plan."

UTTER NONSENSE

In its decision, the court held unconstitutional the so-called "little federal" systems in which state legislatures are made up like the U. S. Congress with districts represented equally in one house and by population in the other.

This aspect of the ruling was called "utter nonsense" by Dr. William Prendergast, research director for the Republican National Committee.

"There's no sense in having two houses if they represent the same thing," he declared. "I trust they won't find the U. S. Senate unconstitutional."

This was much the same view of Gov. John Connally of Texas, a Democrat, who said: "The ruling does violence to at least a measure of the checks and balances we've adhered to in our legislative bodies since the foundation of this country."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said legal conferences would be held to decide what California had to do and when.

Chilean Girl —'Suicide Try'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Carmen Tello, 24-year-old daughter of a Chilean diplomat, is in Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Oakland with a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Miss Tello told friends it was an accident.

The Chilean consulate declined comment.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Scranton Hails Iowa Reception

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton carried his uphill fight for the Republican presidential nomination into Kansas today, cheered by an Iowa welcome he described as "the bets in my life."

It remained to be seen, though, how fruitful was his quest for votes among Iowa's 24 GOP national convention delegates. Scranton is out to wrest the nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Scranton met with Iowa delegates for nearly an hour behind closed doors last night. He told reporters afterward, "I think we made substantial progress."

Delegates said the governor spoke and answered questions. They termed it "a very impressive appearance." However, no delegate beyond the five already committed to him came out publicly in support of Scranton.

An Associated Press survey of Iowa's delegates shows nine committed to Goldwater, five committed to Scranton and 10 uncommitted.

Scranton backers said they were encouraged by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's withdrawal from the race.

Scranton was almost mobbed as he alighted from the plane.

Chants of "We want Bill, we want Bill" answered the "We want Barry, we want Barry" cries of a noisy, though comparatively small, group of Goldwater backers.

The Goldwater forces conceded the turnout was surprisingly large.

BARRY CONFIDENT

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater declared today he intends to lead the Republican ticket—from top to bottom—to victory at the polls next November.

Goldwater said he can do the job, no matter what "the doom shouters" say.

"I intend to lead a united party on a platform of principle—the same platform and the same principle in every part of this nation," the front-running Republican presidential contender said in an address prepared for the Texas Republican Convention.

Out to round up Texas delegates' votes at the Republican National Convention, Goldwater declared: "Whatever the dopesters and pollsters say — whatever we hear from the doom shouters in both parties—I intend to lead all the candidates to victory, North and South, East and West, in November."

Goldwater is virtually assured of support from the 56-vote Texas delegation to the national convention. That would push his delegate count to 674—well above the 655 votes he needs to capture the nomination.

The Arizona senator assailed President Lyndon B. Johnson's fiscal and foreign policies last night before a crowd of cheering Republicans at a $100 a plate dinner.

He said the economic policies Johnson espouses show "that this administration's notion of fiscal responsibility went no deeper than the wheeler-dealer mentality of a card shark." Goldwater said Johnson's foreign policy is uncertain and "weak-kneed."

KUCHEL VIEW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said yesterday he will make up his own mind whether or not to support Sen. Barry Goldwater if the Arizona Republican gets the GOP presidential nomination next month in San Francisco.

Kuchel, who headed New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's unsuccessful California campaign, said he would not "respond" to a warning by former senator William Knowland to support Goldwater or lose future Republican support.

"I am not going to respond to threats of reprisals or attempts at intimidation by former senator Knowland or by anyone else," Kuchel said in a brief statement. "That is not the way I fulfill my public trust."

IKE'S CHARGES

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower charged yesterday that the Democratic administration has let inexperienced persons make key foreign policy decisions.

The former chief executive also criticized the administration's conduct of the anti-communist guerilla war in South Vietnam.

"I am quite sure we have had in the past few years fewer experienced persons associated with making our foreign policy, and mistakes have been made," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower headed a panel of prominent Republicans discussing foreign policy at the last of a series of six "party to people" forums sponsored by the Republican National Committee. The panel answered questions from an invited audience of 1,000 and from questionnaires mailed to party members.

"The United States must lead and not boss," said Eisenhower. He said some nations have become resentful because America has tried to "force our system on other peoples."

LBJ DINNER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson's $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner Friday night has been moved from the Cow Palace to the Hilton Hotel Ballroom, it was announced yesterday.

A combination rally and dinner had been scheduled for the Cow Palace but Democratic Party officials say now that the rally would have interfered with the dinner. A rally for the presidential candidate will be held at the Cow Palace in the fall.

The president will arrive about 11 a.m. Friday by plane. He will then fly by helicopter to Concord for ground-breaking ceremonies of the Bay Area rapid transit system.

Later on, the president will dedicate the new federal building in San Francisco. A motorcade will carry the president up Market Street to the building.

Donovan Ailing

NEW YORK (AP) — James B. Donovan, the New York lawyer who negotiated the release of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers from a Soviet prison, is in a hospital for treatment of a heart condition. Donovan, 48, entered the hospital last Friday, it was revealed yesterday.

Southern California Bus Strike Deadlocked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The bus strike plaguing commuters in four Southern California counties was deadlocked today as its victims braced themselves for another temper-testing day on crowded streets.

All available traffic officers were sent to downtown intersections to untangle the early morning snarl. Worse ones awaited them during the evening rush hour.

Bonds For Double-Decking Parking Lots Authorized

Issuance and sale of bonds to finance double-decking of two downtown San Rafael parking lots was authorized last night by the San Rafael City Council.

The bonds will be issued by the parking district, not as general obligation bonds of the city, and are to be repaid from parking meter revenues. To the $250,000 bond issue, the city will add $127,900 in parking district funds to finance the construction.

Opening of bids on the bonds was set for July 27 at 8 p.m., at which time contract for the work can also be awarded. The council on June 1 voted its intention to award the contract to William J. Nicholson Co. of Santa Clara on a low bid of $296,000. Costs of the bond issue, engineering fees, etc., will be in addition to the contract price.

The lots to be double-decked are at Third Street and Lootens Place and at Fifth Avenue and C Street.

Bids were opened for road construction materials and street striping for the fiscal year starting July 1. Only bidder on the street striping was A and M Striping Co. of Petaluma at $17,750, about $3,000 above the amount paid the same company this year. It was awarded the contract.

Five companies bid to furnish various items of street materials, and the bids were turned over to the public works department for checking. Bidders were Hutchinson Co. of El Cerrito, Basalt Rock Co. of Napa, Camgros Gravel and Fuel Co., McPhail's, and Shamrock Materials Co., the last three all of San Rafael.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Again delayed award of contract for improving Fourth Street between Mary and Union streets, City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson disclosing that he still lacked signatures of three property owners. On motion of Councilman Charles W. Aby, the mayor and city clerk were authorized to award the contract when all signatures and money are in hand.

2. In response to a letter by 11 Rafael Highlands residents asking what is being done about a collapsed and barricaded section of Oakwood Drive, Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles said it is still being studied with soils engineers.

3. City Manager Anderson reported the owner of 10,400 square feet sought by the city for a pumping station at Lindaro and Jordan streets is asking $35,000, or $10,000 above the city's offer. He was instructed to get an appraisal as basis for a further offer or possible condemnation suit.

4. The council adopted a resolution ordering filing of a condemnation suit on property of Joanne Wing, sought for extension of Third Street westerly.

5. Resolution was adopted approving the final map and engineer's report of Loch Lomond Highlands Unit 1. The council also passed to print an amendment to the zoning map making this a single family residence zone with 10,000 square foot lot minimum.

6. The council unanimously voted final adoption of an ordinance rezoning the portion of Rafael Woods below Meyer Road from 10,000 to 20,000 square foot lots.

7. Approved was the final map of Twelveoak Hill subdivision, on an extension of Las Gallinas Avenue in the former Pimentel Ranch.

8. Hearing on C. V. Whitlach's appeal from planning commission turndown of a subdivision application was set for July 6.

9. The mayor and city clerk were authorized to execute a lease at $120 per year with the State Division of Highways for access under the Highway 101 overhead to the Grady Building at 644 Fourth Street, rented as temporary quarters for public works, planning, engineering and building departments.

10. In response to a letter from Arthur Pappas, Montecito Merchants Assn. president, Rawles was instructed to assure the association that the city will endeavor to preserve access to the Montecito Shopping Center parking lot during extension of Second Street.

11. In response to a letter from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, the council agreed to be represented at the State Highway Commission meeting June 24, at which the freeway project through San Rafael will be discussed.

12. City Clerk W. L. Morgan was authorized to transfer from the general fund to the capital improvement fund, for the new city hall, about $400,000 surplus which he estimated will be on hand at close of the fiscal year.

13. Thomas Orovich was promoted from junior civil engineer to assistant civil engineer at $608 per month, effective today.

14. The council found no objection to request by Roy A. Brown, president of California Newspapers, Inc., for permission to run an addition to the Independent-Journal Building 10 feet beyond the line of the city hall property to which the newspaper company has taken possession. The addition will house an 80-foot long newspaper press.

Sleepy Driver Rams Into Pole

A 57-year-old San Anselmo man damaged a highway light pole, wrecked his car, and suffered minor injuries Saturday when he fell asleep at the wheel while driving north on Highway 101 near the Highway 17 off-ramp.

Vincent P. Giovannoni of 105 Bolinas Avenue, was traveling about 50 miles per hour, according to California Highway Patrol reports, when he dozed at 1:30 p.m. His car ran off the road, plowing into a Larkspur city limits sign, and then into a light pole.

Giovannoni, a San Francisco baker, was given emergency treatment for bruises and cuts at Marin General Hospital.

Radio Amateurs' Costly Antenna Parts Stolen

The Tamalpais Amateur Radio Club is missing 20 six-foot sections of antenna and eight guide ropes, valued at more than $300, from its transmitting station on nob hill off Marion Avenue, Philip Dickson, president, of 716 Del Mar, Novato, reported Sunday to Novato police.

The thefts have occurred over the past two months, Dickinson said.

Hub Man Heads Meet

Philip C. Smith of 130 Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, will preside at the annual Western States Photoengravers Conference Friday through Sunday in Palo Alto. He is president of Walker Engraving Corp. in San Francisco and 1963-64 conference president.

'Earth Invasion' Program Planned

If you have your radio turned on at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow and hear a sudden announcement of the invasion of earth by creatures from Mars—don't panic.

The "news" will be fictional—a special adaptation of the famous 1938 Orson Welles radio drama drawn from H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds."

Station KPEN in San Francisco will broadcast the program, which created panic and fright among listeners 26 years ago. Listeners thought the description of the invasion was real.

KPEN is informing the public of the program in advance, to prevent a repeat of the 1938 panic.

Guide Dogs, Owners To Complete Course

Nine persons will receive their guide dogs at public graduation ceremonies at Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc. of San Rafael at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school.

COUNCIL REJECTS CONDOMINIUM PLAN

San Rafael City Fathers Uphold Appeal From Harbor Estates To Planning Rule

Plans for the 1.6-acre Porto Bello West condominium were rejected last night by unanimous vote of the San Rafael City Council.

The council upheld an appeal by residents of adjoining Harbor Estates from 3-to-2 planning commission approval of the plan by San Rafael Newport Co., which would have connected a cul de sac serving the 14-unit condominium with the dead end of Aqua Vista Drive, now a cul de sac.

Robert H. Greene and L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael Newport Co. argued that it is impossible to provide access from Porto Bello West through the original Porto Bello condominium to San Pedro Road. Weisenburg blamed this on "interjection of the state corporation commissioner into the field of condominium housing."

The reason it is impossible, brought out Charles W. Pierce, attorney for the Harbor Estates property owners, is that Porto Bello was developed with a private street which did not meet city standards, and the condominium owners will not permit trespass on their property from a proposed public street in the new development.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, is moving the appeal be upheld, recalled that council and planning commission had tried unsuccessfully to argue the developers into making the street within Porto Bello a public street when plans for it were presented.

Councilman Charles W. Aby, who seconded the motion, remarked: "When Aqua Vista Cay was ended in a cul de sac . . . these people had the right to believe they were in an exclusive area. It should be kept that way."

The council also unanimously rejected rezoning to planned community of Porto Bello West, now partly duplex and partly unzoned, because of the plan having been found unacceptable.

BACKYARD GOLF HAZARD — A shot in the fishpond will cost a stroke and maybe a ball for backyard golf entrepeneur Frank Vanderbilt, who lets young duffers play a 14-hole course in the Vanderbilt yard at 204 H Street, San Rafael, for a mere three cents. The pond is two feet deep. Watching "pro" Frank shoot are (from left) Robert Selmi, George Gazzoli, and Martha Premble.

tall. As the ranking golf pro, he reluctantly admits to "about 100 strokes" as par for the course.

Some of the holes have rather unusual lays. Number five is adjacent to a doghouse and three inches from a three-foot precipice falling into the empty drainage ditch.

Number three is six inches in front of the fishpond, which naturally costs a stroke if you overshoot. Frank confesses he has shot into the pond "a couple of times."

The stroke penalty was initiated by Mrs. Vanderbuilt, whose colorful garden, she feels, is more important than breaking 100.

The backyard has hedges on both sides and a fence in back. Still, some golfers manage to shoot balls into neighboring yards —but not too often.

The 14th, and temporarily last, hole sits on top of a sunken water faucet, smack in the middle of the driving range.

And for some lucky golfers, the 19th hole might be the kitchen with cookies and lemonade.

Napa Youth Hurt In Crash

Robert L. Partridge, 20, of Napa, suffered a broken arm 11:45 p.m. yesterday when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on the Miracle Mile in San Rafael.

The driver, Robert R. McLean, 22, also of Napa, was attempting to make a U-turn from west to eastbound lanes, San Rafael police reported.

Partridge was given emergency treatment, then transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

McLean was treated for minor cuts on his knees. He was cited for driving without due caution.

Operation Mississippi Training Under Way

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — About 270 college students from various parts of the nation went into training here yesterday for Operation Mississippi Project..

The object of the project is to set up a program of voter registration and education for Negroes in what is being called "freedom schools." It is sponsored by the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

King-Jones Jury Almost Selected

Selection of a jury in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial in Marin Superior Court appeared close today with defense attorneys announcing at 11:55 a.m. they were satisfied with the seated panel of 12.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, prosecuting attorney, promptly challenged and dismissed one of the dozen, however, but indicated at the noon recess that he, too, was "almost" satisfied with the panel.

Both sides have exhausted a total of 31 peremptory challenges of a possible 50, but the defense—Thomas P. Boyd for defendant Robert Lee Jones, and Peter Allen Smith for John Lee King—may reopen their challenge rights with introduction of any new potential juror by Bales.

An additional panel of 120 was called this morning. More than 150 prospective jurors were called at start of jury selection last Tuesday.

King, 28, and Jones, 25, are jointly charged in the March 27 murder in Sausalito and with armed robbery March 25 of Harbor Liquor Store, Redwood Highway, Alto. David J. Costamagna is assisting Boyd in Jones defense.

Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge Will Reopen

CARSON CITY (AP) — The Nevada Gaming Commission approved today the reopening of Frank Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge at north Lake Tahoe under new management.

Arthur Wood, H. E. McCloskey and Raymond Plunkett, all of the north Lake Tahoe area, are investing $200,000 to lease the club from Park Lake Enterprises, of which Sinatra is the major stockholder.

Disaster Employees Laid Off In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "Over 30" employees of the California Disaster Office were laid off today because of a lack of funds.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and CDO director John Gaffney said the action was forced by failure of Congress to approve appropriations for civil defense.

Board Asked For Help In Assess Fight

A Leonard Bjorklund Jr., president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors today to help push state legislation to force County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to stop using the cyclical method of appraising Marin County property.

The board put the question over for a week, partly because Supervisors George H. Ludy and Byron W. Leydecker were absent. But Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he strongly felt that the cyclical method should be abolished.

Under the cyclical method, the assessor appraises the county by hitting each piece of property only once every five years, thus causing periodic, and often unexpected, sharp increases in assessed valuation and taxes.

Behr and Supervisor William D. Fusselman both pointed out that they, as supervisors, are technically powerless to order Broemmel, an elected official, to change his methods.

Broemmel answered Bjorklund that he is actually not using a pure cyclical problem, but is trying to "plug the biggest holes in the dike."

Fusselman said that if state legislation is sought, the county should also ask for a law restricting taxing agencies in areas where property values go up sharply from also raising their budgets sharply.

Bjorklund said he had 311 signed protests of valuations, representing almost 1,000 parcels of property, and added he expected the number of protests from Sausalito alone to reach 400 by Friday.

Court Opens Session, Swears In 163 Lawyers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The State Supreme Court opened a three-day session here today by swearing in 163 new attorneys, including 11 women and a man and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Titmus of Orinda.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson presided and Justice Roger J. Traynor spoke about lawyers' responsibilities.

Wild Turkeys Proposed For National Seashore

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr wants wild turkeys on Point Reyes National Seashore.

Park Supt. Fred W. Binnewies doesn't think they belong there.

Binneweis, though, favors importing elk to the seashore. They used to be there, lots of them—as numerous as deer, according to County Supervisor George H. Ludy.

The subject of wild life at the seashore came up at today's county board of supervisors meeting. Behr asked for a study on whether turkeys could be introduced there. He said he believed they'd been there once.

Binneweis said it's against National Park Service policy to populate parks with non-native fauna. Supervisor Ludy said turkeys had been introduced in the area about 15 years ago and multiplied rapidly—until too many turkey shoots killed them off.

About elk, now—that's different, said Binneweis. He was quite sure elk roamed over the Point Reyes Peninsula at one time.

True, said Ludy — many of them. Old timers, he said, recall when they were numerous as deer.

Not to be outdone, Supervisor William D. Fusselman added that elk at one time were known as far south as Mill Valley.

That's in Behr's district. But he was touting for turkeys.

QUAKE

Niigata to her cousin, Toshiko Miyajima in Tokyo.

Mrs. Furukawa, 50, owns a confectionery store in the heart of Niigata, and she told her cousin what happened when the quake struck.

"I couldn't stand up when the first shocks hit," she said. "When I went outdoors the earth was slowly heaving like the sea. Telephone poles swayed and wires snapped.

"Then large earth cracks appeared. I heard a large explosion.

"Our Buddhist shrine is smashed and with it the name tablets of our dead. Our cupboards and dressers also have toppled over.

"Our house has not collapsed, but there are many buildings leaning crazily.

"Everyone is just standing around dazed."

Then the phone went dead.

The latest quake was centered in the area of Niigata, a port city which also is Japan's largest petroleum and natural gas producing center. It lies about 150 miles northwest of Tokyo.

After-shocks rocked Honshu for hours after the main temblor, but were reported subsiding at 9 p.m.

Additional casualties and damage reports were expected when word was received from the 519-square-mile Island of Sako, a gold-mining center with a population of 110,000 persons, which lies about 30 miles west of Niigata in the Sea of Japan.

An amateur radio operator reported from Sado that the island had been battered by tidal waves and nearly 300 houses flooded in the aftermath of the initial shock. His only report of casualties was that two persons were injured in Roytsu City on the island's northeast coast.

A tidal wave warning was sounded for the northwest coastal areas of the Sea of Japan shortly after the quake first struck. But at midafternoon, the central weather station in Tokyo called off the warning.

Here in Niigata, preliminary reports said 30 per cent of the city's buildings and houses were destroyed or damaged.

Wreckage littered the city, and fires burned fiercely in at least three oil refineries near the piers of Niigata port.

A gas tank exploded inside the city, and buildings crumbled to the ground. Others leaned dangerously—about to collapse.

Candles lighted houses still standing tonight. But few families could cook because there was neither gas nor water available.

Thousands of persons fled to high ground for safety. People stood forlornly on darkened hillsides without food, water or a place to sleep.

Roads were buckled, and crevasses were opened in the earth. A junior high school girl fell to her death in one of them.

South Controls Rights Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders drove to complete action on amendments to the civil rights bill today, but Southern opponents had control of the situation.

An early morning caucus of the Dixie forces was called by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D.-Ga.) to consider how many more amendments to call up for a vote.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), floor manager of the bill, told newsmen he saw a very good chance that voting on amendments would be completed by tonight.

Big Drinkers Reassured— Harmless Fun

BERKELEY (AP) — Ira H. Cisin, professor of sociology at George Washington University, reassured heavy drinkers yesterday that only about one in 10 of them are in danger of becoming alcoholics.

"It is the abstainers who feel out of place in modern society," he told the second annual California School on Alcoholism at the University of California.

"Drinking helps relieve tension, gives us courage to face a hostile world and gives peace where there is no peace.

"For the vast majority of us," he said. "drinking is harmless fun."

He gave these danger signals that indicate someone is becoming what he termed a "psychologically" heavy drinker:

Going on drinking sprees, drinking first thing in the morning, missing work because of drinking, drinking alone, drinking to satisfy a need at a certain time of day, blacking out during a spree and criticism of drinking habits from close friends.

Johnsons Invited To Jackie Dinner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson have been invited to attend a dinner in New York tonight in honor of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The dinner party is being given by Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of New York. Mrs. Smith is the former Jean Kennedy.

There is, however, as yet no indication that the Johnsons have accepted the invitation.

Ground-Breaking Set On Detention Center

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown will turn a ceremonial shovel of dirt near Stockton June 29 to inaugurate the state's new concept in youth detention.

Brown will take part in the ground-breaking ceremony for a 4.7-million-dollar building complex at the California Youth Authority's Northern California Youth Center near Stockton, the first of 12 complexes planned at the site.

OBITUARIES

Masses Set For Marin Teen-Agers

Requiem Masses for Stephen Fambrini and Paul Schwab, Marin County high school students killed in an auto-truck collision near Soda Springs yesterday will be offered tomorrow and Thursday.

Friends and family of Stephen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Fambrini of San Anselmo will attend Requiem Mass at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Church in San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Private Rosary services will be held tonight.

Requiem High Mass for Paul, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Schwab of Greenbrae, will be offered at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae. His family and friends will attend Rosary at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Surviving the Fambrini boy are his parents; four sisters, Lauren, Patricia, Stephanie and Gay Ann; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fambrini of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. B. Guglielmo of San Anselmo.

Paul is survived by his parents; two sisters, Joan Margaret and Janet Leslie; two brothers, Phillip and Bryan; his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Floyd of San Lorenzo and his grandfather, Harry A. Clark of Larkspur.

Contributions to the Jesuit Seminary Assn. of San Francisco are preferred by the Schwab family.

MRS. HOBRO

Private funeral for Mrs. Katherine Stewart Hobro, 74, of San Francisco, who died Saturday in a Novato rest home after a long illness, was held today at Godeau Mortuary in San Francisco.

She was a native of Glasgow, Scotland. Her family came to San Francisco when she was an infant.

Surviving are her husband, Alfred W. Hobro, a retired accountant; a son, Lester Andrew Hobro of Novato, and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma. Contributions to the Arthritis Foundation are preferred by the family.

MRS. HARTSOOK

Requiem Mass for Mrs. Katherine Hartsook, 95, of Bakersfield, a former Mill Valley resident who died in Bakersfield Friday after a short illness, was held today at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael.

A native of Sonora, Tuolumne County, she had lived in Mill Valley until five years ago when she moved to Bakersfield. Burial was at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

JAMES DILLON

Requiem High Mass for James Bernard (Barney) Dillon, 84, retired painter and a 52-year resident of Marin County, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

Dillon died Sunday in a San Luis Obispo hospital after a short illness. He had been residing recently in San Luis Obispo with a son, Alvin R. Dillon.

For 65 years, Dillon was a painter, retiring only about seven years ago. He lived for 47 years in the home he built at 10 Antoinette Avenue, San Rafael. He was a past president and life member of Painters Union Local 83 of San Rafael.

He was born in Minneapolis, Minn., and lived briefly in Eureka before coming to Marin.

His wife, Oleta Shields Dillon, preceded him in death. He is survived by two sons, Alvin R. and Paul S. Dillon of San Luis Obispo; a sister, Mrs. Mamie Giacommini of Merrill, Ore., five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral cortege will form at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Henry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the mortuary.

DIPLOMA FOR JUDY AND SKEETER

Skeeter, the dog, was right at the heels of Judy Davis of 74 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, as she received her diploma at Tamalpais High School graduation exercises Sunday from Vice Principal Charles C. Crawford and Trustee Delman D. Smith. "This diploma is awarded to Judy Adel Smith and to Skeeter," said Crawford. It was appropriate. Skeeter has attended Tam High for nine years, seeing three members of the Davis family through their high school education, and patiently waiting for them each day outside classroom doors.

Child Center Funds Sought In Marin City

Administrators of the county schools office will go before the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow with a request for $15,026 to upgrade facilities at the Marin City child care center.

The center has been operated by the Sausalito School District to care for young children of working parents. Operating costs are paid by the state and by parent contribution, but maintenance and capital outlay must come from local agencies, school officials explained. The Sausalito district has not been able to finance necessary items and so the county was requested to take over.

There now are about 60 children in the care center, about one-third of them from outside Marin City.

Approval of the center's budget came at a special meeting last night of the county school board.

Also approved was a $130,676 budget for Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools, three other administrators and 14 clerks and secretaries to staff the county office.

The county board approved also a miscellaneous budget of $193,675 to finance expenses of the board, the County Committee on School District Organization, elections, juvenile hall and mentally retarded education and construction of a unit to house education for the deaf.

All budget items are subject to approval of the board of supervisors.

DISARM 'SHOCK' COULD BE TAKEN

Dominican Symposium Told California Could Sustain Defense Industry Loss

California would be quite able to sustain the "shock" of disarmament despite the great importance of the defense industry to the state's economy, according to Dr. William M. Burke, senior economist of the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco.

Speaking today at Dominican College's "California — Present and Prospect" lecture series, Dr. Burke said, "The influx of men and capital (into California) has created an economy of such size and diversity that it contains the seeds of its own growth.

"California's system of mass higher education, the basis of our economic growth, will continue to contribute to it even if defense expenditures drop.

"It was this educational system and its research facilities which attracted defense and aerospace industry to California in the first place, and which now offset costs and taxes which are higher here than in some competitive states."

Commenting on California's unemployment problem, Dr. Burke noted that the state's net population increase of 1,000 per day, two-thirds of which is due to immigration from other states and countries, accounts for an unemployment rate which usually exceeds that of the rest of the nation.

Yesterday afternoon's program consisted of three lectures dealing with California's redwood wealth, its mineral resources, and its conservation problems.

William S. Picher, president of the Marin Audubon Society, outlined the difference between conservation for the sake of human health and wealth and conservation aimed at preserving the natural order. He said that steps taken to insure the former, such as indiscriminate use of insecticides, often are unsuccessful in their primary goal and have the secondary effect of harming wildlife, particularly insects, birds and fish.

Philip T. Farnsworth, executive vice president of the California Redwood Assn., said the state would do better to provide recreational facilities and improvements in the redwood parks it already possesses, rather than to attempt to acquire more forest areas. He cited several parks which are inaccessible by auto, without footpaths, and without picnic areas.

Dr. Gordon B. Oakeshott, deputy chief of the State Division of Mines and Geology, discussed California's wealth of minerals, which are, he noted, "an unrenewable resource."

Minerals are a 1.5-billion-dollar industry in the state, he said. About one billion dollars is derived from petroleum production, in which California trails Texas and Oklahoma, while non-metallic minerals, particularly rock, sand and gravel, represent most of the rest. Gold mining, formerly the most lucrative mineral industry in the state, now brings in only about three million dollars.

Tomorrow the general theme will be "The Culture." Among the speakers will be Dean Wallace, art and music critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, 9 a.m.; architect and urban planner Allan Temko, 10:30 a.m., and actor Jack Aranson.

A panel discussion at 2 p.m. will bring together moderator Paul Speegle of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin, Wallace, Aranson, photographer Ansel Adams, novelist Mark Harris, painter Robert Harvey and composer Kirke Mechem.

Scooter Is Stolen From Larkspur Lot

Theft of a new, red motor scooter was reported to San Rafael police at 12:15 a.m. today by Andrew W. Campbell, 105 Pine Lane, Larkspur.

Campbell said he left the scooter last evening in the lot of Saegertown Western Co., 27 Jordan Street, San Rafael, and returned to find it missing. The vehicle had been locked.

Independent Teen Advisory Board Studied

Teen-agers and politics don't mix, the Mill Valley City Council decided last night.

Instead of making appointments to the youth advisory board — a body which Mayor Michael Wornum feels has become "inactive" — the mayor recommended a "steering committee" to reform the entire organization.

Object, said Wornum, was to remove "political pressure" which results in new appointments every two years that a new council administration comes to Mill Valley.

"It is desirable to have the committee free of the council's jurisdiction," the mayor declared. "We venal politicians tend to appoint people for the wrong reasons."

So saying, the mayor appointed Hal Schwartz, chairman of the city's teen center; Joseph Brewster, former parks and recreation commissioner; Richard Parino, and Clay Underhill, chairman of the community and youth center fund, to form a subcommittee, taking the matter "under study."

The four-man committee was instructed to consider the matter of youth advisory programs and report its findings to the council by next January.

"We will be happy to give it a go," Parino told the councilmen from the audience.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks added, "An independent group is certainly a good idea."

A 1960 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, Pratt received a bachelor of arts degree after majoring in English. He was a member of Delta Phi Upsilon fraternity at Williams.

Tam District Budget Could Mean Tax Cut

Tamalpais High School District board last night adopted a tentative budget which could lower the tax rate three or more cents.

Expenditures in the tentative budget total $6,119,405, an increase of $306,331 over the current fiscal year but down from the 6.3-million-dollar preliminary budget.

Business manager Frank Cassou said that unless there was a "drastic change," expenditures and tax rate would remain the same as estitmated when the final budget is adopted.

Board members indicated approval of three-cent reduction of the general purpose tax rate of $1.90 per $100 of assessed valuation, made possible because of increased valuations of property in Southern Marin and the Bolinas area.

Cassou said there may be a decrease of about two cents in override taxes, which would come from lower payments to the retirement program.

The total tax rate for this fiscal year, including overrides and bond redemption payments, is $2.21 for the high school district.

The Tamalpais High School Board Also:

1. Approved a seven-step salary schedule for non-teachers which will give some employees of the district in this category raises up to 7 per cent, matching raises given to teachers.

2. Approved a policy of giving teachers up to two days of religious holidays a year without loss of pay and half days off for non-teachers the days before New Year and Christmas Eve.

3. Hired Horton Paul Scioneaux of San Francisco to replace William Wilkinson as Spanish teacher at Redwood High School, and accepted resignations of Wilbur Wilken, driver training instructor, and Dumont Hixon, reading teacher at Tamalpais High School.

4. Learned that Ethel Louise Abbott, English teacher and counselor at Tamalpais High School for 19 years, will retire on her doctor's advice.

5. Directod Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to answer five form letters which the district has received from Sausalito residents requesting the district to lower its tax rate in view of increased valuations placed on property.

6. Approved an exchange of a small piece of property with the City of Mill Valley which will facilitate the widening of Miller Avenue.

14 Are Hurt As Bus Rams Truck

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — A Continental Trailways bus rammed the rear of a truck and ran off Highway 60 today, the California Highway Patrol reported. Fourteen persons were reported injured.

Some were treated at Desert Hospital while others continued to Los Angeles aboard a Greyhound bus.

Patrolman Ernest Felio told a newsman: "It appears the bus was westbound when it struck the back end of a truck, then crossed the center divider, swerved across the eastbound traffic lanes, plunged off the road and down a 10-foot embankment. The bus remained upright."

LBJ Pledges To Aid German Reunification

BONN (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson pledged anew in a letter to Chancellor Ludwig Erhard that the United States will seek the reunification of the two Germanys, the West German government reported today.

"As I told you here," Johnson said, "it is a fundamental objective of American foreign policy to help bring an end to the unjust division of the German people, because otherwise there can be no real and durable stability in Europe."

City Is Frustrated By Anti-Annex Move

The Mill Valley City Council threw up its collective hands in frustration last night in the wake of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission's refusal two weeks ago to permit the city to annex 255 acres of marshland.

"The need for this area is great as ever, but the local annex agency has an absolute veto for one year on this," said Mayor Michael Wornum. "Under the circumstances, there is not a great deal the city can do."

Wornum had called for a review of city policy on annexation to decide "where the city would go from here."

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer told the council the agency had indicated it "would look with favor" on smaller, populated annexations. He suggested stronger liaisons with districts surrounding the city such as Homestead, Alto and El Monte areas.

"Some groups," he noted, the possibilities of annexation. We are open to any requests of pe- "have shown some interest in titioners."

Warning that the council should first consider "the economic pros and cons" of annexations, Balmer recommended that the council institute a "standing policy" which would enable the city be able to move ahead on annexations appearing advantageous.

At that point, Councilman Albert E. White proposed a "reaffirmation" of the council's former policy on annexation. He also offered a suggestion that the council invite representatives from proposed annexation districts to council meetings.

Reaffirmation of the policy that annexation of adjacent areas is in "the public interest" of Mill Valley was passed unanimously.

Balmer also promised the council he would meet with representatives of surrounding districts in the future.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Heard first reading of an ordinance recommended by the parks and recreation commission rezoning Boyle Park, Freeman Park, Molino Park, Sycamore Park, Miller Grove, Kathleen Norris Park, Golf Course and Pro Shop, Three Wells and the Kott dedicated strip, and the Cascade Reservoir from recreation area to open area.

2. Voted final passage of two ordinances clarifying regulations for city parks and other city lands.

3. Accepted public improvements in Scott Valley Unit 2.

4. Granted Calvin MacIntosh permission for a septic tank at 360 Tamalpais, subject to approval of the county health department.

5. Reappointed Mrs. John P. Farnham and Paul Fourman to the library board for three-year terms. Congratulations were also offered to members for work on the recently passed library bond issue.

6. Set for July 6 public hearing on rezoning of the C. O. Sollom property, west side of Camino-Alto, from commercial services to professional-administration.

7. Confirmed by resolution the Marin County Board of Supervisors canvass of the direct primary election and special municipal bond election of June 2.

8. Sent back to planning commission an application by Dr. John Lee for a use permit for a medical-dental building in a multiple dwelling zone, 279 Miller Avenue. The lot, according to council recommendations, must first be cleared of a home in back which Lee proposed to use for living space.

9. Revoked the use permit of Thomas Meisner to build a mortuary on Miller Avenue across from Tamalpais High School. The permit had not been used for one year.

10. Postponed until next meeting approval for a minor subdivision on the north side of Hazel Avenue by Gladys Mekisich.

11. Adopted the 1964-65 city budget, as approved in budget hearings last week.

Supervisors Hold Off Action On Tidelot Claims

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to hold off action on two claims totalling 1.9 million dollars filed June 8 by owners of tidelots in Richardson Bay.

County Counsel Douglas J. Meloney said the board had until July 13 to act on the claims, and Supervisor Peter H. Behr asked for a two-week delay, suggesting that Maloney meet with the claimants Tom E. Nowell and Kenneth H. and Marian P. Norberg.

Behr said that the claims were unusual, especially since they are probably not covered by any county insurance policy, and said some advance negotiations might solve many problems.

The claims contend that the county has prevented the owners from using their underwater lots for the past five years and that the county has, in effect, confiscated the land without paying for it.

IN THE SOUP

Artist Gets Some Very Sage Advice

He only wanted to make soup and spaghetti.

That's what artist Ambrose J. N. Hollingworth, 31, told Marin County Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff when the officer found several sage plants in Hollingworth's car, parked on a fire road off the Shoreline Highway near Stinson Beach.

Goff told Hollingworth it was unlawful to pick shrubs on state property.

Hollingworth, who has a ruddy mustache and goatee and lives on the ferryboat Charles Van Damme in Sausalito, said he had been doing just that for a long time, and didn't know it was illegal. He said he picked the sage to use in preparing food.

The artist was warned about any more sage gathering, and released.

Man Is Sought As Forest Knolls Fight Suspect

An all-points bulletin was out today for a 47-year-old Daly City man, suspected of hitting Richard F. Hammer of Aztec Road, Forest Knolls, on the head early Sunday, the Marin County Sheriff's office reported.

Hammer was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scalp cuts. He told deputies that Earl P. Travis of Daly City struck him with an unknown object.

Travis got angry earlier at the Hammer home, and broke Hammer's television set, record player and other furniture, the victim reported. Later, Travis returned and pointed a revolver at Mrs. Barbara Boucher, he related. Hammer said he stepped between them, and a fight started.

Five children under 11 years old were in the house at the time, deputies reported.

Exile Leader Claims Cuba Bomb Rack Work

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soviet technicians are mounting bomb racks on supersonic MIG-21 Russian jet fighters at an underground airbase in Cuba, the Senate's preparedness subcommittee was told today.

The information sent committee chairman John Stennis (D.-Miss.) came from Manuel A. De Varona, a Cuban exile leader who was senate president in Cuba in the Constitutional regime of ex-president Carlos Prio Socarras.

De Varona said his information was based on intelligence reports prepared inside Cuba by forces opposed to the Castro regime.

The Cuban statesman, generally credited with having freed the island's labor movement from communist control in the 1950's, sent Stennis a thousand-word report updating military preparations on Cuba.

He said the installation of bomb racks on the jets gave them nuclear potential and thus threatened U. S. internal security.

"A miscalculation of the Soviet military might in Cuba at a time when freedom-loving Cubans are intensifying their resistance could lead to another Hungary, or could pave the way for a new Soviet fraud," De Varona warned.

Actor Hayden Fined $220 For Auto Row Sit-In

Sterling Hayden of 416 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, was fined $220 and placed on one year probation today in San Francisco Municipal Court for his participation in April in an Automobile Row sit-in.

Hayden entered a "no contest" plea, neither admitting nor denying the charge of trespassing placed against him after police carried him from a civil-rights sit-in at an automobile showroom.

Further charges of unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace had been dismissed in a previous hearing before Judge Leo Friedman.

Hayden's probation includes restrictions against his taking part in similar sit-ins or demonstrations and requires that he gain court permission to leave the country.

Vote Urged On Housing For Elderly

The Marin Citizens Advisory Committee for Senior Citizens voted last night to recommend a Nov. 3 referendum on public housing for elderly residents.

Ten of the 15 committee members were present at the meeting in San Rafael which voted to request the referendum.

The type of husing to be built is to be recommended by the Committee on Housing of Marin's Elderly.

The advisory committee will also send a letter to the supervisor's expressing concern over the county's home nursing service for aged residents, said chairman Harry Heifetz.

"Our only concern," the letter will read, "is that Marin's older people continue to get adequate bedside nursing care."

The committee feels that the surpervisors "are faced with problems in this respect," and will offer its help to look into the situation," added Richard Phenix, coordinator for the project.

BAD VIEWING ON TELEVISION? NO ANTENNA

No wonder the TV reception was poor!

Residents of Shon Court, a Kaehler - Farrar Development Co. residential development in Novato, complained about the weak signals on their television sets.

So, Philfred E. Kaehler of 640 Sunset Parkway reported to Novato police yesterday, he investigated and found the TV antenna for the whole court had been stolen.

Novato Club Picks Production Theme

"Blackout Bash," was the theme picked for the next production of the Novato Community Club at its meeting last night in the Community House.

This "bash," to be presented the first two weekends in November, will be a broadway review, according to Mrs. Bette Hints, secretary.

Window Is Believed Broken By Boy

A boy reportedly threw a brick through a plate glass window of the beauty salon, 5 El Paseo, Mill Valley, at about 7:22 p.m. yesterday, knocking over a large electric coffee urn and spilling the coffee.

Mary Harkins, owner of the nearby El Paseo Restaurant, reported the incident to police.

Brown Says Reduced Phone Rates Tax Cut

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that a Public Utilities Commission order requiring reduced telephone rates and an 80 million dollar refund to subscribers was actually 'a great reduction in taxes."

The governor told his news conference that this was true because everybody needed and used telephones.

Members of the PUC handed down the order June 11, saying that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. must make the refund and cut its rates by nearly 41 million dollars a year.

Brown declined to give his opinion of the PUC action, saying that he had not studied the decision. However, he noted that he had appointed the PUC members and had "great confidence in their judgement."

KEEPING SHORTCUT

Hilltoppers Get Way On Boyd Park Road

A 20-by-50 foot easement between Tampa Drive and Robert Dollar Drive, near the top of San Rafael Hill, will remain a shortcut for hilltop dwellers driving downtown.

The San Rafael City Council last night spurned a proposal by the parks and recreation commission that access over the easement be closed except to foot traffic.

Robert Dollar Drive is a winding, narrow, semi-surfaced road that runs most of its wiggly length through Boyd Park.

Parks and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said the commission was concerned over the amount of traffic on the drive. He said it was originally intended only for pedestrians but made 20 feet wide for use by fire trucks in an emergency. He said it "is not a city street but a park roadway."

Sain Councilman Harry A. Barbier, who lives near the top of the hill, "It's a lot better than Coleman Drive." This brought applause from the large delegation of hilltop dwellers on hand to protest the closing.

Chairman Arthur Fiedler of the parks commission drew laughs from the hilltoppers when he said "you're running some 20 cars an hour down this." Parks Commissioner Irwin Taranto said it was "a matter of principle whether a public park road should be used as a public thoroughfare . . . If it is it sets some kind of precedent."

"Mr. Taranto," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen, "you have Golden Gate Park in San Francisco." This brought another round of applause.

Charles W. Pierce of 61 Graceland Drive said, "I've never seen 20 cars in any hour save on Easter morning, and they weren't coming through Tampa Drive." Further, he said he had researched planning commission minutes and found that, rather than designating the easement as a pedestrian way, the commission had attempted to get it made 40 feet wide, and its dedication had been a condition of a subdivision permit.

John Brusati, developer of Coleman Heights, confirmed this. Further, he promised to pave the easement to make it easier to get to Robert Dollar Drive.

Councilman L. H. Bud Baar suggested the upper portion of Boyd Park is little used, and automobile traffic from above might benefit park use. He and Mayor John F. McInnis recalled the council a few years ago attempted to get Miss Louise A. Boyd, who gave the park to the city, to permit realignment of the drive to make it a direct connection to B Street.

"I take it the council does not want to take any action to close this easement," said the mayor.

The hilltop delegation, about 30 of whom had signed a petition against the closing, applauded and left, almost emptying the council chamber.

Sausalito Council Unit Tours Town

The Sausalito City Council finance committee toured the town last night for two hours, looking over streets, sidewalks, sewers and stairways in connection with public works projects in the 1964-65 budget.

No action was taken, the council returning to city hall where it discussed possible inclusion of sidewalk construction on Bridgeway between Nevada and Spring streets. The sidewalk would be of special use for school children, reported City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The planning commission budget will be discussed at another finance committee meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in city hall. All councilmen were present except for Mayor Jan Paul Dyk, who is on vacation.

Scout Troopers Plan Newspaper Pickup

Boy Scout Troop 46 of Kentfield will hold a newspaper drive from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Kentfield, Murray Park, Kent Woodlands and Wolfe Grade School areas, to raise money for camping equipment.

Residents may leave papers and magazines for collection at the curb, tied in bundles. Residents outside the collection area may take papers to the lot beside the Kentfield firehouse.

Driver Fined $166

Steven Wade James, 38, Tomales, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 May 14.

No Enthusiasm By Council As Coleman Quits

Daniel P. Coleman was relieved of his duties as acting planner of San Rafael last night, at his own request and with no enthusiasm by the city council.

Coleman, who heads the engineering firm of Dan Coleman Associates, said he found it impossible to continue in the city planner role without damaging the interests of his engineering clients. He has been serving as acting planner since David DuBiel resigned three months ago.

Councilmen L. H. Baar and Fred E. Jensen insisted he should stay on as consultant, which he said he would do if the city wished it. "Our planning is working out for the first time under Dan," declared Baar.

To try to fill Coleman's shoes, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said he had found the planning director of another city, in his present job seven years, who would take the position at $900 per month. He recommended hiring the applicant, whom he called the only satisfactory one among about a dozen interviewed during Coleman's service — which Coleman had insisted initially must be temporary.

Councilmen did not boggle at the $900, although in the past San Rafael has not paid over $750 per month for a planner. They asked Andersen to set up a day this week for them to meet and interview the prospect.

Cyprus Peacekeeping Force 'Should Stay'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— Secretary General Thant recommended today that the U. N. peacekeeping force be kept in Cyprus for a second three months beyond June 27, its scheduled termination date. He warned that its withdrawal now might bring heavy conflict between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Thant made the recommendation in a 40-page report to the Security Council, which is expected to take it up before the end of the week.

ATTENTION: LARKSPUR!

BENEFITS OF THE TAMALPAIS RETIREMENT RESIDENCE TO LARKSPUR AND MARIN

After careful consideration, the undersigned endorse and support in every respect the Larkspur City Council decision to approve the application for the construction of the Tamalpais Retirement Residence on the southerly slope of the Bon Air Hill, for the following reasons:

(1) The project fills a need to prevent the loss from the community of elderly citizens financially able to care for themselves, and to return them and their assets into the main stream of community life, a need which is receiving the earned attention of the Marin Council of Community Services and the H.O.M.E. Committee.

(2) It is estimated the project will annually yield approximately $68,000 in school district taxes, $19,000 in city taxes and $29,000 in county and special district taxes, with no load on the schools and a minimum demand on other community services. It would take eight light industrial plants similar to McGraw-Hill in Corte Madera to equal these tax benefits.

(3) Annual payroll, operating expenses of the project, and expendable income of the residents will total in excess of $1,000,000 per year, much of which can be expected to be spent within the community.

(4) The multi-story, fireproof, elegantly designed building proposed will cover only 15% of the site at terrace level and only 9.1% of the site above that, retaining the balance for recreation, landscaping and the preservation of the century-old oaks and other native trees on the slopes.

(5) The six-acre site is ideally located in the middle of 125 acres of multi-family and professionally zoned property, flanked by the Bon Air Shopping Center, Marin General Hospital, Marin Catholic High School and other institutional uses, eliminating any detriment to neighboring property or residences. There were no objectors living within 2000 feet of the site, and beyond that very few.

(6) The sponsors of the project are well-known, well-established and respected local citizens, and the project will be privately financed.

(7) This is not a precedent for multi-story building in Marin County. Others have been approved by the Cities of Sausalito and San Rafael, and the County of Marin.

(8) The project was supported at the hearings by a preponderance of the audience, a petition containing some 225 names, the Marin County Development Association and has been enthusiastically received by the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce, Larkspur Lions Club and Ross Valley Kiwanis Club.

(9) A project for the elderly may not depend on stairs, and since there is no reasonably located level area available on which a one-story project of this type would be financially feasible, the only alternative is a multi-story building.

This ad has been placed to correct much misinformation that has been spread regarding this project.

If you have signed a petition against this project, we earnestly request that your signature be repudiated by a letter to the City Council.

PILOT PRESIDENT?

Clausen Stresses Victory For GOP

By DONALD G. DAVIS

The importance of electing a majority of Republicans to the House of Representatives in the November elections with enough strength to elect a Republican president "on our shirttails," not vice versa, was stressed last night by Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

Clausen spoke as honoree at a Marin County Republican Central Committee appreciation dinner at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

Clausen said he does not know who the Republican presidential candidate will be, but sounding the theme of unity, he declared "we all owe our responsibility" to whoever that candidate may be.

While predicting the Republican Party will control the House and win the presidency, Clausen added with a touch of caution, "If we don't win the White House but control the House of Representatives, what is that boy from Texas going to do?"

He asked that his party run strictly on the issues, and offer constructive alternatives — that "too big" a federal government takes control away from local areas, that exchanges of "ideals and ideas" is what is needed on the international scene, that private peace corps be utilized to export knowledge.

After expressing his regret at not being able to come home to his First Congressional District "as often as I like," Clausen told an audience of more than 500 his ideas for an "ideal candidate" for president.

He said in the space age one must consider a qualified pilot. (This drew partisan laughter and applause with Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's name mentioned at several tables. Goldwater is an Air Force Reserve pilto.)

Clausen's other qualifications: Someone who believes in strong local government as opposed to federal bureaucracy, who believes in returning some of the federal tax money to the states, who believes in the sovereignty of the individual, the state and the federal government in that order, and one who must have a declaration of national policy "if we are to win the cold war."

The slipping to a lighter vein, he said, "Since none of the present candidates qualify, I'll announce for the presidency of the U. S."

Labeling President Lyndon B. Johnson a "spender in miser's clothing," Clausen said the "LBJ honeymoon is over."

He charged that Johnson is turning Laos over to the Communists, that he has an inept and vacillating policy in South America, is wrecking the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and is giving away the Panama Canal by retreating, and that Johnson wants to bury the Bobby Baker case "once and for all."

Clausen was introduced by Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson of San Diego, vice-chairman of the California Republican Central Committee.

Parkinson, who had attended a meeting yesterday in San Francisco of Republican leaders striving for state unity, said the party had "a truly, sincere meeting of the minds," dedicated to teamwork.

The dinner was preceded by a cocktail hour, and the presence of Goldwater and Rockefeller buttons showed that the spirit of unity and teamwork had not quite yet matched conviviality and cheerful and friendly optimism of the crowd. Just a few hours earlier in New York, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced his support of Gov William M. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the GOP presidential nomination.

Again at dinner there was a note of solidarity but choice in the dessert. Frozen ice cream elephants were served with no attempt at jokes. But they were of many colors and flavors, enough for everyone's tastes.

Introductions were made by Gerald E. Misner, county central committee chairman. Edwin W. Thomas was dinner chairman. The invocation was by Rev. Tod W. Ewald of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, Corte Madera. Former Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber led the Pledge of Allegiance. Entertainment was by the Fourentals.

Old St. Hilary's Landmark Will Be Open To Public

Old St. Hilary's landmark in Tiburon will be open to the public Wednesdays and Sundays from noon to 4 p.m. starting tomorrow, the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society announced today.

Built in 1888 and used for services until 1954, Old St. Hilary's is considered to be of historical and architectural importance as one of the few examples of carpenter's gothic in California to survive in its original condition.

The building was purchased in 1959 by the landmarks society and was rededicated in 1960 as a historical landmark.

The first exhibit will be a collection of Tiburon pictures in honor of the new City of Tiburon.

Anshen's Will Goes To Probate

Will of S. Robert Anshen, 54-year-old architect found dead in his San Francisco office May 26, was admitted to probate yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The will leaves an estate worth more than $10,000, including real estate and drawing an income of over $5,000 yearly, and gives a blonde woman companion, Sarah Rafetto, 35-year-old divorcee, as beneficiary of a large portion.

An investigation is still under way into the mysterious fire at Anshen's DeSilva Island home in Marin County the night before his death.

Free Peacock Gap Park Accepted By San Rafael

The City of San Rafael last night accepted a free park in Peacock Gap.

The city council found no fault with the offer of the Draper Companies to develop and hand over to the city a 1.85-acre park at Riviera and Biscayne drives, which will include a Little League-size baseball diamond.

It made only one proviso: that the company coordinate development of the park with the plans of Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota.

About seven acres adjoining the park has been offered to the San Rafael Elementary School District at $10,000 per acre as a school site.

Three-fourths of the people in the United States never have traveled in a commercial airplane. Half the population, according to a recent study, moves no farther than 200 miles from home in the course of a year.

Preliminary Budget Set For School

Tomales Bay School District trustees last night adopted a preliminary budget of $73,682 for 1964-65, which calls for an eight-cent increase in the tax rate, according to Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board.

This year's rate is $1.22 per $100 assessed valuation for operations plus 28 cents for bond retirement.

The budget is $2,762 more than the $70,920 budget this year. The board set Aug. 3 for the public hearing on the budget.

Henris Roofing Service of Petaluma was given a $425 contract to reroof the Marshal School and shed, with the job to be completed before school starts in the fall.

Trustees accepted the letters for Tomales Elementary School, as a gift from the eighth grade, to be placed on the new building at the Tomales School.

The board voted to continue the milk program for next year.

Sharing food and drink with friends after the ceremony is the most widespread of all marriage customs among all races and cultures, the National Geographic Society says.

Brewery Talks Break Down

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There was another breakdown in negotiations aimed at settling the California brewery strike and lockout last night.

Conciliator Eugene Barry said today no new meeting has been arranged between the Teamsters Union and the California Brewers Assn.

Most of the state's big breweries have been idle since May 11.

Anemones balanced on a long, semi-transparent tube with flower-like tenacles, have been known to burrow four feet in the mud.

Corte Madera Manager Says No Dredging For Sanitation

The Town of Corte Madera is not responsible for paying for dredging which will provide sanitation benefits and use of waterways for boats in Mariner Cove, Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said last night.

Brandow's statement came at the town council meeting where Herbert C. Leney, chairman of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. board, requested that the town dredge San Clemente Creek for flood control, navigation and sanitation reasons.

The council decided to take the matter up at its budget session Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Leney said there was a high bacteria count in the lagoon where children were playing Sunday. With full development of Mariner Highlands, more runoff will be coming through Mariner Cove. Docks could be constructed by residents to meet a channel dredged in the middle of the creek, he said.

Brandow said the town was responsible for flood control "but certainly the taxpayers are not responsible for sanitation and navigation benefits." He said the silting problem was serious and that the creek would have to be dredged within the next five years.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Authorized Brandow to negotiate with the Del Mahood family for purchase of the site of the Public Safety Building at $26,500, price set by appraiser Neil J. Brodsgar.

2. Heard Brandow report that in the last month the police department had served 96 of 106 warrants issued by other jurisdictions which is "probably the best record in the county."

3. Authorized the expenditure of $500 for shoring up the lagoon in Fifer Industrial Park, with the cost to be repaid by the property owner.

Marin Couple Hurt In Oregon

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Draper of 194 Central Avenue, Woodacre, were recovering in a Lakeview, Ore., hospital today from injuries suffered last Saturday when their truck skidded off a road during a storm.

Their son, James D. Draper of 335 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, said they were returning from vacation at Yellowstone National Park when a tire blew out and the vehicle went off the road.

Draper suffered a slight concussion. His wife's collar-bone was fractured.

LONDON (UPI) — HMS Dreadnought, Britain's first nuclear-powered submarine, will visit the United States this month and go on maneuvers with the U.S. Navy, the Defense Ministry said today.

Steaks, Money Missing At Home

A hungry burglar was not in a hurry last Friday when he broke into the home of Frank G. Barberis on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Lagunitas.

Barberis told Marin County Sheriff's deputies someone took $60 from under a rug in his bedroom, then removed two steaks from the refrigerator and ate them before leaving.

The burglar entered the house by a rear window which had previously been broken and covered by cardboard.

Planners Again Seek Zoning Administrator

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday again asked the county board of supervisors to approve money to hire a zoning administrator and a zoning enforcement field man.

The action was taken in preparation for coming budget sessions.

The commission held off, on a recommendation that four more planning staff members be hired, agreeing rather with County Adminstrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that two men be hired in December and one other two be deferred until the 1965-66 fiscal year.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Granted architectural supervision of plans of the Community Congregational Church, on 4.9 acres at the end of Rock Hill Road in what is soon to be the city of Tiburon.

2. Denied a request by William Radford to split a lot at 15 Old Landing Road, near Tiburon, into two lots both under the 20,000-square foot minimum for the area.

3. Denied a three-lot subdivision at 120 Beatie Road, Black Point, requested by Vern Love, although there are now three houses on the property, because two lots would have no on-site parking on street frontage.

4. Approved a revision of the tentative map of Wolfe Glen Way, presented by Trico Enterprises, Inc.

5. Granted Paul and Ora Smith a permit to excavate and grade a site for a proposed motel west of the existing Fireside Motel on Shoreline Highway, near Tamalpais Valley; and gave architectural approval to the motel plans.

6. Gave architectural approval to plans by Donald Matthias to convert a single-family residence at 10-16 Marine Way, Stinson Beach, into a duplex and construct two rental units over an existing carport.

7. Recommended that a new section of the Ignacio interchange, a southerly extension of Entrada Drive, be named Entrada Drive.

8. Granted architectural approval of plans for a swimming pool equipment building at Atherton Club property, Atherton Avenue and H Lane, Novato.

Fall From Horse

Audrey Richardson, 17, of 341 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital by city ambulance at 9 p.m. yesterday after it was reported she fell off a horse in front of Edna Maguire School. Miss Richardson was X-rayed, examined and released with no apparent injury.

9. Set for July 6 hearing on amendment to the Lucas Valley Planned Community Master Plan permitting Eichler Homes Inc. to reshuffle commercial, townhouse and single-family residential areas south and west of Miller Creek Road.

10. Set for July 6 public hearing on rezoning of Marinwood Country Estates from planned community development to single-family residential.

11. Set July 20 for public hearing on rezoning of a parcel along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Marin Catholic High School and the Wolfe Grade Elementary School from single-family to commercial. Edward Halperin requested the zoning to permit construction of a bank at the site.

Judy May Wed Again And Again

YOKOHAMA (UPI) — A radiant Judy Garland said today on her arrival from Hong Kong that she had married her traveling companion, Mark Herron, twice and might do it again in Japan.

"I think we ought to get married every place we go," she told reporters after arriving here on the liner President Roosevelt.

The singer displayed a red, leather-bound marriage certificate, written mostly in Chinese.

Mill Valley Will Build Road Over Rail Tunnel

The Mill Valley City Council decided to cross a tunnel with an access road last night, shaking off fears that the Northwestern Pacific Railroad structure might collapse and cause a disaster similar to the San Rafael Puerto Suello Tunnel collapse of 1961.

City engineer Stanley M. Bala told the council it is "next to impossible" for the tunnel, which separates Scott Valley Subdivision Unit 3 from other developments, to collapse.

"I have surveyed the tunnel, for fitness of the rock," he reported, "and I think it is sound. It could only collapse in case of a very severe earthquake."

He also reported the findings of Harding Associates, soil engineers of San Rafael, who measured the distance between the proposed roadbed and the roof of the tunnel. It was found to be 48 feet long.

"There is six and one-half feet of top soil, 11.5 feet of crushed rock, and 29.5 feet of solid rock present," he told the council. "It is very remote that the structure will collapse."

Another problem perturbing the council was that Northwestern Pacific Railroad said it would not be liable for the road should the tunnel collapse. The railroad had been held liable for the road above the Puerto Suello tunnel.

The tunnel clears way for the railroad track going from Corte Madera Ridge to Alto Bowl. The council had instructed City Atty. Leland M. Jordan to review the city's indemnity in the proposed agreement.

Jordan reported that the contract contained "as expected, a provision which releases the railroad from liability resulting from the maintenance of the road over the tunnel. He haid he did not consider such a provision objectionable.

Several councilmen expressed fears concerning homes in the area, should an earthquake occur.

Bala concluded by saying, "I wouldn't worry about homes in case of a disastrous earthquake—they wouldn't be there anyway."

The council voted unanimously to adopt the resolution accepting the proposed easement.

Novato Landscaping Action Is Postponed

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night postponed further action on landscaping center islands in the downtown stretch of Highway 101 to await report of a committee on the subject appointed by the city council.

The parks commission also decided to make no "united front" at a joint meeting with the planning commission on June 29 to discuss parks. Each member will give his own views.

Youth Graduated

Richard Baum, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Baum of 28 Rutherford Avenue, San Anselmo, has graduated cum laude from Cate School in Carpinteria, Santa Barbara County.

Agenda Too Long, So Hub Planners To Meet Again

The San Anselmo Planning Commission, unable to wade completely through a long agenda last night, will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday in city hall.

Public hearing on application of Harry Broglioli of 32 The Alameda to operate a trailer court and other public rental at 100 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was postponed to next Monday because he was absent.

Hugh M. Wilcox of 230 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, withdrew application to build and operate a root beer drive-in at 220 Greenfield Avenue.

Lido Artegiana was denied duplex rezoning at 31 Lansdale Avenue, in a single-family dwelling zone.

Jim Stewart was granted permission to convert a single family residence to a duplex at San Anselmo and Madrone Avenues, but Mary E. Orr was denied permission for a second duplex at 36 Ash Avenue.

Monday the commission will hear applications by Norman T. Gilroy to develop apartments on his property on Red Hill; by Sunny Hills Home to construct new buildings, and by the Bay Counties Realty Corp. to divide four lots at Scenic Avenue and Canyon Road into five.

Photocopy Machine Installed By Library

A public self-service photocopying machine has been installed at San Rafael Public Library, librarian Vivian R. Smith announced today.

She said the machine copies pictures and maps as well as printing. The photocopyer may be used during the hours the library is open: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays.

NCO Graduate

Marine Lance Cpl. Garvis L. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Martin of 87 East Crescent Street, San Rafael, graduated recently from Non-Commissioned Officers School, Division Schools Center, Camp Pendleton.

Underground Utility Lines To Be Required

Corte Madera town councilmen indicated last night they would follow the lead of San Rafael and Mill Valley in requiring underground utility lines in new subdivisions.

The council introduced an amendment to the subdivision ordinance which would require full underground utilities.

If the developer proved that it would not be feasible, alternatives would be the "streamline" system, wood poles in rear yard easements, or wood poles in street rights of way.

Developers would have to pay the utility companies the difference in cost between conventional and underground system.

Robert W. Figone, district representative of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., objected, saying that "there is little aesthetics to be gained."

R. W. Kerr, senior engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., said his company "was very happy with the proposal."

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst was absent.

In Vietnam

Airman 1c Louis R. Holton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Holton of San Anselmo, is on duty with a unit of the U. S. Pacific Air Forces in Vietnam. Airman Holton is a flight mechanic.

Largest Class Is Graduating At Quentin

Members of the largest graduating class from San Quentin Prison's Bayview High School will receive diplomas at 7:30 p.m. today in the garden chapel at the prison.

Certificates of completion of University of California extension division courses will be presented to 22 inmates. There will be 84 men graduating from elementary school during the ceremonies, according to Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Dr. Don Jose Aubertine of San Francisco, chairman of the prison's dental advisory committee, will present certificates of completion of vocational training to 57 inmates.

Presenting the high school diplomas will be County Supervisor Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, member of the academic advisory committee of Bayview High School. Arnold Dolcini Jr., president of the Marin County Board of Education, will present the elementary school diplomas.

Theodore Neff of the State Department of Education will speak to the graduates. Music will be provided by the prison's 40-voice glee club and 25-member concert band.

Planning Meet Off—No Room

The Novato Planning Commission did not hold its adjourned meeting last night because there was no vacant room in the community house.

It adjourned until 8 p.m. today when it will meet in the auditorium while the city council meets in the council chambers.

The commission adjourned last week to finish its agenda this week. This is the second attempt by the commission to finish its regular agenda of last Monday.

Trustees Go 'Round And 'Round On Budget

Trustees of Reed School District almost—but not quite—approved a tentative budget last night for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

With Supt. Edward C. Pino reminding trustees that they had "at least five long meetings" on the budget, board members gave tentative approval to the tentative budget. An almost silent audience of 15 persons sat through most of the three and one-half hour budget session with only minor comments on the $1,067,472 budget, up from $816,861 for the current year.

Trustee approval came with understanding that at the June 30 meeting, where the board must make the final decision, trustees would consider whether the budget could be trimmed without materially hurting the district's curriculum and maintenance of buildings and equipment.

But again and again Superintendent Pino told trustees that the proposed budget was only holding the line, that there would be no real gain in curriculum quality, and that the budget would just cover the expected rise in enrollment from 1,460 pupils to 1,600 and the opening seventh-eighth grade Granada School set for Oct. 16.

Pino came under close questioning by trustees who asked him to take $25,000 from specific budget items and place the amount in the unallocated reserve before they gave tentative approval to the budget. A portion of that money may go toward raises in teacher salaries requested by the staff but not included in the budget.

Trustees also asked that for the June 30 meeting Pino set aside another $25,000 in specific budget items from which trustees might —or might not—consider cuts.

Pino said the budget had been "too austere" the past two to three years and there is "danger of delaying too long a real significant increase in the tax rate" which he said was needed "just to maintain ourselves."

Much of the increase will come from a proposed over-ride tax of 49 cents per $100 assessed valuation which, under a new state law, trustees can levy without voter approval. The tax, by law, is for seventh and eighth grades.

Proposed total tax rate for the coming fiscal year is $3.415, compared to the present $2.83 per $100 assessed valuation.

As the meeting wore on toward 10:30, trustee Richard J. MacLaury threatened to leave and the audience slowly began walking out.

"I want this budget approved, disapproved or amended," Pino insisted.

"Our purpose is to see if we can save the taxpayers some money," said Trustee David D. Ring.

"I'm kind of against going against what the people of this district said in the last tax election," put in Trustee Marilyn C. Steinau. District voters last October turned down a proposed $1 rise in the rate. Over-ride taxes of 49 cents for upper grades and five and one-half cents for health and welfare services and other over-rides may be levied without voter approval.

"I think we should stay here and go down item by item until you say where we can save," said MacLaury. "I don't want one person saying we're spending too much."

Mrs. Steinau said the budget represented "more than a modest improvement" in the Reed program, not just a hold-the-line budget as Pino had said.

Trustee Leo Souza, worrying through the meeting about the board's "image" with the public, said he believed the public had in effect accepted the higher budget and over-ride taxes as there were so few persons present for the budget meeting after trustees had previously gone on record as favoring an over-ride up to 45 cents. He said he had received no protest.

"The community apparently has accepted an over-ride," he said.

Wampum, the media of exchange between early explorers and Indians in America, consisted of tiny purple and white pierced beads made from the inner sides of clam shells. Colored beads were the more valuable.

Boat Worth $100 Reported Missing

Roger M. Mitchell, 22, of Teacher's Beach, Inverness, has reported theft of his eight-foot pram from the private beach in front of his home.

He told the Marin County sheriff's office the pram was lying about 85 feet from the water, under a tree. A round-bottom, plastic boat, it is valued at $100.

Warehousemen's Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Northern California warehousemen of two unions have ratified a new three-year agreement. It affects about 25,000 members of the Teamsters Union and International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Wages will be boosted 10 cents an hour.

BRIEF TIME OUT FOR A LONG CRISIS

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (UPI) — The Papua-New Guinea Assembly solved a crisis yesterday when a three-foot snake was discovered in the public gallery.

Speaker H. R. Niall called a recess.

Then one lawmaker removed his shoe. He handed it to another assemblyman.

Thump!

Guards removed the dead snake.

Speaker Niall declared the session resumed.

Teen Help Sought For Landscaping

The City of Belvedere will try to enroll teen-agers to assist in a summer program of landscaping San Rafael Avenue.

The city council last night heard G. Roger Felton, appointed by the council, describe plans for the landscaping, and agreed to ask the recreation commission to try to work out a plan for the use of teen-age help.

City Atty. William H. MacKay informed the council Cove and Lagoon roads cannot be closed before holding a public hearing which has been scheduled for the July 20 council meeting. Also, he said, the closing must be approved by the California Division of Highways.

Tam Unification Vote Urged Again

Mill Valley School District trustees last night adopted a resolution urging a second vote on the proposal for a Tamalpais Unified School District.

The proposal, which would unite all districts now within Tamalpais High School District, failed of passage in the June 2 election.

The resolution will be sent to Earl G. Marshall, chairman of Marin County committee on School District organization.

The vote was 3-1, trustees M. James Norton, Mrs. Joyce Gross and John G. Donhoff voting "yes," trustee Edward A. Kemp voting "no," and Dr. William L. Clark abstaining.

Belvedere Planners

The Belvedere Planning Commission will meet on June 22 at 8 p.m. in the community hall, having postponed its meeting from last night because of a conflict with the city council's adjourned meeting.

Brothers Mark Fortieth Year Together In Banking Services

Two brothers, one of them a Marin resident, will celebrate completion of their 40th year of full-time service with the Bank of America next week.

George A. Moreno of San Rafael (Country Club) and his brother Sinclair of San Francisco began their part-time service in 1921 together—and three years later embarked on their banking careers in earnest. George is now manager of the Clay-Montgomery branch in San Francisco, while Sinclair is assistant vice president in accounts receivable in the San Francisco head office.

A native of Acapulco, Mexico, the Marin Moreno was appointed manager of the West Portal branch in 1946 after serving in a variety of positions and departments. Seven years later he was advanced to manager of the Bay View branch, and assumed his present position in 1961.

CONGRATULATIONS to San Rafael realty broker William Timmer, who is still showing the reflected $-signs in his eyes from last month's property sales. His 10 salesmen racked up a total of $1,008,350 in 34 separate transactions. May, 1964, was the first month Timmer's sales reached seven figures since he opened his office more than 10 years ago.

SAN RAFAEL men's clothier Warren Marcus holds that a bridegroom is the "forgotten man" as far as June—or for that matter, any other month—is concerned. The best man falls in the same category.

Fathers get a break next Sunday; brides are feted all month long. But no one gives the groom much thought in explaining just what ceremony responsibilities and expense he lets himself in for, after popping the question and being accepted. (Maybe he wouldn't be so eager to pop it if he knew all this ahead of time.

So the Marcus Shop has had a list of helpful hints for grooms and their aides compiled. Free for the asking while the supply lasts. After that you're on your own.

PATRICK H. PRICE of Mill Valley, who was recently promoted to assistant manager of the loan department at San Francisco Savings and Loan Assn., has been elected president of the Bay Area Mortgage Assn.

INSURANCE. Edwin F. Cutler of Terra Linda has been appointed vice president of Fireman's Fund Insurance Companies. Cutler joined Fireman's Fund in 1946 and has been assistant controller since 1961. He will assist in supervising nation-wide accounting and statistical operations. . . Donald L. Mincey of San Anselmo has been appointed a salesman for New York Life Insurance Co.

GEORGE A. MORENO
Completes 40th banking year

DALE B. SEESEE
To manage auto dealership

DALE B. SEESEE of Novato has been appointed general manager of Ellis Brooks Chevrolet, San Francisco. He has been with the automobile firm since 1949.

THE HALF-HOUR color documentary film, "Wonderful World of San Francisco," which will compete in the International Exhibition of Cinematographic Art to be held in Venice, Italy, during August, features a full sequence on Marin visitor attractions—including Muir Woods, Sausalito, Belvedere, Tiburon and other locations. Vista Productions of San Francisco was the producer. Film coordination was done by the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Sometimes it's an advantage to be the neighbor of a "big brother" city.

THREE COURSES by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers will be offered at the University of San Francisco during August. Covered are basic appraisal principles, urban properties and condemnation. Contact Arthur G. Lee at Northern California chapter offices, 1 Sansome Street, San Francisco, for details.

Phone Merger Gets Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stockholders of Western Utilities Corp. and its three affiliates have approved a merger with General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

The merger was approved at New York and San Francisco stockholder meetings of Western Utilities and its affiliates —California Water and Telephone Co., Southwestern States Telephone Co., and West Coast Telephone Co.

All are based in San Francisco and serve about 635,000 telephones in portions of seven states.

The Greeks called it a "water stealer" or Clepsydra. An example of this unusual-type water clock is on display at the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park. Such clocks were used up until the 18th century.

TAX CUT'S FIRST FRUITS

Lawmakers Study New Taxation Proposals

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter—the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These war-time taxes have been on a year to year basis.

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

Steels, Motors Lead Fairly Active Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market closed higher today. Trading was fairly active.

Dealings were more vigorous than in recent sessions as steels, motors, airlines and a wide range of selected issues posted sharp gains.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.16 million yesterday.

Gains of key stocks moved from fractions to a point or more. .

Steels were in demand. U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin rose more than a point each. Lukens spurted more than 3, Wheeling and Copperweld Steel about 2 each.

General Motors, recovering from yesterday's dip, advanced more than a point. All other leading auto stocks gained fractions.

Chrysler was running well ahead of Texas Gulf Sulphur as the most active stock. Texas Gulf was about unchanged.

Tobaccos, soft in early trading, firmed and moved higher on news of bigger cigarette shipments.

Some of the airlines made sharp gains. Up more than a point were Pan American, National and Delta.

IBM rose more than 3, U.S. Smelting more than 4, Xerox and Control Data better than 2 each.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher.

Standard Oil Reduces Price

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of California has reduced prices on premium gasoline by one cent a gallon.

Retail prices at Standard and dealer-operated stations were reduced to 33.9 cents a gallon on the premium grade and to 35.9 on the highest premium grade.

The regular grade price of 30.9 cents was unchanged.

The price changes are effective in eight western states where Standard of California operates.

Bank Syndicate Buys School Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO — Bank of America underwriting syndicates has purchased two San Mateo County school bond issues totalling $2,019,000.

One Bank of America group bought the $1,750,000 bond issue of the San Mateo Junior College District. A second bank syndicate purchased the $269,000 bond issue of the Half Moon Bay Union High School District.

More Reaction To Market Is Expected

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu and Stetson says that the current rally from the recent reactionary slide will be over soon and prices again will be vulnerable to another slow moving reaction that will carry it back again.

Thurlow believes the first phase of the reaction is now over, but suspects there is more to come. He also feels the preset pattern of price movements bears many resemblances to the events of 1960.

Albert M. Klein and Stuart W. Graff of Reuben and Co., Inc. feel the market's lackluster performance over the past week or so appears partially due to discounting of the bright economic news. However, the firm feels the economy will score significant advances in the coming months and be reflected in the popular averages.

Bache and Co. says the market should soon begin anticipating second quarter earnings reports and feels it is advisable to accumulate well situated issues on any current weakness.

Freightways Says May Sales Up

SAN FRANCISCO — Consolidated Freightways, Inc. today reported that May sales and earnings continued the improvement trend which has put the company far ahead of last year.

May earnings of $510,000, equal to 20 cents a share, boosted the year to date figure to $1,732,000, or 68 cents a share, last May, and $252,000, or 9 cents a share, in the first five months of 1963.

May sales were $17,130,000, up 4 per cent from last May. Year to date sales total $84,457,000, 11 per cent ahead of 1963.

Richardson Bay Hearing Is Scheduled

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday set a specail meeting on the Richardson Bay master plan for June 29 at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center.

At that time the Marin Conservation League and Marin Rod and Gun Club are expected to present their plan for the Bay.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said all persons who have proposals to present should offer them at this session of the commission.

The commission has to make its decision on Richardson Bay plans before July 7.

The commission also set hearing on the West Marin master plan for June 29 at 8 p.m. with county supervisors expected to attend.

Probation Given In Robbery Case

Thomas Ezekial Rivera, 24, was placed on three years probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday on his guilty plea to two counts of armed robbery.

The sentence was in a Feb. 13 crime spree in which Rivera robbed Joyce Elizabeth McColm in the real estate office of Howard M. Morse, 1726 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and Mrs. Mabel K. Timmer and her daughter, Anita, at Court San Rafael motel on Puerto Suello Hill.

Charges of kidnaping Mrs. McColm, of 6 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, and of robbing Opal and Labran Judd, elderly Oregon couple, were dismissed May 18.

Rivera is an escapee from Napa State Hospital. Probation terms require continued psychiatric treatment.

Prison Inmate Denies Possession Of Knife

Walter E. Bradford, San Quentin Prison inmate charged with illegal possession of a sharp instrument, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday and jury trial was scheduled for July 14.

Bradford, who allegedly had the weapon in his possession March 11 at the prison, is serving terms for burglaries in Mendocino and San Luis Obispo counties.

HURRY, BALL — San Francisco Giants shortstop Jose Pagan waits for the throw from catcher Tom Haller as Cincinnati leftfielder Tommy Harper slides safely into second with a steal during the fifth inning of yesterday's game at Candlestick Park. GIANTS GO FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT

It's Sanford Vs. Cincy Tonight

The San Francisco Giants, trailing the pace-setting Philadelphia Phillies by eight percentage points, go after their fourth straight win tonight when they square off again with the Cincinnati Reds at Candlestick Park.

Jack Sanford (4-6), beaten in his last three decisions, is slated to start for the Giants against John Tsitouris (2-4), who won 12 games for the Reds last year and has become one of Manager Fred Hutchinson's mainstays.

Rookie Jim Ray Hart redeemed himself yesterday by singling home a ninth inning run that gave the Giants a 6-5 victory over the Reds. The powerful third sacker had bobbled a grounder in the Red's half of the ninth which set up an unearned tally as they scored twice to deadlock the score, 5-5.

"I tried to push the ball," Hart said of the game-winning hit which bounced through the box and into center field as Willie McCovey galloped on in from second base.

The losing pitch was tossed up by Ryne Duren, who had just come in with nobody out to relieve Bill Henry after the southpaw had walked the first two batters he faced.

Asked if he thought about ordering Hart to bunt, Manager Alvin Dark said he had thought of the possibility but "that wasn't the play in that situation."

Hart hadn't hit in three official times at bat in the game but he had 7 for 13 in the previous four.

Dark didn't comment further on the strategy except saying a bunt wasn't the play in the situation.

Had Hart sacrificed, however, the Reds undoubtedly would have walked Tom Haller to fill the bases. Then it would have been up to Gil Garrido, hitting just .080. Dark had catcher Del Crandell as a pinch hitter, but previous substitutions did not leave another available shortstop.

Henry wound up with the loss, his first against one victory. Billy O'Dell, who is being used for relief of late as he recovers from an aching back, went home the winner and now is 2-1.

But square-jawed Bill looked more like a loser in the ninth inning as the Reds came back to tie the score while he gave up a run-scoring double to Johnny Edwards and allowed two walks. It was during this frame that Hart booted Steve Boros's grounder at third base and kept the Reds alive.

Dark used a total of four relief pitchers during the last two and two-thirds innings in the battle of strategy. Hutchinson countered with three firemen, including Joey Jay who was banged for a two-run triple in the eighth by pinch-hitter Cap Peterson as the Giants took a 5-3 advantage.

Cincinnati moved out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning at the expense of starter Bob Hendley who gave up a bases empty home run to Deron Johnson in that franme and was tagged for six hits and three runs over a span of six and a third innings.

After the Reds added an unearned run as the result of Hendley's throwing error in the fifth, Willie Mays drove in the first Giants tally in the home half by singling Hendley across from second.

The Giants picked up another run in the seventh then took their brief lead with the three run blast in the eighth.

LEMA IN SPOTLIGHT AT NATIONAL OPEN

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The blue-bloods of golf began pouring into the sweltering nation's capital yesterday for the 64th U. S. Open championship, and the hottest topic was not Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus, but Champagne Tony Lema.

No one was more impressed by Lema's current winning streak—two tournaments in a row—than Palmer himself.

"I'll tell you why Tony is going so well: That rascal has my putter," said Palmer, the Master's champion who is eager to forge the second link in a professional grand slam.

"I gave him my putter earlier this year in Oklahoma City. He was having trouble on the greens and I said, 'Here, try this.' He did, and he's been going great guns ever since. I should make him give it back, but I'm no Indian given."

Lema used the putter to win the $20,000 first prize in the Thunderbird at Rye, N. Y., sinking an eight-foot birdie put on the final green, and he had it blast-hot again this past weekend in taking the $8,000 top purse in the Buick Open.

CO-FAVORITES

The tall, handsome stylist from San Leandro, Calif., who treats friends to champagne every time he wins a title, certainly will be one of the leading favorites—along with Palmer and Nicklaus—when 150 of the world's best golfers tee it np Thursday over the long and toughened Congressional Country Club course.

Muggy heat—temperatures in the 90s and high humidity—greeted early arrivals for the 72-hole, three-day test, rated the hardest and most important in the sport.

"I've been playing in these things for 24 years, and I've never seen it hotter—not even at Dallas in 1952 and Tulsa in 1958," said Sam Sneed, wiping prespiration from his brow. "Man, it's awful."

The heat brought one blessing. It baked the 7,053-yard par 35-35-70 course to concrete hardness and gave some added roll to the drives. Birdies, which have been at a premium, came easier.

Twins-Tribe, Cards-Cubs In Big Trades At Last Minute

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota Twins, acting quickly just before the clock struck midnight, have tapped veteran right-hander Jim "Mudcat" Grant to play a Cinderella role in the American League pennant chase.

Balked in earlier atempts to bolster their pitching staff, the Twins completed an 11th-hour deal with Cleveland last night just before the midnight trading deadline, acquiring Grant in exchange for pitcher Lee Stange, a player to be named later and an undisclosed amount of cash.

In a major six-player deal between National League clubs, St. Louis sent former 20-game winner Ernie Broglio, reliever Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens to the Chicago Cubs for outfielder Lou Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Grant, 28, had been hit hard this season, starting nine games and completing only one. He had a 3-4 record with a 5.95 earned run average, but is an established major league starter of known quality with a 64-59 lifetime record entering this season. He was 13-14 last year.

Strange, a promising righthander in his fourth season in the majors, impressed last year with a 12-5 record and a 2.62 ERA. This season, however, he had a 3-6 mark with a 4.73 ERA.

The key men in the St. Louis-Chicago trade were Broglio and Brock, who fills the Cardinals' need for additional outfielding help.

Broglio, a 28-year-old righthander, apparently became surplus when the Cardinals acquired pitcher Glen Hobbie from the Cubs in an earlier trade. Broglio was 21-9 in 1960 and had an 18-8 record last year, but was 3-5 this season with a 3.53 ERA.

Brock, a speedy 24-year-old flychaser who bats left-handed, is in his fourth season in the majors. He hit .258 last season with nine homers and 37 runs batted in. He was hitting at a .257 clip for the Cubs with two homers and 14 runs driven in.

Marks, McCoy Blast High Scores In League Action At Nave Lanes

Hart, Herbel Rate With Phillies' Allen In Rookie Of Year Derby

Jack Hanley

Soon speculation will start on Rookie of the Year candidates. So we might as well get in our two cents worth ahead of time. Philadelphia's Richie Allen is a worthy candidate. San Francisco's Jim Ray Hart is, too. And no fair minded judge could overlook Ron Herbel of the Giants.

There are others worthy of mention but at the moment Allen, Hart and Herbel are the front runners. Temporarily bypassing Allen and Herbel, let's confine this piece to the rookie Giant third baseman.

Hart, heralded as a power hitter, surprised everyone in spring training with his glove work and speed afoot, particularly to his left. It's true he made a number of errors in the spring but most of them were on off-balance, hurried throws to first.

It also is true that in the first third of the 1964 National League season an even dozen errors were charged against him. Fortunately, none was directly responsible for the loss of a ball game. More importantly, the rookie hasn't let the errors get him down. And now he takes his time on the throw to first. On the plus side of his fielding are several sparkling plays to his left on hard grounders that were headed through the hole.

"HART'S THIRD base glove has surpassed my expectations," said Alvin Dark. "He is gaining more confidence with each game. Some rookies get jittery before big crowds. Not Hart."

The Giant manager smiled when he next discussed Hart's hitting in recent games.

"I had been told to look for his power hitting," said Dark, "but he didn't hit with power this spring, not the kind of power that knocks in 75 runs."

And now?

"HE SURELY smacked that bases-loaded double (in the first inning Sunday against Cincinnati) with power and his homer (No. 6 in the third inning) was an authoritative belt."

Hart's RBI total now is 21. He still may produce the 75 expected of him. If he does, the stockily-built 22-year-old third baseman definitely will be entitled to serious consideration as the National League's 1964 Rookie of the Year.

First time Lefty O'Doul saw Hart swing a bat in spring training camp, the one-time batting champ said:

"THAT YOUNG man does not have a flaw in his swing. He cocks his hands opposite his right ear. He hold them high and waits for the pitch. He has no bad habits while waiting for the pitch such as hitching his hands up and down. He keeps the bat at a perfect point behind his shoulder.

"I asked Hart who taught him to hit and he said nobody. He's a natural. I told him what I told Ted Williams years ago—'Don't let anyone ever change your swing or style.' You can't improve on perfection."

Dodgers Near Million Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took the Los Angeles Dodgers 31 games in 1962 to exceed the one million mark in home attendance—but they hope to do it tonight—in 30 games.

They've drawn 956,115 fans at Dodger stadium so far this year, and if 43,886 turn out tonight to see the game with Milwaukee, they'll top the magic number.

Last year, it took the Dodgers 34 games to reach a million.

On top to help the Dodgers draw crowds will be Don Drysdale, who's sporting an 8-5 record and a 1.92 ERA. He'll go against Warren Spahn, 5-4 and 4.26.

Drysdale lost four of five games to Milwaukee in 1963, but has a lifetime record of 19.15 against the Braves.

Spahn is 22-34 against the Dodgers. He's won 355 major league games.

The Dodgers will start rookie third baseman Derrell Griffith. He hit four singles Sunday off Brave pitchers.

Lido Team Wins Challenge Race

The Lido team nipped the Blue Jay entry 35-37 in a pair of challenge races by the Belvedere Sailing Society last Saturday.

The Lido team of Ed Misuraca, Ken Cohn, Carolyn Saltzman and Paul Law tied with the Blue Jay team of Sally Mathews, Ricky Treacy, Eric Bellingall and John Wiley in the first race, but the Lidos won the second race.

Then on Sunday, 30 boats in five classes competed for prizes. Results were:

Sun—Martin Bramante, Gene Raueher, Harvey Rogers. Lido—Bill Clute, second and third place under protest. Blue Jay—Burt Jacobson, Ed Brash, John Wiley. Shamrock—Tom Ferguson, Roberta Ferguson, Bill Ferguson. F. J.—Steve Johnson Jr., Steve Johnson Sr., Phil West.

MARIN'S PRO BALL PLAYERS

Ard, Boccabella Hike Their Averages; Cole Wins Sixth

Gerry Ard of Fairfax, bonus rookie with the Houston Colt organization, had a big week with the Modesto team in the California League, according to statistics compiled by Player Periscope of Novato.

Ard, a fine-fielding shortstop for Modesto, handled the bat equally well in the last reported week, hitting .421 (8 for 19). His week's work upped his average on the season to .253. He has a triple and three doubles, 20 runs batted in and has scored 19 runs so far this year.

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, power-hitting first baseman for Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League, batted .318 for the last reported week, hitting safely 7 times in 22 at bat. His 7 hits for the Chicago Cubs' top farm club included 3 home runs and a double, all good for 7 runs batted in and 6 runs scored.

On the year, Boccabella has 47 for 202 for an average of 233. But on the power side of things, he has 11 home runs, 2 triples and 6 doubles. He has smacked in 31 runs and has scored 26.

AVERAGE DROPS

Ken Anderson of San Rafael, outfielder for Greenville, S. C., of the West Carolina League, a Milwaukee Braves organization, lopped off 4 points from his average when he collected only two singles in 10 trips to the plate for the week.

Anderson is now hitting at a .250 clip (21 for 128). He has one double, has knocked in 8 runs and has scored 8.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley continues to pitch fine ball for Modesto, the Houston farm club. During the last reported week, the righthander appeared in two games and came out with one win to run his season record to 6-2 and his earned run average to 3.05.

In 7 inings pitched, Cole allowed 6 hits, walked 4 and whiffed 12. In 56 inings this season, he has allowed 44 hits, walked 21 and struck out 54.

Farm Manager

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gus Niarhos,, bullpen coach with the Kansas City Athletics, was named manager of the Wytheville, Ga., farm club yesterday.

Mighty USC Ousted By Little Maine

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — University of Southern California's baseball team, defending NCAA champ, was ousted from this year's tournament last night by upstart Maine which nipped the Trojans 2-1.

Maine will meet Missouri tonight in the semi-final round. Missouri last night handed Minnesota its first defeat 4-1 by holding the Big Ten champs to one hit.

The winner of the Missouri-Maine game will face Minnesota for the championship tomorrow night.

(A Monthly Page Published In Cooperation With The Marin Rod and Gun Club)

OUTDOOR ROUNDUP

Grisez Is New Archery Champ

Norman Grisez of San Rafael is the new champion of the Northwoods Bowmen's Club after winning the title from a large field Sunday.

He scored a total of 490 points, 11 more than runnerup John Ames of Santa Venetia, a former champ. Ames took the 325 Class trophy and Fred Del Pino of San Anselmo finished third with 475 points, good enough for the 250 Class title.

The men's 175 Class was won by Dick Kenney of Mill Valley, and Shirley Davis of Novato won the women's title. Grisez' son, Dale, won the junior title and Paul Makinson of Novato topped the Intermediate Class.

Delta Canal Is Topic Of Speech

Robert L. Jones of the Delta Fish and Wildlife Committee will speak on "The Delta Periphery Canal," at the next meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Friday at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Another feature of the meeting will be an outdoor motion picture. The meeting is open to the public.

Revolver Tourney Scheduled Sunday

The monthly tournament shoot of the Tamalpais Revolver Club will be held next Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Police range in San Rafael.

Since the firing points are covered, the match will be held regardless of weather conditions. It will be an authorized National Rifle Assn. tournament so NRA match rules and classifications will be used.

Club president Wade Powell asks that all members of the board of directors meet in the clubhouse after the competition.

15½-Pound Bass Taken At Pier

Rapp Brush hauled in a 15½-pound striper to win the fish of the month award for May. He was fishing at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier.

Bass are being taken on bait and shiners mainly, with occasional success rewarding the stroller trollers.

Sportswomen To Meet On June 23

The women's auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will hold its monthly meeting June 23, starting at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Virginia Shattuck, home economist from the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., will give a talk on "Decorating with Light."

The following day, June 24, the auxiliary women will hold a "fishing get-together" at the Paradise Park Pier at 9:30 a.m., in hopes of landing some striped bass.

Little Leaguer Hurls His Third No-Hitter

Roger Smith, 12-year-old whiz of the Larkspur Lions in the Twin Cities Little League, hurled his third no-hitter of the season Saturday when he led his team to a 12 - 0 triumph over North Bay Lumber.

Phil Brooks, hard-hitting pitcher-outfielder of the Larkspur Lumber team, hit his seventh home run of the season on Sunday.

Fair To Feature Robin Hood & Co.

The Northwoods Bowmen's Club, a Marin County archery group, will play a prominent part in the Marin Art and Garden Fair which is scheduled for July 1 through 5.

Theme of the fair, "In the Medieval Manner," is a natural for the archers who will assume rolls of Robin Hood and his merry men.

Archery demonstrations, a shooting booth for the public and a reproduction of the famous Blue Boar Inn will be among the features of the Northwoods entry. Archers in costume, the sheriff of Nottingham, Maid Marion, Friar Tuck, Will Scarlet and the evil Guy of Gisborne all will be on hand to teach archery and hand out prizes to the shooters.

Rod-Gun Rosters Adds Seven Names

Robert Heyward, William B. Norton, Dr. Andrew Noble, Everett L. Cantrell, Aaron Bigham, Kendell Green and Gilbert Morgan will be welcomed as new members to the Marin Rod and Gun Club at the meeting Friday night at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Ham'n'Yams Menu For Sportsmen

Next family dinner, under the chairmanship of Ray Augusto, will be served at the Marin Rod and Gun Club Saturday at 7 p.m.

Members may get tickets to the dinner from club secretary Paul Ware. Ham and yams are on the menu and there will be musical entertainment. Tickets are $2 per person.

Marin Rod-Gun Picnic July 26

The Marin Rod and Gun Club annual picnic is scheduled to be held Sunday, July 26, at the club grounds, it was announced today.

Tickets for the picnic, one of the top social functions of the club, may be obtained at most sport shops in Marin County. John Sterling is chairman of the committee working on the picnic details.

Conservationists Making Studies

The Marin Rod and Gun Club Conservation Committee is making a thorough study of the North Bay Master Plan as it affects fish and game, boating, outdoor recreation, streams, bays and natural beauties of Marin County.

Also on the committee's schedule is a meeting to gather information on the effect of Corte Madera Creek Flood Control proposals.

Represented will be the Army Corps of Engineers, California Department of Fish and Game, Marin County Planning Commission, and the Marin County Recreation Department.

Date for the meeting has not yet been set.

PROUD FISH DERBY WINNERS

Fishing Map Will Be Available In August

A sub-committee of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Conservation Committee is preparing a fishing map and brochure of Marin County for publication soon. Target is August.

The map was developed by Al Giddings, Marin County's popular state fish and game warden. Published in the Independent-Journal last Thursday, it shows the place in the county where salmon, trout, bass, striped bass, flounders, halibut, perch, rock fish, cockle clams, big neck clams, abalone and other fish and shell fish may be taken.

The piece will be in at least two colors. The map will be about newspaper full page size and will be on one side of the page. It will fold into a brochure and the back will contain pertinent fishing and outdoor recreational information on Marin County.

Publication committee is headed by Sam Knoles of San Anselmo and other members are: Judge Leonard Thomas, Barney De Bisschop, Steve Lato, Monte Marzetta, Leo Ciucci, Gordon Dixon, Al Ferrari and Fred Del Pino.

Carlson-Murphy Team Wins Tennis Tourney

Mrs. Howard L. Carlson and Jack F. Murphy defeated Mrs. Howard G. Brown and Ron Theisen, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, Sunday in the finals of the Marin Women's Tennis Club mixed doubles tournament played on the College of Marin courts.

In semi-final round action Saturday, Murphy and Mrs. Carlson defeated Mrs. Robert J. Hansen and Conrad Theisen, 6-3, 6-3, and Ron Theisen and Mrs. Brown downed Mrs. C. A. Pettijohn and Henry Polanshek, 6-3, 6-0.

Lester Wins 11th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Middleweight Jimmy Lester scored his 11th consecutive victory — and 10th knockout—last night by decking Mexico's Andres Herrera in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Lester floored Herrera with 30 seconds left in the round, the only knockdown of the fight. The winner went into the bout a 2-1 favorite.

The Bayview victor weighed 155 pounds, his opponent 153½.

Chargers Sign USC Tackle

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League have signed tackle Gary Kirner as their fifth draft choice.

Kirner, from the University of Southern California, played in the Rose Bowl, and the East-West and Hula Bowl games.

Open Season On Boars In Most Of The State; Bait Angling Is Poor

STEVENS

The phone rang. An outraged voice demanded: "You made a mistake! You mentioned some hunter bagging a 300-pound boar in one of your columns when you should know that the season closed to the taking of wild boars on March 31. How come?"

I refer my irate caller — and all others who have the same idea—to the 1963 California Hunting Regulations, page 24. "Wild pigs and crosses of this animal with feral domestic pigs may be taken only as follows: From Oct. 1, 1963, through March 31, 1964 IN THE COUNTY OF MONTEREY. OPEN ALL YEAR AND NO BAG LIMIT IN THE BALANCE OF THE STATE.

THE 300-POUND boar was NOT killed in Monterey County. I hope that sets the record straight.

By the way—on the subject of big game hunting, anyone having a yen to bag a lion in Uganda, East Africa, should be interested in a release I just received from the Winchester-Western News. It reads: "A cut-price, 21-day hunting safari to Uganda, East Africa, is being offered by the Uganda Wildlife Development Co. for just $2,300, which includes round-trip air fare from New York. The price also covers the services of a professional hunter, Winchester guns, game and gun licenses, fishing equipment and boat trips, with no extras. Africa-minded hunters—or just dreamers — can contact the Uganda Wildlife Development Co., 720 5th Avenue, New York 19, N.Y., for further details."

YOU MAY wonder, as do I, how exciting it might be to hook a full grown lion on light tackle, or how big are the fish that you need a rifle to get 'em. But, of course the inclusion of fishing tackle in the package deal is because there is some of the finest fishing in the world in the Uganda area of East Africa.

Now for a peek at the fishing picture locally. It took some days to revitalize the trolling in the Upper San Pablo sector, but it came back fairly well on Saturday. I note the trollers out of Crockett did okay for themselves. Party boats from there totaled 39 stripers to 12 pounds, and one private boat collected five fish to 10 pounds. Best bet was the area between the Center Pier and the Oleum Wharf.

WISH I could pass along as good a report on other areas, but the sad truth is that bait fishing was plain poor in all sectors. Nothing doing on the Marin side, where little or no trolling was done. The action in the South Bay regions slowed down to a walk. The only good report of bait fishing came from Pat Paddock of Walnut Creek. Pat took his limit of small bass on bait out of Patrick's place at Three Mile Slough.

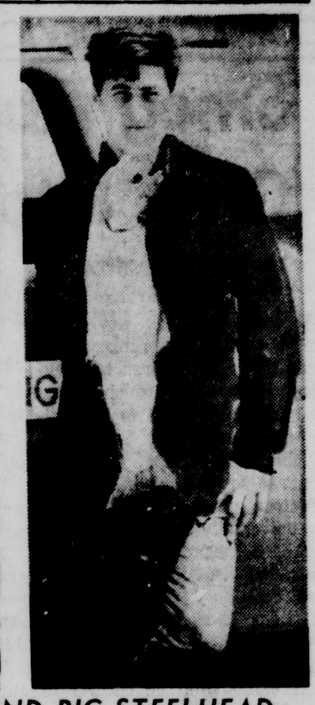
Clarence Witt of the San Leandro Marina reported practically no fish unloaded at his harbor. Alice Quan of China Camp blamed the minus tides on the lack of action, Joe Navarro had nothing to report nor did the Paynes of San Lorenzo—so the slump in striper production is not confined to the Bay Area, but includes the Delta Region as well. However, Oldtimers expect the slump in the back country at this time. Usually fishing goes into the doldrums at the end of May in the Delta Region. With normal tides back again, chances are bait fishing in the San Pablo and upstream to Pittsburg will again become active, and the late evening trolling is unquestionably your best bet for the next six days.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

TOKYO — Osamu Watanabe, 147¼, Japan, outpointed Eliseo Aranda, 147¼, Philippines, 10.

SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy Lester, 155, Bayview, Calif., knocked out Andres Herrera, 153½, Mexico, 4.

PHILADELPHIA — Benny Briscoe, 149¾, Philadelphia, stopped Percy Manning, 150, Philadelphia, 8.



YOUNGSTERS LAND BIG STEELHEAD

These young Marin anglers offer pictorial proof of the large steelhead they caught in local waters recently. At left is 11-year1old Dan Schallock of Mill Valley with the four-and-one-half pounder he took out of Papermill Creek below Camp Taylor with a spinning outfit, using salmon eggs on a No. 8 hook. Young Schallock also boasts of catching a 12½-pound bass at Tiburon on another recent trip. At right is 15-year-old Eddie Richmond of San Rafael with the 5-pound, 11-ounce steelhead he caught at Nicasio Lake. The whopper measured 25⅛ inches.

AAWU Given Approval To Experiment With Pay-TV

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The NCAA has granted the Athletic Association of Western Universities permission to conduct an experimental program with pay TV during the 1964 football season, AAWU Executive Director Tom Hamilton announced yesterday.

The conference of major schools on the Pacific Coast had voted at its recent meetings in Seattle to seek the approval of the NCAA for the program.

Details of the play have not been completed, but he announcement from the AAWU said it is known that the football games to be shown to subscribers of Subscription Television Inc., in San Francisco and Los Angeles areas will be in addition to games shown under the NCAA Game-of-the-Week program on the NBC network.

"The results of this year's experience will be given careful study and consideration by the NCAA colleges when formulating future policies in the use of any form of pay television," Hamilton said.

CRANKCASE DEVICES

Smog Abatement Goes Into Autos

By WAT TAKESHITA

(First of three articles.)

A controversy is developing over the anti-smog crankcase devices that are required for California car owners, which means an added cost of 75 to 100 million dollars annually.

Nobody likes smog. Everyone wants to see it abated. Both enforcement officials and the public are universally agreed that smog can be a hazard and should be controlled. But there the agreement ends.

Citizens, suddenly saddled with the cost of the devices and maintenance, are beginning to scream. Their complaints run counter to the official statements issued by the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

Here are some of the questions raised.

Is it true that the crankcase devices are not harmful to the engine?

Assuming that they are mechanically safe and effective, is the public using them instead of skirting the law?

Are the costs of installation and upkeep reasonable?

Will the devices substantially reduce the overall smog problem so that costs are justified?

The Motor Vehicles Pollution Control officials say, "Yes." Opponents of the crankcase device reply with an emphatic "No!" Just where does the truth lie?

First of all, it should be pointed out that the law to curb automobile pollution was passed by the California Legislature in 1960. The Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board was created that year.

The pollution control board is only trying to enforce the law in the most effective way it knows how. Here is the enforcement timetable:

NEW CARS

Beginning with 1961 model years, crankcase devices were installed voluntarily by American manufacturers on all cars sold in California.

Beginning with 1963 model years, crankcase devices were installed by American manufacturers on all cars sold in the United States.

Beginning with the 1964 registration year, every new car (except those exempt) must be equipped with a certified crankcase device in operating condition.

USED CARS

Beginning Jan. 1, 1964, every used car for which ownership is transferred (except those exempt or those not within an air pollution control district) must have approved devices before registration can be transferred. Marin is within an air pollution control district.

Beginning in January, 1965, every used passenger car (with the same exceptions above) must be equipped with an approved device before it can go out onto the highways. The deadline for compliance is the month of 1965 corresponding with the last digit of the car license plate number.

Beginning with the 1966 registration year, every used passenger car (with the same exceptions) must be equipped with a certified crankcase device in operating condition.

For commercial vehicles, the dates for compliance are one year earlier. All commercial vehicles (except those exempt) must be equipped with a certified device, beginning with the 1965 registration year.

EXEMPT VEHICLES

Diesel power motor vehicles, pre-1950 model cars, motor driven cycles, and implements or husbandry and farm machinery are exempt.

Used foreign cars are also exempt thus far, but officials of the California Department of Motor Vehicles speculate that these too may be required to comply in a year or two.

(Tomorrow: Is device harmful to engines?)

Big Bolinas Subdivision Is Planned

The tentative map for a 28-lot subdivision on 32 acres on Bolinas Mesa was approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday, although there were warnings the Regional Water Pollution Control Board might raise objections.

Engineer Leslie Smith said the map, with average lots of about an acre, and with a three-acre park included, was proposed to bring the question of sanitation facilities in the area to a head.

He said he felt the lots, which are a mile from the Bolinas Lagoon and which drain to the Pacific Ocean, should be allowed to have septic tanks. The Bolinas-Stinson Beach master plan calls for acre lots in the area.

However, he added, the water pollution control board can, and has held up similar subdivisions. He said if sewers are required, smaller lots will have to be allowed and the zoning will have to be changed.

Smith at first asked that the matter be continued, but Chairman Niels Schultz suggested approval, since the staff was in favor of the plan. "Then you'll be on your own," he told Smith.

"My first reaction is that the water pollution control board is getting a little far afield," commented Commissioner William F. Upton, making a motion for approval. The vote to grant was unanimous.

Truck Broken Into, Video Tubes Stolen

Someone forced open the window wing of a truck belonging to Clarity Electronics, 2054 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Sunday evening and stole 365 television tubes, valued at $550, it was reported to San Rafael Police yesterday.

Horst W. Dannecker, 75 Woodland, San Rafael, reported that he parked the truck in front of his home at 10:15 p.m. and found the tubes missing yesterday.

Tracy Says Negroes Excluded From Juries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Tracy Sims, 18-year-old Negro civil rights leader, charged in Federal District Court today that Negroes are systematically excluded from San Francisco municipal court juries.

She and 10 others charged with trespassing during a more-jobs-for Negroes demonstration April 11 asked that the federal court take jurisdiction in the case. The 11 accused were picketing Jim Wessman, Inc., an automobile agency.

Activities Are Underway For Debutantes At Hamilton Base

A round of activities has started for the debutantes of 1964 at Hamilton Air Force Base which will climax Saturday night when the 36 debutantes will be presented to Maj. Gen. and Mrs. C. F. Necrason at the debutante ball at the Officers Club.

On Friday debutante Sandara Necrason, daughter of General and Mrs. Necrason, entertained the debutantes at an informal get-acquainted luncheon at her home at Hamilton.

The debutantes will have a rehearsal with the deb committee tonight. Members include Mrs. Robert Tobin, adviser, and Mesdames Gene L. Sundeen, Douglas Alexander and Charles W. Ennis.

On Thursday night, the debs will rehearse at 7 p.m. with their fathers and escorts, followed by a get-together at the cabana club at Hamilton. Nearly all the escorts are cadets at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The debs will be honored at a tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday in the lounge of the Officer's Club, sponsored by the Officers' Wives' Club. Officers' Wives of the 28th Air Division headquarters will be hostesses.

Mesdames C. F. Necrason, Norman H. Traverso, E.S.E Newberry and chairman, Mrs. Eugene Callahan comprise the tea committee. In the receiving line will be the debutantes, all daughters of Officers at Hamilton and Mrs. Norris Brill, president of the Officers' Wives' Club.

Friday evening, the Debs and their escorts will be honored at a tea dance from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tables for four will form an oval around the dance floor, with a red and white theme used in the decorations, according to the deb committee. The decorations for the tea-dance were designed by Mrs. Robert E. Evans and carried out by a group of mothers under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Starkel. A combo from the air force band will provide music for dancing.

Topiary trees in shades of blush to shocking pink will surround the ballroom when General and Mrs. Necrason receive the girls before a walnut screen flanked by the American Flag and the General's personal flag, at the debutante ball at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Officer's Club. Punch will be served before the picture window in the beautiful Hughes Trophy which was awarded to the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton in 1962. The punchbowl will be surrounded by white gardenias.

Following the ball, a breakfast will be served to the debutantes, their escorts, parents and guests.

Miss Burns Married In Sunday Rite

Stephanie Burns of Sausalito and Thomas Mathews Jr. of Salt Lake City were married Sunday in a 4 p.m. ceremony at Christ Church in Sausalito. Relatives and close friends only attended the wedding.

The double ring rites were performed by the Rev. Joseph S. Doron.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Burns, concert pianist, and the late Mr. Burns of Sausalito, who was a nationally syndicated columnist and author. Stephanie was given in marriage by Brig. Gen. (U.S.A. ret.) George W. Sliney of San Francisco, a family friend.

She recited her vows wearing a full length gown of ivory crepe satin. Her bridesmaid was her twin sister, Carol Burns, who wore a full length gown of deep pink with straight skirt and floating back panel.

Anne Mathews, the nine-year-old sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a short white eyelet dress.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Mathews of Salt Lake City, was his brother, Colin Mathews of Salt Lake City. Showing guests to their seats were James Purcell of Sausalito and Robert Ward of Los Angeles.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. After a brief honeymoon at Inverness the young couple will live in New York City.

Stephanie was graduated from Dominican Upper School and attended the University of California for three years. She plans to enter Cooper Union in New York City in fine arts.

Thomas was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is in his senior year at Princeton University.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

A Time For Parties, Travels

The San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere will be the setting for the "Sailors' Party" hosted by Henry B. Grandins of Ross on June 24. About 200 guests have been invited to share the supper and dancing and to view movies of the Acapulco yacht race in which the hosts' 46 foot sloop Amorita placed fourth in class B.

MRS. J. WATSON MACNAUGHT, wife of the Solicitor General of Canada, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Harry Hays Rasley, of Sausalito, left yesterday by plane for Vancouver, B. C. on her return to the capitol. During her stay in Marin she visited schools for the mentally retarded, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Sousa, child guidance consultant of Sausalito.

FETED AT A bon voyage luncheon Friday was Mrs. Edward Elliott of Belvedere, who is leaving on Saturday for a two-month tour of Ireland, England and the Continent. The party was given by Belvedere residents Mrs. Patrick Kirraine and Mrs. Maurice Glazer at the former's Lagoon home.

Mrs. Elliott will fly directly to Chicago where she will be joined by her cousin, Mrs. Richard Ryan, and from there to Shannon where they will meet another cousin, Msgr. Edward Ryan and other relatives. After a tour of the Emerald Isle, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Ryan will go to England where they will visit another cousin, Dr. Thomas Condon of Manchester.

In Germany, they will visit Mrs. Glazer's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lucas, and his family. The travelers will also visit Austria, Switzerland, France and Italy.

SEN. AND MRS. John F. McCarthy will be hosts for cocktails and a buffet on June 28 at their home in Fairhills to honor Father Daly who will be home on leave from Maryknoll mission work in Africa. The McCarthys have invited many of their Marin friends to the gathering.

MRS. DONALD SCHWEITZER and Mrs. Fletcher Bonham, both of Peacock Gap, were co-hostesses at the Schweitzer home to honor Mrs. Samuel Wright Jr. who has recently moved to the area from the Peninsula. The event was a morning coffee for friends and neighbors in Peacock Gap. Mrs. Wright, the former Terese McChrystal, attended Dominican.

MRS. BENNET SKEWES-COX has come from Washington, D. C. to stay with Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox of Ross, her mother-in-law, and will be joined by Mr. Skewes-Cox in August. They moved to Washington last year with their family. The Robin Skewes-Coxes of San Francisco have bought a house in San Anselmo, and Mrs. Skewes-Cox will join the teaching staff at Dominican College.

IN MEXICO CITY to attend the convention of the International Underwater Explorers are Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Gustafson of Tiburon, who plan to do some diving and underwater photography of their own while there. Following the convention which will be attended by divers and archeologists from throughout the world, the Gustafsons will go to Zihuatanejo, Mexico, for 10 days of underwater exploring and photography.

AN OLDTIME Fourth of July celebration is planned at the new private Peacock Gap Tennis and Swimming Club in San Rafael, reviving an old Marin tradition of a festive fourth when the property belonged to the McNear family. The activities will include three-legged races, barrel races, swimming and tennis matches, ending the day with a picnic supper and fireworks.

MAKING THEIR home in San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. Philip James Avila, who were married June 6 at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito. A graduate of San Rafael High School, the bride is the former Lyn A. Woods, daughter of Mrs. Eugene B. Woods of Oakland. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. G. E. Benassini of San Francisco and Philip Avila of Los Altos. (Planert photo)

ON BOTH SIDES OF ATLANTIC—

Never Underestimate Chanel Influence

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The French designer Gabrielle Chanel exerts a strong style influence on women even as they shop American fashion collections.

Chanel touches pervade Seventh Avenue, the New York garment center, as the nation's store buyers view and order the new fall and winter clothes which will be in the shops beginning in August.

LOOK IN ON any crowded showroom of the designers and manufacturers and you'll see the buyers in Chanel suits or copies of Chanel suits. These are suits with cardigan jackets, worn open and with front and collarless neckline trimmed with braid, fringe, what have you. The skirts are slim cut. The colors: All the pastels.

There's also the Chanel hair bow. It definitely is favored with the women who help determine what the rest of us will wear. Chanel bows, now made by just about everybody including milliners, are supposed to be outsize, often large as the bow of a little girl's dress sash.

TUCK THEM anywhere in the hair, although most of the younger buyers pin them right at the nape of the neck. Designer Vera Maxwell even succumbed to the bow fad—at her fashion opening she slipped a black bandeau and bow onto her sleeked-back white hair.

If it isn't a bow, it's the little girl ribbon tied through the hair.

AND A WORD about hair. This observer hasn't seen a single bouffant in the showrooms. The long-legged models are wearing their hair straight as Caroline Kennedy's. Few wear bangs, but many of the coiffures come dangling forward on the face. Favorite shaping of the ends is pure 180 degree horizontal with front strands flipped forward on the cheek. If curly hair is to make a comeback, as some stylists have predicted, the models' blessing isn't there yet.

Paler makeup also is "in" in the showrooms. Models wear pale toned lipsticks, very little rouge, and less eyeshadow and eyeliner although those false eyelashes seem destined for a long blink.

In with both buyers and models are the lowered heel pumps. Out are spikes.

IN ALSO ARE the T-strap sandals with the lowered heel.

In is the long pearl necklace, either single or double strand, reaching to the bustline. Out is the high-riding choker. In apparently forever are the armloads of bracelets and the capacious handbags. In are kid gloves instead of fabric, either white or black.

In, in growing numbers, are dark glasses for viewing collections. Well, those showrooms are brightly lighted.

And in is a fashion term new to this reporter.

The commentator at the Harvey Berin show described one pale toned lace dress as "M-O-B" —for mother of the bride.

Genessee Council Meeting Friday

Members of Genessee Council 180, Degree of Pocahontas, will honor deputy great pocahontas, Mrs. Eugenia Farrenkopf of Kentfield at the meeting Friday evening, in Portuguese-American Hall in San Rafael.

Arrangements have been made for refreshments under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Marple and a play under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Wall. Members from the bay area will be in attendance for the occassion. Mrs. Lydia Schroeder will preside assisted by Mrs. Erna Falk. Mrs. Farrenkopf is a member of Pocahontas Council 3 of San Francisco.

Mrs. Sears Chosen To High Club Post

Mrs. Carl R. Sears, a 17-year resident of Marin County and a resident of Novato 10 of them, has been elected grand regent of Court 1707, Catholic Daughters of America, Our Lady of the Miracle.

She has served as vice grand regent, prophetess, lecturer and trustee during her seven years as a member of Catholic Daughters.

MRS. CARL SEARS

The organization plans two salad luncheons, a fashion show, and a rummage sale on July 17 among the projects for the coming year.

Margaret Sears and her husband, Lieutenant Sears of the Marin County Sheriff's Department, have three children, Edward, 14; Carl Robert, 13, and Sandra Lynn, 11.

The new grand regent also has a full-time job as comptroller for Weisenburg Construction, Inc., in San Rafael.

She lists among her interests sewing, swimming, water skiing and camping. "We try to go camping as much as possible with our family," Mrs. Sears said.

What does she enjoy most? "This is hard to say because I enjoy almost each and everything I do as it comes along and all of my activities do not seem to be scheduled at the same time so that I do not have to decide between one or the other and thereby get happy hours from all," she says.

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Sears for the 1964-65 year include Mesdames Henry Alvernaz, vice grand regent; Carlos Rivamonte, prophetess; William Tobin, financial secretary; Ruth Snodgrass, historian; Miss Eleanor La Franchi, treasurer; Mesdames W. V. Cannon, monitor; Donald Brazell, sentinel; Richard McGinnis, lecturer; Greg De Gear, organist; Arthur Gibson Raymond Weese, trustees; and Samuel Soars, John McGovern, Raymond Haslag and Gerald Cullen, trustees.

TEEN-AGERS' ROOM is a clever combination for sleep and play areas with compact bunk bed arrangement. Wallcovering and upholstery fabric carries out a nautical theme in red, white and blue. Mattresses, pillows and bolsters supply maximum comfort and trim appearance. Even the flooring is practical, as well as decorative, in white striped in blue.

Bunk Beds Appealing To Young

Now that school is out and children are home, interest centers on teen-agers' rooms, where a combination of bedroom and playroom is the ideal arrangement.

The fun and novelty of bunk beds have a special appeal for youngsters, and their practical, space-saving qualities are great assets to mothers. The result is teen-age living quarters where neatness is the order of the day and night. Enough floor space is left over with this compact arrangement for a play area, with table and chairs for games or the coke hour.

A SALTY, nautical theme, with sturdy soil-resistant materials on upholstery, walls and floor to keep the room ship-shape, is a gay yet sensible idea. The bunk beds, reminiscent of berths on a ship at sea, are trim and neat with 4-inch thick mattresses for snug sleeping comfort.

COVERINGS OF upholstery in red, white and blue are decorative as well as practical, with spills removed simply by the whisk of a damp cloth. The jaunty, nautical mood is reflected in the wallcovering.

BUILT-IN CUPBOARDS beneath the bunks provide ample storage for bed-clothes or toys, plus easy availability. The white flooring is striped in marine blue, and simple tables painted in red, white and blue double for snacks or display points for ship models or other mementos of the briny deep.

Summertime Can Call For Beauty Care

Because of heat and outdoor activities, most women find it more difficult to stay fresh and beautiful during the summer months.

For one thing, the sun dries the skin; and even if you limit your tan to a light shade—which you should—you still can have trouble with freckles or patches. For another, harsh sun can alter delicate hair shades.

Summer beauty ideas may help:

Sun bathing a favorite "sport"? Always use your suntan lotion—remember that you baste a roast to keep it from drying out in the oven.

You will be bathing more often—your skin can get parched and dried, an invitation to scaliness and wrinkles. Soothe it with bath oil.

Don't go without lipstick when sunbathing. Your lips are delicate, and lipstick is good protection. Use one of the luscious, pale ones.

Most frequently seen hair-do's are short, but some beauties let their hair grow long during the hot season. They wear it up, and then cut it for a neat (on the ski slopes) winter.

If you tint your hair in any way, always wear a scarf or hat when you are out in the sun. The bright sunlight will turn the delicate blonde shades brassy, and redden brown/brunette colors.

Tinted toenails in pale pink or coral are devastating with a tan.

If heat, sunbathing or sunburn makes you feverish, overtired and headachy, lie down for a while with feet elevated, and put a soft cloth, dampened with ice water, over your eyes. When you get up, splash yourself with cologne.

And finally, you feel excess pounds more in the summer, so start thinking now about slimming down for next summer. Dieting is a serious business and should be done under the advice of a physician.

THE BUCCANEER LOOK

From the Eighteenth Century comes inspiration for this coordinated sports costume. Antique-like buttons accent the waistcoat and the matching cotton suede pants also are trimmed at the bottom with the buttons. The blouse features narrow Buccaneer sleeves and a narrow bow at the neckline. By Bobbie Brooks.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A pediatrician friend of mine told me recently that good food alone is not the complete answer to the development of sturdy bodies and good eating habits. In his opinion, an important ingredient in a baby's diet is the smiling climate which surrounds him at mealtime. If you're more concerned with how happily your baby eats than how much he eats, you'll find your darling will eat as much as he needs, will blossom accordingly, and will learn to accept new foods without undue fuss and fanfare.

•

A smile in every spoonful—that's the mealtime success story when you serve foods that look good, taste good and offer good variety. Gerber Strained Foods fill all three qualifications beautifully. To begin with, they have nature's own come-hither colors and appe-tempting flavors. And Gerber offers over 50 taste delights for bright-eyed sprites.

•

Introductory plan. Timing is ever so important when you introduce new foods to baby. It should be when he's reasonably hungry but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly as to when they are receptive to new foods. With a bit of experimentation (garnished with grins), you'll soon learn whether your baby finds new foods more acceptable at the beginning of a meal or after the first hunger pains have been eased with a favorite food.

•

Undercover story with built-in protection and comfort. Gerber Baby Pants are made of soft, polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof, so baby can visit on any lap without mishap. Amply cut for free 'n' easy maneuvering . . . bound in downy nylon edging for feather-soft contact with tender legs and waist. Extra rugged, they'll withstand many, many washings, stay soft, too. Medium, large, extra-large and in toddler sizes, pull-on or snap-on styles. Gerber Products Company, Fremont, Michigan.

Mrs. Eugene Hecht Is The New President Of Church Group

Mrs. Eugene Hecht has stepped up from the position of vice president to president of Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of Our Savior in Mill Valley.

The change was the result of the resignation of the president Mrs. Robert Mackay-Smith when she moved from Mill Valley to New York with her family. Other officers will remain the same.

Mrs. Hecht has been active not only in the Mill Valley organization comprising some 450 members but also on the Diocesan level, where she has been a member of the women's board for two years. She served as president of St. Celicia's Guild, the main women's group of the church, before Episcopal Churchwomen was organized to include all women of the parish.

The new president plans to continue working on the previous president's plans for remodeling the kitchen and dressing room and she will continue activities in connection with the group's "Better Buy Shop" in Tamalpais Valley and Church World Service.

Mrs. Hecht is also active in the Old Mill Parent-Teacher Assn. and in the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. She is a member of its drama section.

A native of Germany in the Dresden area, Waltraude or "Waldi," as she is known to friends, came to this country when she was six months old. She was graduated from Monrovia High School and Whittier College with major in physical education.

She went on to take graduate work in occupational therapy at the University of Southern California and is a registered occupational therapist. She worked four years at Children's Hospital of the East Bay in Oakland.

She and her husband, a transportation rate expert with the Public Utilities Commission of California in the San Francisco offices, came to Mill Valley from the Los Angeles area in 1955. When they were married he was with the U.S. State Department foreign service, and they lived three years in Vienna.

They have three sons, Christopher, 12; Timothy, 10; and Peter, 8.

Mrs. Hecht says she likes tennis, reading, sewing and gardening, and she and her husband enjoy playing the recorder.

Zonta Club Meet Thursday Night

The Zonta Club of Marin will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Viola Carlson, 86 Park Drive, San Anselmo.

Miss Una R. Wood, a consumer specialist with the staff of McKay McKinnon Jr., Director of the San Francisco District of the Food and Drug Administration, will be guest speaker.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

"I see your haberdasher has gone in for an all-out advertising campaign."

With Children Home Beware Possibility Of Accidents

Where do you think most of the fatal accidents of childhood and early adolescense take place? Not on the highways, railroad tracks or in boy-built tree houses, but in our own homes.

Incredibly, home is the scene of more accidents to people of all age groups than are our much-maligned freeways and throughways. What causes these accidents? Falls, most frequently. Other common causes are fire, suffocation, poison and electric shock.

PREVENTING FALLS: 1. Be sure all small rugs are skidproof. (Anchor them with small suction cups or a liquid spray.) 2. Repair wobbly legs on all chairs, sofas, tables, beds and ladders. 3. Mop up wet floors immediately, and use non-skid floor wax. 4. Be absolutely positive your stairs are well lighted, well bannistered, uncluttered and non-skid. 5. Protect toddlers from stair falls with a barrier gate. 6. Have grab bars above your bathtub. 7. Put non-skid mats in your tub and shower.

FIRE: 1.Be sure your wiring system is adequate for the load you're putting on it. (Your fire department can help you here.) 2. Install one of the new inexpensive fire alarms systems. (Your fire department will advise you here, too.) 3. Replace all frayed cords on electrical appliances. 4. Be sure all fire places are protected with good fire screens. 5. Destroy oily paint rags. 6. Store inflammable products safely in a well-ventilated space. 7. Be utterly firm about the no smoking in bed rule. 8. Invest in several dry chemical fire extinguishers, and keep them handy.

POISONING: 1. Store all poisons safely. This means cleaning agents of all kinds, lye, weed killer, insecticides, as well as all your drugs and medicines. 2. Keep a first aid manual in your bathroom and kitchen.

ELECTRIC SHOCK: 1. Never touch any electrical connections with wet hands or when standing on a wet surface. 2. Keep all electrical devices — radios, heaters, etc.—far, far away from bathtubs and sinks. 3. Don't be a do-it-yourself electrician.

SUFFOCATIONS: 1. Don't use flame-type heaters, as they deplete the oxygen supply. 2. Teach children that they may absolutely not play with the knobs on your gas stove. 3. Keep bite-size toys and other small objects away from your little one. 4. Do not leave a small child unattended in the tub even for a minute. 5. Never leave the motor running in your car once you've put it in the garage.

Parents Of New Inductees Are Targets For Fraud

Graduation season has increased the number of letters to high school seniors, soliciting recruitment in the Armed Forces. Certainly there is no objection to their being advised of the many advantages a military career offers those who enlist. But quite a number will go into uniform through selective service induction, and the parents of these are considered fair game by a few out-of-state insurance firms, seeking insurance sales by subterfuge.

Parents, be on your guard against mail efforts to sell insurance on newly inducted servicemen. Should you receive an unsolicited life insurance policy—with a bill covering premium — check before you accept it.

The pattern in this field appears to be getting names and addresses of newly-inducted youths, then writing their parents an intimation that the enclosed life insurance policy has government approval or sponsorship.

During World War I and through the Korean campaign, Uncle Sam himself wrote insurance for those in the service. Since then, readjustment of military pay and allowances brought discontinuance of new Government Life Insurance policies. At every post and station, an insurance officer will inform any inquiring service man as to the status of any insurance company, quoting from standard rating records. They make no recommendations for any particular company.

Despite what the letter accompanying the policy—and premium bill—might intimate, Uncle Sam sponsors no program for any insurance firm.

Attorney General Mosk has warned that publication and distribution of advertising soliciting insurance applications for firms not licensed in California is unlawful, and subject to criminal action.

Unfortunately, California's stringent laws to protect its citizens from fraudulent, undercaptialized or otherwise unsound insurance firms has a limitation. The State of California has no jurisdiction over such promotion going through the mail. Offers of such policies to parents or guardians of new inductees come through the mail.

There are many insurance companies licensed to operate in California, with thousands of reliable agents and brokers.

Before you pay the premium bill, do a little checking. Ask the lad in uniform if he asked that the policy be sent you. Have him check further with his unit's insurance officer. Take the matter up with your own insurance agent or broker. Should the issuers of the unsolicited policy start writing forceful letters — refer the whole matter to the State Insurance Department, 1407 Market Street, San Francisco.

Scranton Maneuver Is Just Another Twist In GOP's Tangled Ball Of Yarn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania has definitely stated to the country that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination —it is just one more twist in an already unforgettable campaign.

AND IF THE PUBLIC is now no less confused after Scranton's action, the prime movers in the Republican party—Scranton not excluded —will have to share the blame.

For while Sen. Barry Goldwater was emerging as the GOP's only aggressive leader, they were looking more like caretakers than captains. They were sitting back, doing nothing, saying nothing now that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only top Republican willing to stick his neck out against Goldwater, seemed at the end of the line although he says he is still in the running.

While Goldwater and Rockefeller were slugging it out in the primaries, there was always the fine chance the two would knock each other out of all consideration before the Republican nominating convention in July. That would leave the field wide open to those would-be presidents who said they'd accept the nomination but would not fight for it.

AFTER GOLDWATER'S California primary victory all but sewed up the nomination for him, they began to wring their hands.

They showed concern for the nation and the party but never enough to really do anything about it.

Former President Eisenhower was also concerned but didn't show any more leadership than the others.

He didn't hide his reservations about some aspects of Goldwater's conservative philosophy but, as he put it, he wants to be in a position to pick up the pieces after the convention and help unite the party behind its nominee.

He had said he wouldn't interfere in the selection of a candidate but before the Governors' Conference opened in Cleveland he called Scranton and nudged him toward some activity.

OF ALL THE Republican leaders, Scranton put on the most indecisive and confusing performance.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said he'd do everything in his power to stop Goldwater but when former Vice President Richard M. Nixon suggested that Romney actively seek the nomination in opposition to Goldwater, Romney wouldn't.

NIXON, who would like the nomination, but says he isn't a candidate, explained that in urging Romney to oppose Goldwater he wasn't really trying to start a stop-Goldwater move although it might have that effect.

There was always the chance of course, that if Romney and Goldwater fight each other until the convention got deadlocked on them, Nixon might have a chance, perhaps his best and only chance, to be picked finally as a compromise candidate.

Nixon said Scranton would be a good vice-presidential running mate for Goldwater, a view which, if it caught on, might erase Scranton from the convention's mind as a presidential candidate.

Scranton repaid the compliment by suggesting that Nixon, who had been vice president eight years under Eisenhower, would be just the man to run for the vice presidency again.

If all this adds up to some kind of political chaos, that is what it was. Goldwater? All he had to do was sit back and watch the spectacle.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bagley Appraiser Bill Given A Bow

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With reference to your editorial endorsement of Assemblyman Bagley's proposal to place inheritance tax appraisers under civil service, I feel that those of your readers who will someday die and leave an inheritance should, before their demise, become more familiar with those who will be perched on the railing of the court which probates his estate.

First let me say that Mr. Bagley is correct in his concern for saving California's widows an estimated one million dollars a year; he is also correct in trying to remove the pork barrel aspect. . . .

Why start with the appraisers? Or, if Mr. Bagley's measure becomes a law, why stop with the appraisers? Why not subject probate attorneys and accountants, doctors and undertakers, even the cemeteries? We can exclude the clergy, as their work is the only gratis work performed in the whole solemn affair—and the nicest.

Your statement that inheritance tax appraisal is not considered terribly difficult work is a bit off base.

To reduce the proof of this to an accepted exact science which the state's widows can understand, ask the next 1,000 people you meet if any are equipped and experienced enough to appraise your estate for your widow, and make it stick in a probate court. You might be fortunate enough to run into the dozen we have in this county. . . .

Appraisal work is a profession and not to be bartered for. Hiring the cheapest appraiser available can be compared to hiring a medical student for a brain operation, because he would work for less money.

Why does the law require a judge to obtain one or more appraisals by appraisers, instead of entrusting the job to an experienced probate attorney? The answer is too obvious to mention.

Many government agencies, such as the Division of Highways and the various redevelopment agencies, employ full-time appraisers in the public acquisition of real estate, but these agencies obtain one or more separate (fee) appraisals at the first sign of controversy.

The American Institute of Real Estate appraisers—and its California chapter—is as august and ethical a body as the State Bar. I feel sure that, with the right approach, the legislature could convince the AIREA to handle probate appraisals by qualified . . . members, in much the same method that the legal profession provides attorneys through the legal aid societies, and at reasonable fees.

I also feel sure that the quality of this method of appraisal would far surpass anything the state could hire at $6,000 to $8,000 in Class 29A on the civil service rolls. . . .

The only reference to civil service in Mr. Bagley's proposal (A. B. 127) is a one-sentence referral. I quote: "Section 18595 of Government Code. On and after the effective date of this section, the provisions of Article XXIV of the State Constitution and of this part shall apply to, and the term "State Civil Service" shall include, the persons appointed by the Controller as inheritance tax appraisers."

Now I ask you, if the controller is still going to appoint the appraisers, albeit to the sacred civil service roll, in the odoriferous matter at hand, where is the remedy? . . .

Why turn California's widows over to the caprices of unexamined political plum pickers enjoying the powerful protection of civil service tenure? The fealty and homage to Lord Cranston, or Lord whoever, will not be destroyed. By virtue of civil service tenure, it will on the contrary be perpetuated! . . .

I'll close my letter like you closed your editorial, by commending Mr. Bagley's thought and effort. . . . However, neither you, I, nor Mr. Bagley is naive enough to believe that putting any of the professions under civil service will stop soliciting or acceptance of campaign contributions. No one can travel far on a spur track—let's get on the main track before proceeding!

Redwood High Students Thank I-J

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the close of another school year, the staffs of the Redwood Bark and the Redwood Student News Bureau would like to thank you once again for publishing many of the news stories and features that we have sent you from September to June.

We know that the additional practice we get from writing stories to send to the Independent-Journal and the county weeklies has played a big part in helping us to produce a better high school newspaper and we feel that this additional writing opportunity has bearing in our having won so many awards. The News Bureau simply gives us many more writing opportunities.

We always like to see our stories in print but we feel that for a newspaper with a circulation of 35,000, you have been particularly generous with bylines to us students. Thanks now for every one of them.

Our editors and news bureau directors for next year are already making plans for the 1964-65 school year and we look forward to continued pleasant association with the I-J.

Incidentally, we think your initiation of the American Newspaper Publishers Association most valuable staffer award to Marin County school newspapers a wonderful innovation and a real incentive to young journalists.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

4,000 MILES AN HOUR BY PLANE

A supersonic airplane that can make an almost vertical take-off and speed along at more than 4,000 miles an hour may be a common means of travel in another decade or so.

According to Dr. S. G. Hooker, technical director of Bristol Siddeley Engines, Ltd., the engine for this new manned aircraft has already been flight tested.

He said that it was designed for passenger transport as well as defense, and "may look like science fiction today, but will become a reality of tomorrow."

He predicts that the present 2,000 m.p.h. speed and 100,000 feet altitude are only a beginning.

Science is making phenomenal strides in hurrying man at breathtaking speed to every corner of the earth and into the far reaches of outer space.

But much remains to be done to match the daring enterprise we show in behalf of physical achievements with a determined resourcefulness in the even more meaningful realm of the heart, mind and soul.

"The Father of glory . . . grant you the spirit of wisdom." (Ephesians 1:17)

Grant, O Lord, that we pay as much attention to the spiritual betterment of man as we do to material advance.

SACRAMENTO REPORT

'Wipe The Slate Clean' Proposal Is Harmful To Right To Know

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Growing trends toward secrecy in all forms of government bring up some far-flung questions of just how much protection people can expect in their private lives.

The latest move to cover up the activities of people embroiled with the law is the consideration of a law which would provide for expunging all records of an arrest and trial if a defendant were acquitted, a matter heard recently before an assembly committee.

ON THE FACE of it, this appears to be a somewhat reasonable request but further consideration of such a law reveals it would, in fact, hamper and destroy the very right of the people of the state to know facts about the operation of their judicial system.

Should a law like this be adopted, probably the next step would be to seek confidential trials. wherein the public and the press would be excluded. Such a trend would seriously hamper the operation of justice as well as deprive the democracy of ensuring the open conduct of its affairs.

THE THEORY of the suggested law is that when a defendant is acquitted, the matter of his arrest and trial is a closed book, and should not be presented as a matter of record to the public. However, no matter whether the record is expunged or not, the fact still remains that the defendant once was acquitted of a crime.

And in most instances, it is reasonably difficult to ignore facts, although this is being done more and more as officialdom presses toward secrecy.

The law would work an exceptional hardship upon newspapers and other means of public communication, along with depriving the public of information to which it is entitled in the course of keeping track of the daily events of the democracy.

UNDER THE LAW, no record at all would be available in the event a libel suit cropped up, nor would there be any record in instances of continued arrests and acquittals. As Ben Martin, general manager of California Newspaper Publishers Association aptly put it:

"The problem would be for a newspaper to defend itself for carrying a story about an arrest and trial, if after an acquittal, there was no record of there ever having been such an arrest and trial."

Fundamentally, additional tampering with laws forcing secrecy into a democratic government merely point the way to procedures which eventually could change the entire form of government.

China Discovers Cold Facts Of Real Progress

By G. A. BARKER

MAO'S MOST cherished dream has been to make China a great industrial nation. This was the avowed purpose of the "Great Leap Forward." "Overtake Engiand by 1970" was one of the most loudly parrotted slogans in 1958 when the great leap was underway.

Today the slogan is no longer heard. After the agricultural crisis in 1960 and 1961, the Red planners had to revamp their idea. They learned the hard way that farming cannot be sacrificed to heavy industry. Today the slogan is "Walk On Two Legs"—meaning there must be a balance between agriculture and industry. Now industry must help serve agriculture.

THIS HAS MEANT the forced return to the farm of thousands of Chinese workers. These youths who had enthusiasticaly taken to city life did not particularly care to go back to the tough life, working knee-deep in night-soil and the even tighter regimintation. To paraphrase the old World War I song, "How you gonna keep 'em happy down on the commune after they've seen Peking?" Or Shanghai? Or Canton? This forced return to the farm is believed to be one of the major factors behind the mass exodus to Hong Kong in May of 1962.

Despite her agricultural failures and her cutbacks in her goals in heavy industry, it would be foolish to underestimate China's industrial progress. The four weak links in her industrial system have been greatly strengthened. These are petroleum, timber, chemical fertilizer and special steels.

CHINA HAS quite literally struck oil and now claims to be 80 per cent self sufficient in this field. She has recently ordered several chemical fertilizer plants from Holland and England. She is getting more timber than before, while at the same time carrying on an extensive reforestation program. And her steelmakers have abandoned the "backyard furnace" idea and her techniques of steel making are advancing. So progress is being made in industury, but no longer at the expense of agriculture.

China and Russia signed a trade agreement on May 13. It is interesting for what it does not contain, as for what it does. No grain is involved. Neither side can spare any. Both countries are buying wheat abroad. China will get tractors and trucks, airliners and timber, machine tools and petroleum products. In the main the Soviets will receive farm products, like canned or frozen pork and mutton, apples, oranges, egg products, and silk and woolen fabrics and clothing. It can be seen that China continues to tighten her collective belt for the sake of pushing forward.

HONG KONG buys many of China's agricultural products. Taiwan pork competes with pork from the Mainland in Hong Kong shops. And most of Hong Kong's fruits and vegetables are grown in the nearby Chinese province of Kwangtung. The China Products Company is one of Hong Kong's leading department stores and a good source of currency for Peking. So are the tens of thousands of Chinese who work in Hong Kong and send money to their families in China.

All this, together with the establishment of new industries producing synthetic fibers, plastics, fatty acids, transistors, etc., lays the foundation for further industrial growth. And grow it must, if only to keep pace with her rapidly expanding population.

Novato's Western Weekend Great! All Northern California Invited

THE NINTH ANNUAL Western Weekend celebration starts tomorrow in Novato. This five-day event has become one of the largest, best known community celebrations in Marin. It is an event that grows larger and better each year.

Such a community-wide undertaking does not just occur or grow by itself. It takes a lot of planning and work on someone's part. In this case, the someones are the Novato Horsemen's Assn. and the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The celebration first got started when the Novato Horsemen would meet in Novato and ride out to their grounds on Bugeia Lane. Here they would hold an amateur rodeo and riding event.

THUS WERE BORN the two main events in the celebration, the parade and rodeo. Others wanted in the parade and when it became too large for the horsemen to handle, it was turned over to the chamber of commerce one year and the junior chamber of commerce.

It was when this body of energetic young men took hold of it that it started to grow into the celebration that it is today.

THE JUNIOR CHAMBER enlarged the event, and now there is a professional rodeo. These attractions have continued to grow. This year, the Horsemen's Assn. is holding the rodeo on both Saturday and Sunday. It has enlarged the seating in the arena until it has a capacity of 3,000 for each performance.

THE COST OF RUNNING a parade of the size of that of Western Weekend soon would have exhausted the means of the junior chamber, except that they received financial help from the City of Novato and Marin County.

Even this does not cover the expenses and the junior chamber now has other means and events in the celebration to help raise the funds needed for such an undertaking.

Even with all this other income, the Western Weekend celebration is kept a nonprofit undertaking by the Jaycees. Any money that is made on the celebration is turned back into making it a better event the next year.

The community spirit of the event spread to other organizations and clubs in the city. They undertook to handle some of the concessions and booths at the carnival. This was a surprisingly profitable undertaking for these organizations. Thus, the money usually made from such a celebration was kept in the charitable organizations in the area.

THAT WAS THE MASTER stroke that brought the event into community-wide esteem. Now, all of the organizations in the city have their part of Western Weekend. More than anything else, the five-day celebration draws the citizens of the community together.

Events which are new to the celebration this year include a cross-country race, a donkey race, a night outdoor dance Saturday night, a square dance Sunday evening, and a two-day water skiing tournament at Mira Monte Marina.

Those who have attended past Western Weekend celebrations will not be disappointed because all of the old features of the past have been kept. It is larger and better this year.

This is the weekend of the year when Marin County's fastest-growing and second city in size extends the welcome mat to all of Northern California to come and enjoy the fun with it. This is the time when Novato plays host to anyone wanting fun and an enjoyable weekend.

Today is Tuesday, June 16, the 168th day of 1964 with 198 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1838, Former President John Quincy Adams began his three-week speech in the House against the annexation of Texas.

In 1916, the Democratic convention at St. Louis, Mo., voted to renominate President Woodrow Wilson for a second term.

In 1932, President Herbert Hoover was renominated for a second term by delegates of the Republican convention.

In 1955, widespread riots broke out in Argentina as the navy tried to oust dictator Juan Peron.

A thought for the day—Geoffrey Chaucer once said: "Sometimes it is art to seem to flee the thing which, in effect, one is pursuing."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Leading Right Suit Might Look Dangerous To Player

The trouble with medicine today is that it tastes too good. When I was a boy, I had to swallow cough medicine that would give a stone statue the collywobbles.

It may not have cured my coughs, but it gave me the fortitude to become a good bridge player.

Opening lead — ♡ K

When this hand was played in a recent rubber bridge game, West was a young man who had never lacked for anything. He took the king of hearts and made a face. He didn't like the dummy.

LED TRUMPS

Finally, West led a diamond.

Clearly, that did the defense no good at all. South won with the king of diamonds, drew trumps, and discarded his clubs on dummy's good diamonds.

South made his contract with two overtricks, and East made a very rude noise. He was unhappy about losing three club tricks, and East was a man who let the world know when he was unhappy.

CONVERSATION

"Why didn't you lead a club instead of a diamond?" East asked.

"How could I lead away from the king-jack?" West countered. "It was too dangerous."

"Too dangerous!" East snorted. "I suppose it was safe to lead diamonds."

We can leave the conversation at this stage because we know just how it will end. Each player will say a few bright things, while the opponents beam cheerfully. Then East and West will go on and try to show each other up, losing a huge rubber in the process.

DANGEROUS

All because West didn't have the strength of character to lead away from a dangerous holding in clubs. Dangerous or not, West must lead a club and hope that his partner will supply either the ace of clubs or the queen of clubs and the king of diamonds.

If East has nothing in clubs, the contract is not going to be defeated. West must nerve himself to lead a club just as though he were taking an unpleasant dose of medicine.

If all goes well, he will defeat the contract. Even if the contract cannot be defeated, it will be good for West's soul to nerve himself to do a dangerous thing.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 6 3 2
♥ 8
♦ A Q J 7 5
♣ 6 5 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades.

The response is the same, regardless of whether or not there is an intervening bid.

CITATION
No. 38729

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Marin.

Adoption of BABY GIRL HOWARD, a minor.

TO BARBARA A. HOWARD:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Honorable Court a verified petition showing that the above-named minor child, BABY GIRL HOWARD, is within the County of Marin, State of California and is a person coming within the provisions of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the State of California, said petition prays for an Order of this Court determining said BABY GIRL HOWARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, of Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of California, and within the meaning of Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California;

NOW, THEREFORE, you are hereby cited and directed to appear before this Honorable Court on the 29th day of June, 1964, at the hour of 9:30 o'clock A.M., at the Court House, City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why an Order should not be made by this Court adjudging and determining said BABY GIRL HOWARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of California, and within the meaning of Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California, judicially depriving you of any further right or interest in the custody or control of said BABY GIRL HOWARD.

BY ORDER OF THIS COURT
DATED: May 28, 1964
Attest my hand and the seal of this Court, the day and year last above written.

Artist Is Holding First One-Man Show

Artist Phyllis Germaine of San Francisco is holding her first one-man show in Marin County this month and next. Her works are on display at the Crocker-Citizens Bank branches in Tiburon and Mill Valley.

She is a member of the Society of Western Artists and Pacifica Art Assn. Her works also are showing at the Skelton Galleries in San Francisco.

In Assault

Dale E. Painter, Navy sonarman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Painter of 255 Canal Street, San Rafael, participated aboard the destroyer Maddox in a combined sea-assault and airborne combat training exercise, under direction of the South-East Asia Treaty Organization in the Philippines.

Seaman Promoted

Richard G. Kircher, Navy yeoman seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kircher of 21 Solar Court, San Rafael, was recently promoted while serving with Navy Mobile Construction Battalion 10 on Guam.

Golden carp, over a foot long, colored brilliantly in shades of gold, yellow, orange with black and white, are a recent gift to Steinhart Aquarium from Ginzaburo Naoi, one of Japan's foremost fish breeders.

Contractors Seeking Licenses From State

The Contractors' State License Board in Sacramento today announced intention to issue general contractors' licenses to three Marin contractors on or after July 2, unless written protest is filed.

The three are: Berthold Hartmann, 18 Stewart Drive, San Rafael; Robert Wayne Sharp, 534 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, and George Hale Dray, Dray-Van Soest Construction Co., P.O. Box 453, Fairfax.

On Ocean Tug

Frederick D. Fellows, Navy fireman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Fellows of 281 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, is a crew member of the auxiliary ocean tug Tillamook operating out of Yokosuka, Japan.

San Francisco's Chorus To Sing At Dominican

Bruckner's "Mass in F Minor" will be presented by the San Francisco Municipal Chorus through the courtesy of the San Francisco Art Commission on June 26 at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

Dr. Hans Leschke will conduct. Soloists will be Ann Moore, soprano; Bernice Sprague, contralto; Kenneth Small, tenor, and Edgar Self, baritone. Wilbur Russell will accompany at the organ.

The San Francisco Municipal Chorus was organized in 1924 under direction of Dr. Leschke, who is retiring this season. It is made up of men and women from all walks of life who present master choral works without payment.

Novato Council Due Pool Rates

The Novato City Council will receive new proposed rates for use of the city swimming pool when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the community house.

At last week's council meeting, several residents protested rates proposed by the parks and recreation advisory commission of $1 for adults, 50 cents for teen-agers and 35 cents for those under 12.

The staff will recommend charges of 25 cents for those under 12 and 50 cents for all above 12.

The council will hold a closed session before the meeting to discuss appointments to two vacancies on the parks and recreation commission and the city's pending lawsuit with William F. and Irene Nave over right of way on South Novato Boulevard.

Sailor Trains

James P. Windrick, Navy electrician's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Windrick of 235 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, participated aboard the Navy destroyer Benner in a combined sea-assault and airborne combat training exercise called LIGTAS, in the Philippines.

Princeton Degree

Princeton University today was to award bachelor of arts degrees to John C. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Chambers of 7 Turnagain Road, Kentfield, and William Delano Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Sherman of 164 Oak Knoll Drive, San Anselmo.

School Districts Group To Hear Of Demise

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization will meet tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

At tonight's meeting, the session will be for the augmented committee discussing the Dixie-San Rafael area. The group will receive a report on the effect of the Unruh Education Act, which eliminates augmented committees.

According to Edwin L. Blackmore, secretary of the committee, the elimination of augmented committees would go into effect 90 days after the end of the last legislative session, but an advisory committee of members of the augmented committee could be set up.

Tomorrow's meeting will discuss the attempt to form a unified district of the Tomales Joint Union High School District by first unionizing the elementary school district in the area.

The committee tomorrow will also officially receive the results of the election June 2 on unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District area and consider action for further study or a new election.

Chamber Aids Summer Jobs

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce is aiding in the State Employment Department's campaign to find and fill summer jobs.

The chamber today requested any businessman or home owner needing summer help for office, factory of general labor tasks to call the chamber office or the state employment office.

Job orders will be processed by employment agencies belonging to the chamber at no fee, and applicants will be screened and sent to the job.

Collegiate Bay Plans Are On Display

Plans and sketches showing proposed developments for Richardson Bay are on display at Southern Marin Realty, 585 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, through mid-July.

The plans, made by graduate students in landscape architecture, College of Environmental Design, University of California, Berkeley, under Robert Royston, Mill Valley landscape architect, are located in windows of the building and may be seen during the day or until midnight when they are lighted, John David Erickson, City Planning Consultant, said.

Sausalito Expected To Protest Broemmel

A resolution is expected to be approved by the Sausalito City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting today stating that the council protests methods of County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel in his cyclical reappraisal program.

Action to initiate the resolution came following many protests to the council by property owners.

Boys Seen Taking Loot From School

Three Novato boys, ages 7, 8, and 10, paid a vacation visit to school yesterday but took some property and not knowledge with them, Novato police reported yesterday.

The boys were seen leaving the Olive School about 5:15 p.m., by Mrs. Shirley May Young, 37, a teacher at the school who lives in Petaluma.

Novato police recovered several items of jewelry and other items taken from the box of unclaimed property in the principal's office. The boys told police that they had entered the office by crawling through an unlocked window.

Lack Of Quorum

There was no meeting of the Marinwood Fire Commission last night because of lack of a quorum.

Art Show Lists Panel Of Judges

A five-member jury of non-professionals, selected for their varied interests and knowledge, will judge the Marin Society of Artists' patrons' choice show Saturday at the Frances Young Gallery, Marin Art and Garden Center. The show opens July 1, first day of the Art and Garden Fair.

Members of the jury are Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo; Mrs. Roger Kent, an art commissioner; Ralph B. Priestly, architect; Don Keown, Independent - Journal magazine editor, and Peter H. Behr, Marin County supervisor.

Entries include paintings, sculpture, graphics and crafts. The show will continue through July.

Lagunitas School Budget On Agenda

Lagunitas School District trustees will consider a tentative budget for 1964-65 at 8 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

The tentative budget previously has been estimated at $205,301. The current budget is $184,056.

The trustees will hear a report that enrollment increased to 429 this month, and average daily attendance to 418. Also on the agenda are a report on summer school registration, and discussion of the initiative to repeal the Rumford Act.

Trial Scheduled In Salary Case

Vivian LaVonne Metcalf, 42, operator of Fairhaven Christian Science Rest Home, 1373 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday for trial on a charge of five counts of failure to pay salaries.

Mrs. Metcalf, of 3 Marinita Avenue, San Rafael, allegedly failed to pay salaries to five women during various periods during 1963.

Fairfax Area Clusters Given County Approval

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday voted unanimously to recommend zoning allowing cluster development in land west of Oak Manor, Fairfax, with an average amount of liand per house to be at least 20,000 square feet.

An area fronting on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was excluded from the rezoning, and was designated planned residential, thereby allowing apartment development.

The revised request by owner Mildred Simon was for 200 units on the land, not counting the apartment area, which had, in fact, been offered as a gift to the Fairfax School District, but turned down.

Architect D. Hugh Gregory Coleman said he felt 200 houses would be the minimum economically feasible for the 82 acres, to be called Oak Manor Highlands. He asked for zoning which would allow one house for every 10,000 square feet.

Principal Planner David Van Pelt said many of the houses shown on the revised plan would be impossible to build because of terrain. He said the proposed streets would require long stretches of 15 to 20 per cent grade, some places even steeper.

In addition, Van Pelt complained, the upper part of the development, when built, would dump traffic onto the steepest part of Oak Manor Drive.

Daniel M. Miller, chairman of the Fairfax Planning Commission, said the city was opposed to any more apartments for the area.

Van Pelt said the 10,000 square foot average lot size with clusters allowed would set a precedent for the entire valley east to White's Hill, allowing construction of 5,000 homes.

A letter was read from the Fairfax District School Board approving the plans for 200 homes on the property. The board had opposed the original plans, which included multiple units, on the grounds the number of children would overtax school facilities.

Honor Graduate

Peter Fred Stokely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stokely of 45 Marinita Avenue, San Rafael, has been graduated with honors from University of California at Riverside. He received the bachelor of arts degree with a major in chemistry.

New Scooter Throws Rider In San Anselmo

A 16-year-old Tamalpais High School student suffered chin cuts and facial scratches Saturday when his new motorscooter went out of control on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Anselmo.

Michael C. Thomsett of 337 East Blithedale Terrace, Mill Valley, told California Highway Patrol officers that he was driving toward the Hub about 6 p.m. when the scooter's front wheel began to wobble. He fell off as the cycle swerved. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Decisions Handed Down By The Supreme Court

The following are decisions handed down yesterday by the U. S. Supreme Court.

1. Reversed the narcotics conviction of Nick Alford Aguilar of Houston, Tex., because the search warrant leading to his arrest was not supported by a proper affidavit. The court split 6 to 3 on the case, with Justice Arthur J. Goldberg speaking for the majority. The issue in the case centered on the constitutional requirements for obtaining a state search warrant.

Goldberg said an affidavit supporting an application for a search warrant may be based on hearsay information and need not reflect the direct personal observations of the one who gives it.

2. Agreed today to consider a challenge on grounds of racial discrimination to Louisiana's anti-subversive laws, which are said to cloak harassment of the civil rights movement. The court will hear the case some time next fall or winter and decide it later by written opinion.

The controversy stemmed from the arrest of three men during an interracial conference of New Orleans attorneys sponsored by the national lawyers guild. The warrants charged violations of the anti-subversive laws.

3. Decided today that Tennessee may impose its use tax on government property used by two private companies in operation of Oak Ridge plants of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Tennessee sought to impose the 3 per cent use tax on Union Carbide Corp. and the H. K. Ferguson Co. which operate under contracts with the Atomic Energy Commission.

4. Announced today it will adjourn for the term next Monday "unless otherwise ordered." The justices still have sit-in cases and other important decisions to hand down.

Bridge Meetings

Two committees of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Board will meet June 24. The Finance Committee will meet at 10 a.m. and the Building and Operating Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m., both at the bridge toll plaza.

More Troubles For Checks Suspect

A new bad check charge has been filed against George William Stewart, 37, of San Francisco, who was booked in county jail Thursday by Fairfax police for non-support and passing two bad checks totaling $100.

He was charged Saturday by San Anselmo police of passing a $3,324.80 check on a bank in which he had no account to a San Anselmo used car dealer in payment for a 1961-model vehicle.

Stewart's bail, which was set at $3,300 Thursday has been raised to $9,350, according to San Anselmo Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio.

Brothers Ask Trials On Morals Charges

Innocent pleas by two brothers to charges of statutory rape were entered yesterday in Marin Superior Court. Date for setting of separate trials was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Charged are Harold Dean Arrasmith, 23, of 1679 Hill Avenue, Novato, and Ronald Gene Arrasmith, 18, of Boyes Hot Springs, Sonoma, County. They were allegedly involved with the same 13-year-old Novato girl.

Something doing all the time and fun for everyone is the aim of this year's Ninth Western Weekend Celebration in Novato which starts tomorrow.

The activities start with the carnival and booths at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, both tomorrow and Thursday.

The main events of the Western Weekend celebration start at 8 p.m. Friday at the Community House when the Queen and her two Princesses will be chosen from a field of 15 contestants.

At the same time the men will get into the act with the judging of the Beard Contest.

In addition to other entertainment that night the Community Club will present its annual melodrama, "And the Villian Still Pursued Her."

SATURDAY

All day Saturday the events are piled one on top of another. The day starts at 7 a.m. with a Buckaroo Breakfast at Lee Brothers parking lot. The events of the all-day ski tournament at Mira Monte Marina start at 8:30 in the morning.

The cross country race starts at 9:30 at the Main Fire Station on Grant Avenue. This event no more than gets under way when another race takes place at the Patterson Ranch — a donkey race.

Then the parade, expected to draw a crowd of 20,000 will go up Grant Avenue, starting at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at 11 a.m.

Immediately after the parade, Nick Kobseff's famous barbecue will be held at the Patterson Ranch.

Not to be left out of the fun, the Novato Firemen will be hosts to the annual Water Ball Fight in the Marion School grounds.

The first of two rodeos will be held at the Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane at 5:30, following the awarding of the prizes in the parade at the Patterson Ranch.

Climax of the day comes with an outdoor dance at 9 p.m. in the parking lot of Cloud 5 Restaurant on First Street and Grant Avenue.

SUNDAY

Sunday's activities start with the second rodeo at 1 p.m. in the Horsemen's Assn. arena. During intermission, the beef drawing will be held.

The second day of the water ski tournament will feature events all day long at the Mira Monte Marina, climaxed with the jumping in the afternoon.

An old fashioned square dance will be held from 4:30 to 8 p.m. at the Marion School grounds.

The final event of the celebration is the Pony Give Away at 8 p.m. at the Patterson Ranch.

Rodeo Arena All Spruced Up For Show

Those attending the rodeo at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. arena this year will be surprised at the changes in the seating.

The association has torn out many of the old bleachers and added new ones to make it a complete circle around the arena. These new and better bleachers have added approximately 400 seats to the capacity of the arena, said Joseph Wright, publicity chairman. The arena now has a capacity of 3,000, he said.

Members of the committee which have worked to make this two day rodeo the best in the history of the rodeos of the Horsemen's Assn. are: Neil Cullins, chairman; Ad Schwindt co-chairman; tickets, Paul Hanson; publicity, Wright; traffic and parking, Ted Lusher and Buck Azevedo; livestock and trailer parking, Orville Peterson; arena, Millard Wallace; secretary, Mrs. Clarie Thomas and color guard, Paula Hansen.

Water Balloons Ruled Out For Western Weekend

Novato police will not tolerate throwing of water balloons during Western Weekend this year, Police Chief Robert Di Grazia declared today.

"We had so much trouble last year with water balloons that we are serving notice that anyone, regardless of age, caught throwing one will be arrested," the chief said.

He said many people in the crowd watching the parade last year left early because they were being pelted with water-filled balloons.

"One girl in the parade had her ear drum broken by one last year, and that is going to stop," he said.

"If they throw the balloons at anyone, they can be charged with assault. If they throw them at a car, they can be charged with tampering with a vehicle. If they throw them from a car, they can be charged with littering."

Patio Pointers

Enclosing a patio with roofing and screening can make it more private and impervious to insects. Simple furniture, soft lights and a few large plants make a patio an ideal place for late dining or TV-viewing.

OVER THE TOW-ROPE — United States Champion Dale St. John goes over the tow-rope in a difficult turn around. He will be the chief judge of at the Second Annual Western Experts Water Ski Championships at the Mira Monte Marina. This tournament is being held in conjunction with the Western Weekend Celebration in Novato. St. John is coming from Fall River Mills to judge the competition.

Water Ski Event Will Make Debut

For those attending Western Weekend who want a cool diversion, a new attraction has been added in a water ski tournament Saturday and Sunday at the Mira Monte Marina.

The Second Annual Western Experts Water Ski Championships, sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn., will be held all of both days at the Master's Water Ski School, Mira Monte Marina, northeast of the Marin County Airport on Highway 101.

The events in this tournament will take place both in the morning and afternoon of each day. These are slalom, tricks, and jumping for Junior boys and girls and senior men and women.

Among those entered in the competition is Jerry Welch, 18, a permanent instructor at the school. He was United States Men's Overall Champion last year. He was also Mexican Champion and Hawaiian Champion last year.

Champion Dale St. John will be the chief judge of the tournament. He will be assisted by Carl Boivie. Wally Pallack is the official boat driver for the competitions, according to Bee Wineman, director of the school.

Many Groups To Share In Weekend Activities

For the second straight year, the Western Weekend Celebration takes on more of a community atmosphere as various organizations sponsor and run the many booths at the carnival grounds on the Patterson Ranch.

This was tried by the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce last year in an effort to aid the various organizations and make the celebration more of a community-wide affair. It proved so successful that it is being done again this year.

The organizations and booths are: Novato Guild Sunny Hills, "Duck Pond"; Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, "Row Down"; Lions Club, "Dart Balloons"; Beta Sigma Phi, hot dogs and corn-on-the-cob stand; Novato Community Ambassadors, "Hi-Striker"; Petaluma Radio, hamburger stand; Moose Lodge, "Milk Cans"; Villa Anita "Hi-Lo Dart"; Kiwanis Club, beer booth; Tars, "One Ball"; Rotary Club, "Bowl Pitch"; Pop Warner Novato Hornets, "Bear Pitch"; Novato Squares, "Dime Toss"; Black Point Improvement Club, "Add'en Pan"; Young Republicans, "Cork Shoot"; NOLA (Novato Oak Lodge Auxiliary) "Tic-Tac-Toe"; Foot Printers, "Cat Throw"; De Molay, "Coke Toss"; and Injectors of Marin, "Dump Tank."

Judge Obliges Worried Inmate

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — "Thirty days," said Circuit Court Judge John J. Sullivan Jr. to Michael Gurn, 78, who had pleaded guilty to intoxication.

"Just a minute, your honor," said Gurn. "I don't feel good and I can't walk. I'd like to ask for 60."

The startled judge agreed to revise the sentence.

Not That Efficient

LAGRANGE, Ky. (AP)—Farmer H. H. McWilliams let the South Oldham County Voulenteer Fire Department get some practice while he burned down an old barn on a site he planned to build a new one. But he had to calm the enthusiasm of some rookies because two or three times they almost put out the fire.

Minstrel Man Turns Stork Assistant

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Patients and attendants at a Cody hospital were a little astonished when Dr. DeWitt Dominick rushed in to deliver a baby.

Dr. Dominick was on stage at the Cody Rotary Club minstrel show when the emergency call came from the hospital. He didn't bother to remove his blackface makeup before rushing to the hospital.

Nigerian Data To Be Buried At World Fair

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Mental health data and sports statistics from Nigeria will be among material buried in a time capsule at the New York World's Fair.

A. A. Ordia, chairman of this West African nation's sports council, and Dr. T. A. Lambo, a leading Nigerian psychiatrist, helped compile the information to be placed in Westinghouse Corporation's time capsule scheduled for opening in the year 6939, a company statement said.

Aging Thor Missiles Get New Grip On Life

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP) — Thor missiles, 60 of which were stationed in Great Britain as a stopgap measure until the United States developed intercontinental range rockets, are being converted for use as space boosters.

The 1,500-mile-range Thors were removed from Britain in 1963 and are being altered at the Douglas Aircraft Co. plant in Tulsa, Okla. The Air Force is using the re-worked rockets for several space probes.

Queen Contest Judge Has Tough Job; 15 Beauties Vie

The queen and two princesses of Novato's Ninth Annual Western Weekend Celebration will be chosen and, crowned in ceremonies at 8 p.m. Friday in the Community House.

Judges this year must make their selection from a field of 15 entries who will make their appearances only in bathing suits. Judging will be 50 per cent beauty, 25 per cent poise and 25 per cent personality.

The queen and her two princesses will ride in the parade Saturday morning and reign over the events of the celebration.

In addition, they will receive many gifts from local merchants.

Those entered in the contest are: Jeanie Bergala, 18, of 1025 Fifth Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Nita Bergala, 17, of 1025 Fifth Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Shirley Ann Bradley, 19, 502 Norman Drive, Novato, a graduate of San Rafael High School; Shirley Bowles, 16, of 2 Tyler Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Sharon Bradshaw, 18, of 330 Grandview Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Roberta Chamberland, 17, of 45 Rudnick, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Terry Del Zotto, 18, of 846 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School; Kathy Faulkner, 16, of 707 Bradley Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Victoria Hoffman, 16, of 764 Kendon Lane, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Clarise Kinyon, 16, of 126 H Lane, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Kathi McDonough, 16, of 2068 Carolyn Way, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Carolyn Rowell, 18, of 1523 Buchanan Street, Novato;

Vickie Thomas, 16, of 585 Midway Boulevard, Novato, a student at Terra Linda High School; Dorothy Wigner, 18, of 760 Diablo Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School and Linda Heape, 17, of 1563 Buchanan Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School.

Peggy McFarland, last year's queen of Western Weekend, will greet the contestants. At all times, the girls will be chaperoned by Mrs. Karl Johnson and Mrs. Charles Marquardt of the Novato Jaycettes. Mrs. Paul Fry is chairman of the queen contest.

Hugh Turner of KTIM will be the master of ceremonies for the contest.

Water Bill Too High?

Does your water bill seem too high? Turn off all the water faucets both inside and outside the house. Then look at the water meter. If the "one cubic foot" or "10 gallon" indicator is moving, there is a leak somewhere.

Country Into Liquor Business

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria has formally opened its first liquor distillery in association with N. V. Erven Lucas Bols of Amsterdam.

Nigerian Fermentation Industries Ltd., 40 per cent government-owned, has started producing gin, blended whisky and other products in a new plant here managed by the Dutch firm.

A government spokesman said the distillery aims to reduce liquor imports and help curb production and smuggling of illicit gin.

WHOA THERE, HORSE

Bareback riding is the most dangerous of rodeo events except the bull riding event. The trick of the event is to stay on the horse for the required length of time. The danger lies in injury from the flailing hooves of the horse after the rider has been thrown. This rider was doing a good job of sticking onto his horse last year at the rodeo at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. arena, but a few seconds later, he too was thrown.

That's How It Goes In Army

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An Army reservist who doesn't want his name known attests to the following sequence.

His unit commander received a directive to initial any erasure on an official paper. A second order countermanded this but a third directive reinstated the initialing of erasures.

Then an official document, with an erasure and the proper initials, bounced back with this directive: "Erase the initials and initial the erasure."

Carnivorous plants survive in acid-rich bogs because they overcome the nitrogen deficiency by eating insects.

Beauties And Beards Will Share Stage At Same Time

Beards will share the spotlight with the beauties Friday night when the beard contest is judged at the same time as the queen is selected for the Ninth Annual Western Weekend Celebration sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

So far 39 men have officially entered the contest, but there are many more beards than that in evidence in Novato, so by contest time, that number may be much larger, said Charles Marquardt, chairman of the Beard contest.

Judging of the beards will be done in two phases. The preliminary or elimination judging will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the parking lot of the Community House.

Finalists in this contest then will be judged on the stage of the community house during the ceremonies of selecting the queen and two princesses.

Judging of beards will be in seven catagories. These are: full beard, Van Dyke, Abe Lincoln, mutton chops, novelty, longest beard and best of show.

The judges of the beard contest will be professional hair trimmers.

Never The Twain

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Somebody got their directions mixed in drafting a subpoena for a "Larry C. West." When deputies tried to serve the subpoena at the address listed, they were informed that, "This is the residence of Larry East." A hurried trip back to the courthouse corrected the situation. East was wanted as a witness in a damage suit.

LOOK OUT FOR INDIANS

Gun-totin', bearded cowboys will be the order of the day during Novato's Western Weekend Celebration which starts tomorrow. Peggy McFarland, last year's queen, examines the arrow piercing the hat of Lyle Adin of 830 Hayden Drive, Novato. Adin hopes to take a trophy for his full beard in the Beard Contest.

Think You Are Going To Fire?

LEITCHWIELD, Ky. (AP)—The Litchfield Fire Department ran into costly delays in extinguishing a blaze in an auto.

Firemen figured they could drive out the Western Kentucky Parkway, stretch a hose over a fence and save the burning car, which was on a county road parallel to the turnpike.

They did, But, Chief Carl Collard said, it cost them $5.20 in tolls, going and coming.

Carnival Is Always Tops With Kiddies

If one were to ask the kids, what was the best part of Western Weekend, the answer undoubtedly would be the carnival.

For five days, starting tomorrow, the carnival is the big attraction to the small fry as its rides whirl around on the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

For the third year in a row, Carnival Time Shows has been selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to have the spotlight.

This year, the carnival has added three new rides which were not in the celebration last year. These are The Scrambler, Octopus and Roll O' Plane.

Other standard rides which the youngsters enjoyed are the Rock O' Plane, Merry-Go-Round, Ferris Wheel, Tilt-a-Whirl and Roller Coaster. Some of the other rides include a boat ride, airplane ride, buggy ride, umbrella ride and helicopter ride.

Keep The Cars Somewhere Else

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Workmen went dutifully about their job of tearing down a 12-room house to make room for a used car lot.

Almost through their task, they uncovered the framework of a one-room log cabin. The Historical Society decided it once was a stagecoach depot and later a toll house.

The workers now may get hte job of helping to preserve it.

Red Ripe Orange Found In Italy

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—First-time visitors to Sicily are often surprised when they order orange juice and get a glass of something which looks like tomato juice instead. But is isn't tomato. It's the Sanguinello blood orange Sicilians prefer above all others.

The Sanguinello looks like an ordinary orange on the outside, with only the faintest blush of red, but inside it is extra juicy, extra tasty and red as a ripe tomato.

Jaycees Sparkplug Novato Festivity

The big job of organizing, planning and seeing that the Western Weekend celebration comes off on schedule is done by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. In addition to doing the job of running many of the major events themselves, they must co-ordinate all the other groups into one smooth working organization.

These are the men who have worked hard heading their committees to get this year's celebration underway: grounds, Charles Jansen; parade, William Elverfeld; concessions and booths, Bob Comaduran; beard contest, Charles Marquardt; publicity, Bob Hax; store front decorations, Roscoe Morgan, beef raffle, Duane Stewart; rodeo concessions, George MacKinnon and queen contest, Mrs. Paul (Loretta) Fry.

Much Too Obvious

MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP) — Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when as he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it. The city then found it had no fire insurance on the fire truck.

TEAM ROPING

The calf hasn't got a chance of getting away—or has he? A team of cowboys waits as the calf breaks from the chute in the Horsemen's Arena on a dead run, trying to get away from the ropers. Occasionally the calf succeeds, but most of the time, it is a race against time. The team who succeeds in roping and tieing their calf in the shortest time, is the winner of the prize money. This year the Novato Horsemen's Assn. has doubled the prize money for the rodeo which will be held both on Saturday and Sunday.

Live Fiddlin' Set For Square Dance

Live music will be an added attraction at the square dance on the Marion Street school grounds from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Sunday night sponsored by the Novato Squares square dance club.

The "Roll Alongs," all from Marin County, will be callers and musicians.

The "Roll Alongs" are Milt Adams, Bill Owen, Gordon Collins, Dave Milano, Jack Olds, Harry Whitlock, Merle Bason and Jim Blackwell.

Double Contest Develops For Prettiest Windows

The store front contest for Western Weekend this year has developed into a contest within a contest.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering three trophies for the three best store front decorations. These will be judged tonight and the trophies awarded tomorrow.

The Novato Fair Shopping Fair Merchants conducted their own contest within this contest. They worked with the art department at Novato High School and had 20 art students paint six by eight feet murals on their windows.

The merchants furnished the paint and brushes for the students to paint their pre-planned picture on the window yesterday. The prizes in this contest for the students are a $50 savings bond, a $25 savings bond and a $10 savings account.

100 Per Cent In Favor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Asbury Place became a part of suburban Mountain Brook by a unanimous vote in an annexation election. The plebicite attracted only two voters, and both favored the attachment. Asbury Place contains a half dozen homes, but only two of the residents had lived there long enough to qualify for the election.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

The cry of "Ride 'Em Cowboy" will be heard many times Saturday and Sunday at the Novato Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane as cowboys from all over the west compete for prizes in the new Redwood Empire Rodeo Circuit rodeo in Novato. The clown in the arena is not just to make people laugh, but to assist thrown riders. The Novato Horsemen's Assn. is sponsoring the two-day rodeo.

Antiques Popular

Home decorators report an increasing interest in early American furniture. They say many young couples are looking for antiques with which to furnish their homes. It used to be that interest in antiques was shown mainly by older couples.

Free Pony Is Prize For Novato Jaycee Winner

Hey Kids! Here's your chance to get a pony free.

And if your parents won't let you have a pony, you can exchange him for a bicycle.

The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering a pony and other prizes during Western Weekend. The tickets for the drawing may be obtained from Novato merchants.

The drawing will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue. There's only one catch, the person must be there to win and must be accompanied by a parent.

The phrase "ear marked" comes from the English farmers' practice of notching the ears of their cattle to identify them permanently.

BULL RIDING

The biggest danger in bull riding is being bucked off "over the hand" as this rider is doing. His own weight will keep his clenched hand caught in the rope against the bull's back. Before he can free himself the cowboy may be whipped around under the animal or bounced on the horns.

Old-Fashioned Melodrama Friday Night

An old fashioned melodrama with weeping, wailing, gnashing of teeth and hissing the villian will all be a part of "And the Villian Still Pursued Her," presented by the Novato Community Club as part of the Western Weekend celebration.

The melodrama, produced and directed by Scott Wright, will be presented Friday night at the Community House following the Queen contest and beard judging.

The cast of characters includes Bill Hints as the father; the heroine, Emaline, Sandy Consagra; Villian, Joe Jacobs; country cousin, Vivienne Terry; maid, Mrs. Connie Craig; hero, Kenneth Craig; heroine's mother, Lena, Elaine Jacobs and detective, Scott Wright.

Lots Of Wood

An old growth forest in the Douglas fir region of western Oregon and Washington will yield 300 to 500 tons of wood per acre.

163 Entries Set Record For Novato's Parade

Making it the biggest parade in Novato Western Weekend history, 163 entries have been received by the sponsoring Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The parade, one of the highlight attractions of Western Weekend, will be held Saturday, June 20, starting at 11 a.m. The route will be west on Grant Avenue, from Reichert Avenue across Highway 101 to Seventh Street.

Among the top entries in the parade will be the St. Mary's Chinese Drum Corp of San Francisco and the Flying Rifles drill team from Hamilton Air Force Base. The St. Mary's group has appeared in many national celebrations, including the inauguration of the late Pres. John F. Kennedy. The Flying Rifles team has been on national television on many occasions.

Guest speaker from the parade platform will be Irving Links, honorary member of the Novato Junior Chamber and owner of a men's clothing store in Novato.

Other guests for the parade will include County Supervisor William A. Gnoss; Novato mayor Robert D. Carrow and the city councilmen; George McDaniels, president of the Novato Kiwanis Club, and Millard Miles, president of the Novato Lions Club.

Entry deadline for the parade was June 6, but entrants registered after that time will be in a special division in the rear of the parade.

Entrants who registered before the deadline will be competing for cash prizes, trophies and ribbons. Providing a lot of color to the parade will be bands, floats, majorettes, military drill teams, mounted drill teams and drum and bugle teams, to name just a few.

Leading the parade will be Marshall J. of Television Station KGO (Channel 7). Another main attraction of the parade will be an authentic Wells Fargo stage coach drawn by a team of horses.

Among the bands entered are the Coast Guard Band of Alameda, the Sixth Army Band from the Presidio of San Francisco, the Shrine Oriental Band of Sonoma, and the Pete Butti Marching Band from San Francisco.

Hearty Eating Is Offered Saturday

The Buckaroo Breakfast will start at 7 a.m. Saturday at the Lee Brothers parking lot and last until 11 a.m.

The Mariner's Club of the Presbyterian Church is putting on the breakfast again this year.

Last year they served hotcakes, eggs, ham, fruit juice and hot drinks to 1,200 people. A crowd of 1,500 is expected this year.

THE MARSHAL IS MARSHALL

Marshall J, commonly known to his Novato friends as Jay Alexander but to his television fans as Marshall J, again will be the Grand Marshal of the Western Weekend Parade Saturday in Novato. The parade is again expected to attract more than 20,000 people to the celebration.

Two-Day Rodeo This Year Means More Fun, Prizes

The Western Weekend rodeo will be bigger and better this year than ever before with a new attraction for cowboys and the rodeo running two days instead of one, said Joseph Wright of the sponsoring Novato Horsemen's Assn.

This year, the redeo will run both Saturday and Sunday, giving twice as much in prize money, Wright said.

In addition, the rodeo has joined the Redwood Empire circuit, giving cowboys two weeks of rodeo work and grand prizes as well as prizes at each rodeo.

On Saturday, the rodeo will start at 6 p. m. and on Sunday, it will start at 1 p.m. Each performance will last about three hours, Wright said.

Championship rodeo stock from the Flying U Ranch of Cotton Rosser has again been hired for both performances of the rodeo.

John Jackson of Woodlake, well known rodeo announcer, again will do the commentary of the events for the crowd.

The Horsemen's Assn. has doubled the prize money, making $600 for each performance, or a total of $1,200 for the two shows, according to Wright.

In addition, there will be a set of silver spurs and a cash prize for the total high point man in each event in all four rodeos of the Redwood Empire circuit. The all-around champion of all four rodeos will get a trophy saddle. All the rodeos are sanctioned by the Rodeo Cowboys Assn.

The events this year again will be saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, team roping, and bull riding. There will be a special event at intermission time.

Sachs Harbour is the only settlement on Banks Island, a wind-whipped land mass about the size of West Virginia in the western Canadian Arctic. The temperature sometimes plummets to 50 degrees below zero in the winter. No trees grow except scrub willow.

Wear A Raincoat Saturday Even If The Sun Is Shining

It'll be a wet time in Novato Saturday afternoon when the Kentfield Fire Department and Novato Fire Department engage in their fourth annual water ball fight at the Marion School grounds at 1:30 p.m.

These two teams of firemen have met three times before but were too wet to bother keeping score.

The idea of the game is to push a disc along a wire with a stream of water from a fire hose. Of course one team must push the other team backwards at the same time, and anyone standing within 100 feet is subject to a free shower — all in fun of course.

Howard Gieselman, Walter Simonds and Joseph McNern are the Novato Firemen in charge of arranging for the water ball fight.

Donkeys Will Run Saturday, Maybe

All former Missourians and admirers of donkey personalities, should be on hand at 9:45 Saturday morning for the first donkey race in the Western Weekend Celebration, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The race will be held at the Patterson Ranch at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

The course will not be long, but it may take some of the donkeys a long time to complete it, especially if they balk, said Joseph Ladely, chairman of the race committee.

Dance Will Continue To Wee, Small Hours

To keep the pace of the celebration lasting far into the night, the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an outdoor dance starting at 9 p.m. Saturday at the parking lot of Cloud 5 Restaurant at 1005 First Street.

Dancing to live music, both popular and western will be featured. An outside bar will be set up where refreshments may be purchased.

'Wanted' Posters Up For Novato Characters

Novato is taking on the air of an old west town with its store fronts being changed from modern to Old West design.

Characteristic of the atmosphere are the "wanted" signs in Honest Irv's Clothing Emporium, established 1776.

Some of them are:

"Wanted dead or alive, horse thief Chip Chapman."

"Notice to thieves, thugs, fakers and bunco steerers, among whom are Pete Ferrarese . . ."

"Calico Saloon features "The Belle, of the Barroom, Rose Volk."

Rewards of $10,000 each are offered for card shark Irv Links and "Wild Wayne," Horse Thief Harley McAskill is only worth a $5,000 reward.

The names on these Old West wanted signs bears a strikingly similiarity to present day Novato businessmen, but it's all in fun of course.

IT'S WESTERN FUN

Angelo Mirabella, member of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, rides his hobby horse to the parade Saturday while Peggy McFarland, queen of last year's celebration thumbs a ride. The hobby horse gives away to a real horse as rodeo and parade highlight the weekend of fun in Novato.

Glock's Glorious Gabby Almanac

LOUISVILLE Ky. (AP) — More than 30 college students throughout the country are nonpaying subscribers to "Glock's Glorious Gabby Almanac of Useful College Information."

The weekly letter is put together by Milton Glock at his own expense.

After his son and daughter left for college, they wanted to keep track of their high school chums, so Glock offered his home as a clearing house for their letters.

To get on the mailing list, each student must write at least one letter every eight weeks.

Glock then edits the letters and includes the gist of each in his four page mimeograph sheet.

Oysters Drowned By Fresh Water

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (AP)— Freshwater flooding is blamed for a tremendous kill-off of oysters in Mobile Bay and the eastern end of Mississippi Sound. Chief George Allen of the State Conservation Department's Seafood Division said that the spring floods killed up to 90 per cent of the oysters in some areas.

He said that flooding upsets the critical balance of fresh and salt water in which oysters thrive.

Society Meets To Admire Lilies

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — The American Hemerocallis Society has held two of its conventions in this south Georgia town.

The reason: The society is made up of Americans who love day lilies, something for which Valdosta is noted.

The day lily is an unusual plant. Its beautiful blossoms live only from sunrise to sunset. Usually orange or yellow, the flowers grow at the top of a leafless stalk that ranges in height from three to five feet.

Really Cleaning

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — During Starke's spring cleanup drive, C. H. Nasworthy cooperated in a big way — tearing down an unused 1890-built, two-story section of his Commercial Hotel.

CALF ROPING — Timing is the important thing in calf roping. A successful competitor in this event does his work in seconds. Some top ropers in the professional cowboys circuits make up to $25,000 per year. Some of the best calf ropers in the west will be seen Saturday and Sunday at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. rodeo at their arena on Bugeia Lane in Novato.

New Event Is Cross Country Race

One of the new attractions for this year's Western Weekend is a cross-country race of approximately 6.6 miles which will start and end at the main fire station on Grant Avenue.

All entries must have Amateur Athletic Union Card showing them to be of amateur standing. They must be at the fire station at 8:30 a.m. for a physical before the race at 9:30 a.m., according to Carl Jensen co-chairman of the race with Roscoe Morgan of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

So far, 27 people have entered the race, with a field of more than 50 hoped for by the committee, Jensen said.

Starting at the fire station, the runners will go west on Grant Avenue to Novato Boulevard; out Novato Boulevard to McClay Road and south on McClay Road to Center Road. Then they will go east on Center Road to Tamalpais Avenue and south of Tamalpais Avenue to Hill Road; east on Hill Road to Canyon Road, Ridge Road and the water tower on Half Moon Road. From there the race will continue on a marked foot path off the hill to Indian Valley Road; east on it to Diablo Avenue, down it Novato Boulevard; west on Novato Boulevard to Seventh Street and then to Grant Avenue and back to the fire station.

There will be three trophies for the first three place winners and a medal to all who finish the course. There are also trophies for teams of five runners. There is an entry fee for the race.

AAU cards may be obtained from Frank Geiss of 127 Montgomery Street in San Francisco, Jensen said. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office in the Patio Building.

Famous Barbecue To Follow Big Parade

Those who attend the parade Saturday morning, will find a mouth watering treat ready for them when the parade ends at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

Nick Kobseff of Rancho Nicassio will have his famous barbecue ready to take care of the parade crowd. This year the barbecue will feature both chicken and ribs.

Perk Up Entrance

Perk up your front entrance and make it easy to locate night or day with bright stainless steel house numerals and letters. They resist wind and weather without painting.

New Word For Working Sculpture

NEW YORK (AP) — Sculpture doesn't always just sit quietly in museums and get looked at, any more. Some sculpture moves and makes sounds as visitors nudge the works or press buttons of throw switches.

Steelways, a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute calls the phenomenon "synaesthesia," meaning hearing stimulated and accompanied by illusions of color and seeing stimulated by sound.

For Show, Not Go

WALTON, Ky. (AP) — Volunteer firemen in Walton want it known they're up to date even if they bought a 1918 fire truck. The old vehicle was overhauled and dolled up for parades and the like.

Assemblyman, Brown Trade Angry Words

Hearing Ends On Republican State Central Committee

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown ended a tumultous hearing today by promising to sign a bill Republican legislators hope will prevent what they consider an attempt by ultra-conservatives to take over the GOP State Central Committee.

But before he did, got into an angry, shouting exchange with Assembly Minority Leader Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks).

"I don't want to hear from you," Brown yelled at Conrad.

"You can't come up here to insult me in the governor's office."

MEASURE ON ISSUE

At issue was a measure that backers say is needed to prevent an ultra conservative capture of the Republican State Central Committee.

It would give incumbents nine—instead of the present five—appointments to the body and supporters say this would keep control of the group in the hands of moderate GOP elements.

The Democratic governor was hearing testimony on whether he should sign the measure.

As the hearing opened, Brown remarked that an affect of this bill would be to give control of the party to one group—the assemblymen.

IRES CONRAD

"Why should the control be vested in the Assembly?" he asked.

This remark apparently ired Conrad.

As he began testifying in favor of the bill, he remarked that he hoped the governor "had an open mind."

"I always have an open mind in these hearings," Brown replied.

"Don't make those accusations to me," Brown said.

"That's very unfair. What's the use of talking if you feel that way."

Conrad, his voice getting louder, replied that he just wanted to be sure of a fair hearing.

"I don't want to talk to you. I don't want to hear from you. You can't come up here and insult me in the governor's office," Brown said.

"I don't mind you going over the state with your political pronouncements," said Brown, referring to Conrad's frequent criticism of him.

"But you can't come into the governor's office and insult me."

Finally, their voices lowered and the governor told Conrad to "tell me about the bill and don't insult me."

HOW DO SMOG REDUCERS ON AUTOS WORK?

That new car you bought is equipped with a "smog reducer."

How much does the smog reducer reduce smog? And how much—if any—does it reduce the efficiency and life of your car's engine?

Wat Takeshiita, Independent-Journal reporter, seeks the answer to these and other questions about motor vehicle smog control in a series of three articles, the first of which appears on page 16 of today's I-J.

Ross School To Seek Bond Of $350,000

Ross School District voters will be asked to approve a $350,000 bond issue for expansion and refurbishment of the school Sept. 12.

The board approved holding the election last night as a result of the failure of the district's April 14 election which called for $400,000 in bonds. Had that election been successful, $100,000 of the funds would have been used to purchase two parcels of land south of the Ross Common for a new school site.

It was agreed that improvements which would be realized through passage of the September election would be made at the present site, according to Supt. William W. Monohan.

"The bond redemption tax which will be levied if this election passes will be consistent with the tax which has been levied for that purpose during the past 10 years," Monahan said.

The $350,000 realized from the sale of the bonds would be used to construct five new classrooms, expand the library and multipurpose room and generally refurbish the school.

The board accepted a gift of $15 from the O-Le-Wa-Ya Camp Fire Girls group to the school library.

Discussion of class grouping within the school, presented by James R. Osborn of Ross, was tabled with Osborn's permission for further study.

Contract for renting two portable classrooms was awarded to American Modulux Co. of Hayward which presented the low bid of $4,800.

Award of a contract for repair of the school's roof was postponed for further study of the job specifications.

Japan Is Rocked By Huge Temblor

Fires Set Off, Tidal Waves Hit

NIIGATA, Japan (UPI)—A massive earthquake struck a 300-mile stretch of the west coast of the main Island of Honshu today, shattering buildings, smashing bridges and setting off raging fires that burned into the night.

It was the worst temblor to hit this earthquake-prone country since 1923, when 143,000 persons were killed in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

DEAD, MISSING

The official Japan Broadcasting Corp., NHK, reported 22 persons dead, one missing and 196 injured.

More than 3,000 buildings and houses were destroyed or damaged by the quake which hit at 1:02 p.m.

Seven petroleum tanks still were blazing furiously in Niigata at 11 p.m. and city officials asked for outside help to fight the flames. The officials were reported to have asked the Japanese air self-defense force to air-drop chemical fire-fighting bombs over the tanks.

CITY OF 290,000

Niigata, a city of 290,000, was in the center of the earthquake-stricken zone, with Yamagata, Akita and Toyama also hard hit.

A massive relief and rescue operation was being mounted from many points in Japan to help the affected area, with U.S. Air Force planes, men and equipment on standby alert to help out when needed.

The impact of the quake was depicted in a telephone conversation from Hana Furukawa in

WALDO POINT WOES

Sun Acts Up, So Filming Shuttered

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Lack of light held up shooting this morning of "Erasmus with Freckles" at Gate Six Road, Waldo Point.

But, to a steady coming and going of visitors and one of the Sausalito extras, the whole affair was something of a delightful "circus."

Stocking-capped Bob Carig, who lives at Waldo and is an extra hired to sail a boat back and forth, was asked how he liked acting. He replied "It's a circus."

A rope strung across the rutty, dirt road was lined with movie-making watchers. They were pleased to see Ernie Smith of Hollywood putting his dog, Red, through many roll-overs and other capers. The dog, which Smith calls "just a mutt," is Ed Wynn's dog. Wynn, who plays, Cap'n, knocks his pipe out on the dog in the production.

Juanita Musson, former owner of the Galley on the ferry boat, Charles Van Damme, was parked in her truck watching the movie crews wield the kleig lights and camera in preparation for shooting.

Shooting began yesterday. It was suspended this morning waiting for the sun to come out from behind clouds.

Though the Sausalito extras were in full view, the Hollywood stars were "inhiding," along with the sun. Stars Glynis Johns, Cindy Carrol, Ed Wynn and Billy Mumy—the boy with the freckles who plays Erasmus Leaf—are staying at the Edgwater Inn in Corte Madera. James Stewart, who plays Prof. Robert Leaf, is staying at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. Fabian is due to arrive tomorrow.

A bit of local color was added to the set yesterday. A disagreement between 20th Century-Fox representatives and Kenneth McCurdy, who lives with his wife and family aboard the ferry boat, Issaquah, in the midst of the set.

Dean M. Jennings, houseboat dweller who is a technical advisor on the set, said the studio wanted to paint the Issaquah, which was a dirty gray, and offered to put out $125 for the paint. McCurdy said he wanted to paint it himself, then said he would settle for $417. The matter was settled for $417. The Issaquah is now a bright white.

But McCurdy was apparently still unhappy, said Jennings, and brought out signs reading, "Hollywood Go Home" and "20th Century-Fox Stinks."

The shooting centers around a small river boat, River Belle, which was brought in six sections from Hollywood, and a small non-descript boat with no name occupied by Terry and George (Jane Wald and Charlie Robinson). The Leaf family lives aboard the paddlewheeler, River Belle.

Among changes in the road which leads to Kappas Yacht Harbor are a stretch of crushed rock near the River Belle and a number of potted plants.

"People we know come here and think we're big movie stars," said Bill Jones of Sausalito, an extra. "We're not. It's not glamorous." He said extras make $25 a day and when the company uses his car he gets $14 a day for that. "If there is 20 minutes overtime, we get $6," he said "If it drizzles, we get $5 extra. It's called the wet check. We have to be fed every five hours. If we're not, then there's extra pay."

HOLLYWOOD IN SAUSALITO—Twentieth Century-Fox movie crew shoots Ed Wynn (standing at right) in scene for "Erasmus With Freckles," a story of riverboat dwellers being filmed at Waldo Point. The shooting has brought throngs of onlookers—besides employing various waterfront characters as extras and paying Kenneth McCurdy $417 to repaint his houseboat, the Issaquah. Tiburon Picks Temporary City Adviser

The "city" of Tiburon has taken one of its first steps toward independence in the selection of a temporary city administrator.

City councilmen-elect vary on the title of Warren Schmid, 34, whom they chose in a closed session Sunday night, but he has the job. Some councilmen call him adviser; some, counselor; others, administrator.

Schmid is executive director of the Institute for Local Self Government, a research group in Berkeley. He has been working under a Ford Foundation grant and previously was the first city manager of the then-new city of Milpitas.

Schmid already is working for the "city," which officially will not come into being until June 23. He was hired on an hourly basis for approximately two months until councilmen can interview and hire a permanent city administrator - manager, Councilman Leo Souza reported today.

Schmid's salary will be about $12.50 an hour, Souza said — though the council apparently will have no power to pay Schmid until Tiburon collects some revenues. Schmid was chosen from a list of available advisers supplied by the League of California Cities.

Schmid will work out of the newly acquired city office—Room 1 of Del Mar School. Telephones were installed yesterday and the number (435-1040) soon will be listed through calling "information."

Reed School District trustees last night agreed they would not charge the city rent for use of the room, its chairs and tables. The no-rental fee decision follows past district policy in allowing use of school facilities to non-profit groups when no unusual maintenance or plant costs are involved.

Councilmen, headed by chairman Gordon W. Strawbridge, will convene at 8 p.m. today at the Del Mar School to discuss what services the city most immediately wants to take over from county administration.

Young Golf Pro Has Real Swinging Time

By JAMES K. WILLWERTH

Twelve-year-old Frank P. Vanderbuilt of San Rafael is well on his way to becoming a golf tycoon in the confines of his own backyard.

The young entrepeneur, who lives at 204 H Street, has posted signs on trees in the neighborhood reading:

"Golf, only 3 cents at 204 B Street."

And the buyer doesn't have to beware. He simply walks into the Vanderbuilt back yard, plunks down his three pennies, and starts swinging.

Of course there are limits. The driving range is only 30 feet in length. And the flower gardens are out of bounds -- it costs a stroke if you land there.

The young golfer hopes to make "about $10" this summer. Since the course opened Sunday, 24 aspiring Arnold Palmers have made the rounds. The cashbox shows 73 cents.

The extra penny came from a special service offered by Frank. For one cent, he caddies, carrying your club around the course and chasing balls out of the rough.

Included for three cents are all traditional headaches of the Sunday duffer. A specially designed sandtrap vexes putters on green number four. Other problems are a two-foot-deep fish pond, and a dry drainage creek running through one end of the yard.

"The holes," Frank explains, are constructed of "jars stuck in the ground, and dirt filled around them." At present the course has 14, with the remaining four to be built.

Marker flags were made from "a torn sheet, a felt marking pen, and a bamboo stick about two feet high." Frank serves his customers from a red table near the back porch.

He supplies golf clubs and regular golf balls for his more mature golfers. "Little kids" swing plastic clubs and drive plastic balls.

"I swing a big one," says Frank, who is four feet 10 inches

City Manager Is Selected For Belvedere

William Louis Cavalli, city clerk and administrative officer of King City in Monterey County, will become city manager and clerk of Belvedere on Aug. 1.

The Belvedere City Council last night appointed Cavalli to succeed Britton Rey, who is retiring. He will be paid $841 per month as city manager and $7 as city clerk.

Rey agreed to remain on the job one month beyond his announced retirement date of June 30.

Still to be filled are the position of building inspector, which Rey is also relinquishing, and that of city treasurer, from which Mrs. Rey is retiring. Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock said the council is seeking applicants for both positions.

Selection of Cavalli was made at a closed council session which followed last night's regular meeting.

Cavalli, 43, was born in King City. After serving as a pilot in the Army Air Corps in World War II, he was appointed city clerk in 1947, later also being named city administrative officer. He was a member of a state controller's commission to study and assist in implementation of charting accounts for cities.

King City has a population of 3,200 and assessed valuation of about six million dollars. Belveder's population is 2,400 and its assessed valuation, eight million dollars.

Rey has been city clerk since 1947 and city manager since 1954.

Board Starting Work On Budget

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will open two weeks of daily sessions on the county budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The first day will take up the needs of the major spender in county government, the welfare department, asking for more than five million dollars this year in county, state and federal funds.

The board will take time out from formal budget discussions in the morning, however, to meet with officials of the City of San Rafael to discuss plans for widening of Third Street - Point San Pedro Road.

Mill Valley Phone Worker Shot In Head By Youth

A Mill Valley telephone installer working on a pole in San Francisco was shot in the head yesterday by a 12-year-old boy with an air rifle.

Lawrence Arrington, 23, of 536 Marin Avenue, was able to lower himself to the ground.

A surgeon at Franklin Hospital removed a pellet from between his scalp and skull, then sent him home in satisfactory condition.

Arrington was "doing fine" at home today, and said he would return to work tomorrow.

The boy was cited for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. He told Officer Chap Reese he didn't know why he fired at Arrington. Reese said the pellet, from a pump air rifle, would have been fatal if Arrington had been at ground level.

WHERE SIX DIED IN LAKE

Two barges smashed a gap in the world's longest bridge before dawn today and a bus plunged over the edge into Lake Pontchartrain, killing six persons. The 24 mile bridge extends 24 miles north from New Orleans across the lake. The bus driver was one of two survivors. The barges, pushed by a towboat, hit the bridge about eight miles from New Orleans. The bus went down in upper right of picture. (AP Wirephoto)

States Facing Big Shakeup In Government

Court Rules Apportionment By Population

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically every state in the union faced today an explosive change in its lawmaking and politics which should eventually give city voters a more equal voice in their state governments.

The Supreme Court, arguing that "legislatures represent people, not trees or acres," decreed yesterday that seats in both houses of every state legislature must be apportioned by population.

REACTION SWIFT

The decision held unconstitutional the division of representation in six states—Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware, Alabama and Colorado—but foreshadowed a similar holding in as many as 40 other states.

Reaction was swift and noisy—joy from urban leaders and outrage from state's righters and rural-dominated legislatures.

Both Republicans and Democrats, digging into voting and population charts, figured the decision could help them.

RURAL LOSERS

All agreed that rural residents who for generations have held a disproportionate share of voting power in most states, would be the losers.

The problem pondered in statehouses today was what to do. Special sessions of the legislatures may be needed in some cases. Fortunately the court gave time for planning and preparations. It ruled that action on the decision need not be taken before this year's general elections Nov. 3.

But it noted that in Maryland's case it does not have a state election until 1966 and it added that "under no circumstances" should that election " be conducted pursuant to the existing or any other unconstitutional plan."

UTTER NONSENSE

In its decision, the court held unconstitutional the so-called "little federal" systems in which state legislatures are made up like the U. S. Congress with districts represented equally in one house and by population in the other.

This aspect of the ruling was called "utter nonsense" by Dr. William Prendergast, research director for the Republican National Committee.

"There's no sense in having two houses if they represent the same thing," he declared. "I trust they won't find the U. S. Senate unconstitutional."

This was much the same view of Gov. John Connally of Texas, a Democrat, who said: "The ruling does violence to at least a measure of the checks and balances we've adhered to in our legislative bodies since the foundation of this country."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said legal conferences would be held to decide what California had to do and when.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Scranton Hails Iowa Reception

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton carried his uphill fight for the Republican presidential nomination into Kansas today, cheered by an Iowa welcome he described as "the bets in my life."

It remained to be seen, though, how fruitful was his quest for votes among Iowa's 24 GOP national convention delegates. Scranton is out to wrest the nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Scranton met with Iowa delegates for nearly an hour behind closed doors last night. He told reporters afterward, "I think we made substantial progress."

Delegates said the governor spoke and answered questions. They termed it "a very impressive appearance." However, no delegate beyond the five already committed to him came out publicly in support of Scranton.

An Associated Press survey of Iowa's delegates shows nine committed to Goldwater, five committed to Scranton and 10 uncommitted.

Scranton backers said they were encouraged by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's withdrawal from the race.

Scranton was almost mobbed as he alighted from the plane.

Chants of "We want Bill, we want Bill" answered the "We want Barry, we want Barry" cries of a noisy, though comparatively small, group of Goldwater backers.

The Goldwater forces conceded the turnout was surprisingly large.

BARRY CONFIDENT

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater declared today he intends to lead the Republican ticket—from top to bottom—to victory at the polls next November.

Goldwater said he can do the job, no matter what "the doom shouters" say.

"I intend to lead a united party on a platform of principle—the same platform and the same principle in every part of this nation," the front-running Republican presidential contender said in an address prepared for the Texas Republican Convention.

Out to round up Texas delegates' votes at the Republican National Convention, Goldwater declared: "Whatever the dopesters and pollsters say — whatever we hear from the doom shouters in both parties—I intend to lead all the candidates to victory, North and South, East and West, in November."

Goldwater is virtually assured of support from the 56-vote Texas delegation to the national convention. That would push his delegate count to 674—well above the 655 votes he needs to capture the nomination.

The Arizona senator assailed President Lyndon B. Johnson's fiscal and foreign policies last night before a crowd of cheering Republicans at a $100 a plate dinner.

He said the economic policies Johnson espouses show "that this administration's notion of fiscal responsibility went no deeper than the wheeler-dealer mentality of a card shark." Goldwater said Johnson's foreign policy is uncertain and "weak-kneed."

KUCHEL VIEW

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said yesterday he will make up his own mind whether or not to support Sen. Barry Goldwater if the Arizona Republican gets the GOP presidential nomination next month in San Francisco.

Kuchel, who headed New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's unsuccessful California campaign, said he would not "respond" to a warning by former senator William Knowland to support Goldwater or lose future Republican support.

"I am not going to respond to threats of reprisals or attempts at intimidation by former senator Knowland or by anyone else," Kuchel said in a brief statement. "That is not the way I fulfill my public trust."

IKE'S CHARGES

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower charged yesterday that the Democratic administration has let inexperienced persons make key foreign policy decisions.

The former chief executive also criticized the administration's conduct of the anti-communist guerilla war in South Vietnam.

"I am quite sure we have had in the past few years fewer experienced persons associated with making our foreign policy, and mistakes have been made," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower headed a panel of prominent Republicans discussing foreign policy at the last of a series of six "party to people" forums sponsored by the Republican National Committee. The panel answered questions from an invited audience of 1,000 and from questionnaires mailed to party members.

"The United States must lead and not boss," said Eisenhower. He said some nations have become resentful because America has tried to "force our system on other peoples."

LBJ DINNER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson's $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner Friday night has been moved from the Cow Palace to the Hilton Hotel Ballroom, it was announced yesterday.

A combination rally and dinner had been scheduled for the Cow Palace but Democratic Party officials say now that the rally would have interfered with the dinner. A rally for the presidential candidate will be held at the Cow Palace in the fall.

The president will arrive about 11 a.m. Friday by plane. He will then fly by helicopter to Concord for ground-breaking ceremonies of the Bay Area rapid transit system.

Later on, the president will dedicate the new federal building in San Francisco. A motorcade will carry the president up Market Street to the building.

New Pesticide Rules Are Due For Dairymen

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state has decreed new rules concerning milk and cows, aimed at protecting consumers, effective July 11.

The regulations were announced yesterday by State Agriculture Director Charles Paul.

One will require identification of dairy cows known to be carrying pesticide residues. It is added to rules already forbidding the sale or transportation of such animals.

Officials said it would make California the first state to provide the added protection from pesticide-carrying cows, regarded as a health hazard.

The other regulation will require distributors to obtain a state permit before adding any vitamins or minerals to market milk or market milk products.

It was put into effect, the state said, because some distributors have been lax in adding enough vitamins to their milk to meet their advertised guarantees.

Group Pledges Poverty Fight

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The United Nations Trade and Development Conference ended today with a pledge from its 119 members to strive for the "abolition of poverty everywhere."

The conference wound up its three months of work with the signature of a "final act" which includes recommendations for aid-through-trade assistance for the world's under-privileged nations.

The act pledged Geneva conference nations to seek a more effective system of international cooperation that would banish "the division of the world into areas of poverty and plenty."

Troops Close In On Colombian Bandit

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Troops supported by fighter planes and helicopters were reported closing in today on Castro-Communist bandit leader Pedro (Sure Shot) Marin in the dwindling remnants of his "independent republic" of Marquetalia in the jungle foothills.

Marin and his chief lieutenants fled into the hills Sunday when loyal forces captured the jungle village which had served for years as his "capital."

Copenhagen Reception For Nikita Cool

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Copenhagen today at the start of a three-week visit to Scandinavia and received a friendly but low-keyed reception from thin crowds of Danes.

The lack-luster atmosphere was in striking contrast to the boisterous crowds which howled enthusiasm for Khrushchev on his recent visit to Egypt.

Four thousand police, many of them imported from the provinces, were on the alert in the city of one million people.

Teachers Demand Red Foe Resignation

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A commencement speech by Charles Luckman, chairman of the California State Colleges Board of Trustees, has led to a demand for his resignation.

Luckman, in a speech last Friday at San Diego State College, urged rigid restrictions on campus speeches by Communists.

The campus chapter of the AFL-CIO Federation of Teachers demanded Luckman's resignation yesterday, accusing him of an attack on academic freedom.

"We resent his suggestion that the faculty and students are vulnerable to what he terms the 'seductive intellectual appeal' of communism," Federation president Or. Melvin Crain said.

Aide Says Kennedy Planned To Teach

NEW YORK (UPI)—The late President John F. Kennedy had expected to be re-elected to a second term in the White House and then devote his life to writing and teaching, a former close aide has disclosed.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., an adviser to Kennedy, wrote in the current issue of Look magazine that Kennedy felt he would be too young to retire upon leaving the presidency at 51 when his anticipated second four-year term expired.

"The president intended to establish his headquarters in Boston where he planned to live at least part of the year," Schlesinger said.

"Kennedy wanted to hold seminars and talk to young people at Harvard where he had gone to school, and also at a half-dozen other nearby colleges. At the same time, he was going to write his memoirs."

Talk With Franco

Ecumenical Council

ASSISI, Italy (UPI) — Austria's Franziskus Cardinal Koenig, in an interview published here today, said the Ecumenical Council will hold a fourth session devoted mainly to the role of the Catholic Church in the modern world. He predicted the historic gathering of the church hierarchy would do more voting and less discussing at its third session this autumn.

Chilean Girl —'Suicide Try'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Carmen Tello, 24-year-old daughter of a Chilean diplomat, is in Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Oakland with a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Police tentatively list the case as attempted suicide.

Miss Tello told friends it was an accident.

The Chilean consulate declined comment.

Southern California Bus Strike Deadlocked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The bus strike plaguing commuters in four Southern California counties was deadlocked today as its victims braced themselves for another temper-testing day on crowded streets.

All available traffic officers were sent to downtown intersections to untangle the early morning snarl. Worse ones awaited them during the evening rush hour.

Donovan Ailing

NEW YORK (AP) — James B. Donovan, the New York lawyer who negotiated the release of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers from a Soviet prison, is in a hospital for treatment of a heart condition. Donovan, 48, entered the hospital last Friday, it was revealed yesterday.

Bonds For Double-Decking Parking Lots Authorized

Issuance and sale of bonds to finance double-decking of two downtown San Rafael parking lots was authorized last night by the San Rafael City Council.

The bonds will be issued by the parking district, not as general obligation bonds of the city, and are to be repaid from parking meter revenues. To the $250,000 bond issue, the city will add $127,900 in parking district funds to finance the construction.

Opening of bids on the bonds was set for July 27 at 8 p.m., at which time contract for the work can also be awarded. The council on June 1 voted its intention to award the contract to William J. Nicholson Co. of Santa Clara on a low bid of $296,000. Costs of the bond issue, engineering fees, etc., will be in addition to the contract price.

The lots to be double-decked are at Third Street and Lootens Place and at Fifth Avenue and C Street.

Bids were opened for road construction materials and street striping for the fiscal year starting July 1. Only bidder on the street striping was A and M Striping Co. of Petaluma at $17,750, about $3,000 above the amount paid the same company this year. It was awarded the contract.

Five companies bid to furnish various items of street materials, and the bids were turned over to the public works department for checking. Bidders were Hutchinson Co. of El Cerrito, Basalt Rock Co. of Napa, Camgros Gravel and Fuel Co., McPhail's, and Shamrock Materials Co., the last three all of San Rafael.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Again delayed award of contract for improving Fourth Street between Mary and Union streets, City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson disclosing that he still lacked signatures of three property owners. On motion of Councilman Charles W. Aby, the mayor and city clerk were authorized to award the contract when all signatures and money are in hand.

2. In response to a letter by 11 Rafael Highlands residents asking what is being done about a collapsed and barricaded section of Oakwood Drive, Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles said it is still being studied with soils engineers.

3. City Manager Anderson reported the owner of 10,400 square feet sought by the city for a pumping station at Lindaro and Jordan streets is asking $35,000, or $10,000 above the city's offer. He was instructed to get an appraisal as basis for a further offer or possible condemnation suit.

4. The council adopted a resolution ordering filing of a condemnation suit on property of Joanne Wing, sought for extension of Third Street westerly.

5. Resolution was adopted approving the final map and engineer's report of Loch Lomond Highlands Unit 1. The council also passed to print an amendment to the zoning map making this a single family residence zone with 10,000 square foot lot minimum.

6. The council unanimously voted final adoption of an ordinance rezoning the portion of Rafael Woods below Meyer Road from 10,000 to 20,000 square foot lots.

7. Approved was the final map of Twelveoak Hill subdivision, on an extension of Las Gallinas Avenue in the former Pimentel Ranch.

8. Hearing on C. V. Whitlach's appeal from planning commission turndown of a subdivision application was set for July 6.

9. The mayor and city clerk were authorized to execute a lease at $120 per year with the State Division of Highways for access under the Highway 101 overhead to the Grady Building at 644 Fourth Street, rented as temporary quarters for public works, planning, engineering and building departments.

10. In response to a letter from Arthur Pappas, Montecito Merchants Assn. president, Rawles was instructed to assure the association that the city will endeavor to preserve access to the Montecito Shopping Center parking lot during extension of Second Street.

11. In response to a letter from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, the council agreed to be represented at the State Highway Commission meeting June 24, at which the freeway project through San Rafael will be discussed.

12. City Clerk W. L. Morgan was authorized to transfer from the general fund to the capital improvement fund, for the new city hall, about $400,000 surplus which he estimated will be on hand at close of the fiscal year.

13. Thomas Orovich was promoted from junior civil engineer to assistant civil engineer at $608 per month, effective today.

14. The council found no objection to request by Roy A. Brown, president of California Newspapers, Inc., for permission to run an addition to the Independent-Journal Building 10 feet beyond the line of the city hall property to which the newspaper company has taken possession. The addition will house an 80-foot long newspaper press.

Sleepy Driver Rams Into Pole

A 57-year-old San Anselmo man damaged a highway light pole, wrecked his car, and suffered minor injuries Saturday when he fell asleep at the wheel while driving north on Highway 101 near the Highway 17 off-ramp.

Vincent P. Giovannoni of 105 Bolinas Avenue, was traveling about 50 miles per hour, according to California Highway Patrol reports, when he dozed at 1:30 p.m. His car ran off the road, plowing into a Larkspur city limits sign, and then into a light pole.

Giovannoni, a San Francisco baker, was given emergency treatment for bruises and cuts at Marin General Hospital.

Radio Amateurs' Costly Antenna Parts Stolen

The Tamalpais Amateur Radio Club is missing 20 six-foot sections of antenna and eight guide ropes, valued at more than $300, from its transmitting station on nob hill off Marion Avenue, Philip Dickson, president, of 716 Del Mar, Novato, reported Sunday to Novato police.

The thefts have occurred over the past two months, Dickinson said.

Hub Man Heads Meet

Philip C. Smith of 130 Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, will preside at the annual Western States Photoengravers Conference Friday through Sunday in Palo Alto. He is president of Walker Engraving Corp. in San Francisco and 1963-64 conference president.

'Earth Invasion' Program Planned

If you have your radio turned on at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow and hear a sudden announcement of the invasion of earth by creatures from Mars—don't panic.

The "news" will be fictional—a special adaptation of the famous 1938 Orson Welles radio drama drawn from H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds."

Station KPEN in San Francisco will broadcast the program, which created panic and fright among listeners 26 years ago. Listeners thought the description of the invasion was real.

KPEN is informing the public of the program in advance, to prevent a repeat of the 1938 panic.

Guide Dogs, Owners To Complete Course

Nine persons will receive their guide dogs at public graduation ceremonies at Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc. of San Rafael at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school.

Graduates are Marcus Rangel of Los Angeles, William P. Radnor of Harlingen, Tex., Robert E. Jefferson of San Diego, Bonnie McKenzie of Ocean Beach, San Diego County, Randle L. Christianson of Salt Lake City, Utah, John G. Edmonds of Berkeley, John Honeycutt of Santa Cruz, Mrs. Virginia Rutty of Arcadia, Los Angeles County, and Frank Serpa of Modesto.

COUNCIL REJECTS CONDOMINIUM PLAN

San Rafael City Fathers Uphold Appeal From Harbor Estates To Planning Rule

Plans for the 1.6-acre Porto Bello West condominium were rejected last night by unanimous vote of the San Rafael City Council.

The council upheld an appeal by residents of adjoining Harbor Estates from 3-to-2 planning commission approval of the plan by San Rafael Newport Co., which would have connected a cul de sac serving the 14-unit condominium with the dead end of Aqua Vista Drive, now a cul de sac.

Robert H. Greene and L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael Newport Co. argued that it is impossible to provide access from Porto Bello West through the original Porto Bello condominium to San Pedro Road. Weisenburg blamed this on "interjection of the state corporation commissioner into the field of condominium housing."

The reason it is impossible, brought out Charles W. Pierce, attorney for the Harbor Estates property owners, is that Porto Bello was developed with a private street which did not meet city standards, and the condominium owners will not permit trespass on their property from a proposed public street in the new development.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, is moving the appeal be upheld, recalled that council and planning commission had tried unsuccessfully to argue the developers into making the street within Porto Bello a public street when plans for it were presented.

Councilman Charles W. Aby, who seconded the motion, remarked: "When Aqua Vista Cay was ended in a cul de sac . . . these people had the right to believe they were in an exclusive area. It should be kept that way."

The council also unanimously rejected rezoning to planned community of Porto Bello West, now partly duplex and partly unzoned, because of the plan having been found unacceptable.

Wild Turkeys Proposed For National Seashore

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr wants wild turkeys on Point Reyes National Seashore.

Park Supt. Fred W. Binnewies doesn't think they belong there.

Binneweis, though, favors importing elk to the seashore. They used to be there, lots of them—as numerous as deer, according to County Supervisor George H. Ludy.

The subject of wild life at the seashore came up at today's county board of supervisors meeting. Behr asked for a study on whether turkeys could be introduced there. He said he believed they'd been there once.

Binneweis said it's against National Park Service policy to populate parks with non-native fauna. Supervisor Ludy said turkeys had been introduced in the area about 15 years ago and multiplied rapidly—until too many turkey shoots killed them off.

About elk, now—that's different, said Binneweis. He was quite sure elk roamed over the Point Reyes Peninsula at one time.

True, said Ludy — many of them. Old timers, he said, recall when they were numerous as deer.

Not to be outdone, Supervisor William D. Fusselman added that elk at one time were known as far south as Mill Valley.

That's in Behr's district. But he was touting for turkeys.

QUAKE

Niigata to her cousin, Toshiko Miyajima in Tokyo.

Mrs. Furukawa, 50, owns a confectionery store in the heart of Niigata, and she told her cousin what happened when the quake struck.

"I couldn't stand up when the first shocks hit," she said. "When I went outdoors the earth was slowly heaving like the sea. Telephone poles swayed and wires snapped.

"Then large earth cracks appeared. I heard a large explosion.

"Our Buddhist shrine is smashed and with it the name tablets of our dead. Our cupboards and dressers also have toppled over.

"Our house has not collapsed, but there are many buildings leaning crazily.

"Everyone is just standing around dazed."

Then the phone went dead.

The latest quake was centered in the area of Niigata, a port city which also is Japan's largest petroleum and natural gas producing center. It lies about 150 miles northwest of Tokyo.

After-shocks rocked Honshu for hours after the main temblor, but were reported subsiding at 9 p.m.

Additional casualties and damage reports were expected when word was received from the 519-square-mile Island of Sako, a gold-mining center with a population of 110,000 persons, which lies about 30 miles west of Niigata in the Sea of Japan.

An amateur radio operator reported from Sado that the island had been battered by tidal waves and nearly 300 houses flooded in the aftermath of the initial shock. His only report of casualties was that two persons were injured in Roytsu City on the island's northeast coast.

A tidal wave warning was sounded for the northwest coastal areas of the Sea of Japan shortly after the quake first struck. But at midafternoon, the central weather station in Tokyo called off the warning.

Here in Niigata, preliminary reports said 30 per cent of the city's buildings and houses were destroyed or damaged.

Wreckage littered the city, and fires burned fiercely in at least three oil refineries near the piers of Niigata port.

A gas tank exploded inside the city, and buildings crumbled to the ground. Others leaned dangerously—about to collapse.

Candles lighted houses still standing tonight. But few families could cook because there was neither gas nor water available.

Thousands of persons fled to high ground for safety. People stood forlornly on darkened hillsides without food, water or a place to sleep.

Roads were buckled, and crevasses were opened in the earth. A junior high school girl fell to her death in one of them.

GOLF

tall. As the ranking golf pro, he reluctantly admits to "about 100 strokes" as par for the course.

Some of the holes have rather unusual lays. Number five is adjacent to a doghouse and three inches from a three-foot precipice falling into the empty drainage ditch.

Number three is six inches in front of the fishpond, which naturally costs a stroke if you overshoot. Frank confesses he has shot into the pond "a couple of times."

The stroke penalty was initiated by Mrs. Vanderbuilt, whose colorful garden, she feels, is more important than breaking 100.

The backyard has hedges on both sides and a fence in back. Still, some golfers manage to shoot balls into neighboring yards —but not too often.

The 14th, and temporarily last, hole sits on top of a sunken water faucet, smack in the middle of the driving range.

And for some lucky golfers, the 19th hole might be the kitchen with cookies and lemonade.

Napa Youth Hurt In Crash

Robert L. Partridge, 20, of Napa, suffered a broken arm 11:45 p.m. yesterday when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on the Miracle Mile in San Rafael.

The driver, Robert R. McLean, 22, also of Napa, was attempting to make a U-turn from west to eastbound lanes, San Rafael police reported.

Partridge was given emergency treatment, then transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

McLean was treated for minor cuts on his knees. He was cited for driving without due caution.

Operation Mississippi Training Under Way

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — About 270 college students from various parts of the nation went into training here yesterday for Operation Mississippi Project..

Harold Johnson, pastor of the Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley and president of the board of directors of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home for Mentally Retarded Children in Terra Bella, Tulare County, will speak on "Service to Mankind" at a meeting of the Marin Sertoma Club at noon tomorrow at the Mission Inn, 720 B Street, San Rafael.

King-Jones Jury Almost Selected

Selection of a jury in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial in Marin Superior Court appeared close today with defense attorneys announcing at 11:55 a.m. they were satisfied with the seated panel of 12.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, prosecuting attorney, promptly challenged and dismissed one of the dozen, however, but indicated at the noon recess that he, too, was "almost" satisfied with the panel.

Both sides have exhausted a total of 31 peremptory challenges of a possible 50, but the defense—Thomas P. Boyd for defendant Robert Lee Jones, and Peter Allen Smith for John Lee King—may reopen their challenge rights with introduction of any new potential juror by Bales.

An additional panel of 120 was called this morning. More than 150 prospective jurors were called at start of jury selection last Tuesday.

King, 28, and Jones, 25, are jointly charged in the March 27 murder in Sausalito and with armed robbery March 25 of Harbor Liquor Store, Redwood Highway, Alto. David J. Costamagna is assisting Boyd in Jones defense.

Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge Will Reopen

CARSON CITY (AP) — The Nevada Gaming Commission approved today the reopening of Frank Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge at north Lake Tahoe under new management.

Arthur Wood, H. E. McCloskey and Raymond Plunkett, all of the north Lake Tahoe area, are investing $200,000 to lease the club from Park Lake Enterprises, of which Sinatra is the major stockholder.

Disaster Employees Laid Off In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — "Over 30" employees of the California Disaster Office were laid off today because of a lack of funds.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and CDO director John Gaffney said the action was forced by failure of Congress to approve appropriations for civil defense.

Board Asked For Help In Assess Fight

A Leonard Bjorklund Jr., president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors today to help push state legislation to force County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel to stop using the cyclical method of appraising Marin County property.

The board put the question over for a week, partly because Supervisors George H. Ludy and Byron W. Leydecker were absent. But Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he strongly felt that the cyclical method should be abolished.

Under the cyclical method, the assessor appraises the county by hitting each piece of property only once every five years, thus causing periodic, and often unexpected, sharp increases in assessed valuation and taxes.

Behr and Supervisor William D. Fusselman both pointed out that they, as supervisors, are technically powerless to order Broemmel, an elected official, to change his methods.

Broemmel answered Bjorklund that he is actually not using a pure cyclical problem, but is trying to "plug the biggest holes in the dike."

Fusselman said that if state legislation is sought, the county should also ask for a law restricting taxing agencies in areas where property values go up sharply from also raising their budgets sharply.

Bjorklund said he had 311 signed protests of valuations, representing almost 1,000 parcels of property, and added he expected the number of protests from Sausalito alone to reach 400 by Friday.

Court Opens Session, Swears In 163 Lawyers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The State Supreme Court opened a three-day session here today by swearing in 163 new attorneys, including 11 women and a man and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Titmus of Orinda.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson presided and Justice Roger J. Traynor spoke about lawyers' responsibilities.

South Controls Rights Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders drove to complete action on amendments to the civil rights bill today, but Southern opponents had control of the situation.

An early morning caucus of the Dixie forces was called by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D.-Ga.) to consider how many more amendments to call up for a vote.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), floor manager of the bill, told newsmen he saw a very good chance that voting on amendments would be completed by tonight.

Big Drinkers Reassured— Harmless Fun

BERKELEY (AP) — Ira H. Cisin, professor of sociology at George Washington University, reassured heavy drinkers yesterday that only about one in 10 of them are in danger of becoming alcoholics.

"It is the abstainers who feel out of place in modern society," he told the second annual California School on Alcoholism at the University of California.

"Drinking helps relieve tension, gives us courage to face a hostile world and gives peace where there is no peace.

"For the vast majority of us," he said, "drinking is harmless fun."

He gave these danger signals that indicate someone is becoming what he termed a "psychologically" heavy drinker:

Going on drinking sprees, drinking first thing in the morning, missing work because of drinking, drinking alone, drinking to satisfy a need at a certain time of day, blacking out during a spree and criticism of drinking habits from close friends.

Johnsons Invited To Jackie Dinner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson have been invited to attend a dinner in New York tonight in honor of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The dinner party is being given by Mrs. Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of New York. Mrs. Smith is the former Jean Kennedy.

There is, however, as yet no indication that the Johnsons have accepted the invitation.

Ground-Breaking Set On Detention Center

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown will turn a ceremonial shovel of dirt near Stockton June 29 to inaugurate the state's new concept in youth detention.

Brown will take part in the ground-breaking ceremony for a 4.7-million-dollar building complex at the California Youth Authority's Northern California Youth Center near Stockton, the first of 12 complexes planned at the site.

Friends and family of Stephen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Fambrini of San Anselmo will attend Requiem Mass at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Stephen's Church in San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Private Rosary services will be held tonight.

Requiem High Mass for Paul, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Schwab of Greenbrae, will be offered at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae. His family and friends will attend Rosary at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Surviving the Fambrini boy are his parents; four sisters, Lauren, Patricia, Stephanie and Gay Ann; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fambrini of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. B. Guglielmo of San Anselmo.

Paul is survived by his parents; two sisters, Joan Margaret and Janet Leslie; two brothers, Phillip and Bryan; his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Floyd of San Lorenzo and his grandfather, Harry A. Clark of Larkspur.

Contributions to the Jesuit Seminary Assn. of San Francisco are preferred by the Schwab family.

MRS. HOBRO

Private funeral for Mrs. Katherine Stewart Hobro, 74, of San Francisco, who died Saturday in a Novato rest home after a long illness, was held today at Godeau Mortuary in San Francisco.

She was a native of Glasgow, Scotland. Her family came to San Francisco when she was an infant.

Surviving are her husband, Alfred W. Hobro, a retired accountant; a son, Lester Andrew Hobro of Novato, and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma. Contributions to the Arthritis Foundation are preferred by the family.

MRS. HARTSOOK

Requiem Mass for Mrs. Katherine Hartsook, 95, of Bakersfield, a former Mill Valley resident who died in Bakersfield Friday after a short illness, was held today at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael.

A native of Sonora, Tuolumne County, she had lived in Mill Valley until five years ago when she moved to Bakersfield. Burial was at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

JAMES DILLON

Requiem High Mass for James Bernard (Barney) Dillon, 84, retired painter and a 52-year resident of Marin County, will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael.

Dillon died Sunday in a San Luis Obispo hospital after a short illness. He had been residing recently in San Luis Obispo with a son, Alvin R. Dillon.

For 65 years, Dillon was a painter, retiring only about seven years ago. He lived for 47 years in the home he built at 10 Antoinette Avenue, San Rafael. He was a past president and life member of Painters Union Local 83 of San Rafael.

He was born in Minneapolis, Minn., and lived briefly in Eureka before coming to Marin.

His wife, Oleta Shields Dillon, preceded him in death. He is survived by two sons, Alvin R. and Paul S. Dillon of San Luis Obispo; a sister, Mrs. Mamie Giacommini of Merrill, Ore., five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral cortege will form at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Henry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the mortuary.

DIPLOMA FOR JUDY AND SKEETER

Skeeter, the dog, was right at the heels of Judy Davis of 74 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, as she received her diploma at Tamalpais High School graduation exercises Sunday from Vice Principal Charles C. Crawford and Trustee Delman D. Smith. "This diploma is awarded to Judy Adel Smith and to Skeeter," said Crawford. It was appropriate. Skeeter has attended Tam High for nine years, seeing three members of the Davis family through their high school education, and patiently waiting for them each day outside classroom doors.

Child Center Funds Sought In Marin City

Administrators of the county schools office will go before the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow with a request for $15,026 to upgrade facilities at the Marin City child care center.

The center has been operated by the Sausalito School District to care for young children of working parents. Operating costs are paid by the state and by parent contribution, but maintenance and capital outlay must come from local agencies, school officials explained. The Sausalito district has not been able to finance necessary items and so the county was requested to take over.

There now are about 60 children in the care center, about one-third of them from outside Marin City.

Approval of the center's budget came at a special meeting last night of the county school board.

Also approved was a $130,676 budget for Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools, three other administrators and 14 clerks and secretaries to staff the county office.

The county board approved also a miscellaneous budget of $193,675 to finance expenses of the board, the County Committee on School District Organization, elections, juvenile hall and mentally retarded education and construction of a unit to house education for the deaf.

All budget items are subject to approval of the board of supervisors.

DISARM 'SHOCK' COULD BE TAKEN

Dominican Symposium Told California Could Sustain Defense Industry Loss

California would be quite able to sustain the "shock" of disarmament despite the great importance of the defense industry to the state's economy, according to Dr. William M. Burke, senior economist of the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco.

Speaking today at Dominican College's "California — Present and Prospect" lecture series, Dr. Burke said, "The influx of men and capital (into California) has created an economy of such size and diversity that it contains the seeds of its own growth.

"California's system of mass higher education, the basis of our economic growth, will continue to contribute to it even if defense expenditures drop.

"It was this educational system and its research facilities which attracted defense and aerospace industry to California in the first place, and which now offset costs and taxes which are higher here than in some competitive states."

Commenting on California's unemployment problem, Dr. Burke noted that the state's net population increase of 1,000 per day, two-thirds of which is due to immigration from other states and countries, accounts for an unemployment rate which usually exceeds that of the rest of the nation.

Yesterday afternoon's program consisted of three lectures dealing with California's redwood wealth, its mineral resources, and its conservation problems.

William S. Picher, president of the Marin Audubon Society, outlined the difference between conservation for the sake of human health and wealth and conservation aimed at preserving the natural order. He said that steps taken to insure the former, such as indiscriminate use of insecticides, often are unsuccessful in their primary goal and have the secondary effect of harming wildilfe, particularly insects, birds and fish.

Philip T. Farnsworth, executive vice president of the California Redwood Assn., said the state would do better to provide recreational facilities and improvements in the redwood parks it already possesses, rather than to attempt to acquire more forest areas. He cited several parks which are inaccessible by auto, without footpaths, and without picnic areas.

Dr. Gordon B. Oakeshott, deputy chief of the State Division of Mines and Geology, discussed California's wealth of minerals, which are, he noted, "an unrenewable resource."

Minerals are a 1.5-billion-dollar industry in the state, he said. About one billion dollars is derived from petroleum production, in which California trails Texas and Oklahoma, while non-metallic minerals, particularly rock, sand and gravel, represent most of the rest. Gold mining, formerly the most lucrative mineral industry in the state, now brings in only about three million dollars.

Tomorrow the general theme will be "The Culture." Among the speakers will be Dean Wallace, art and music critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, 9 a.m.; architect and urban planner Allan Temko, 10:30 a.m., and actor Jack Aranson.

A panel discussion at 2 p.m. will bring together moderator Paul Speegle of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin, Wallace, Aranson, photographer Ansel Adams, novelist Mark Harris, painter Robert Harvey and composer Kirke Mechem.

Scooter Is Stolen From Larkspur Lot

Theft of a new, red motor scooter was reported to San Rafael police at 12:15 a.m. today by Andrew W. Campbell, 105 Pine Lane, Larkspur.

Campbell said he left the scooter last evening in the lot of Saegertown Western Co., 27 Jordan Street, San Rafael, and returned to find it missing. The vehicle had been locked.

Independent Teen Advisory Board Studied

Teen-agers and politics don't mix, the Mill Valley City Council decided last night.

Instead of making appointments to the youth advisory board — a body which Mayor Michael Wornum feels has become "inactive" — the mayor recommended a "steering committee" to reform the entire organization.

Object, said Wornum, was to remove "political pressure" which results in new appointments every two years that a new council administration comes to Mill Valley.

"It is desirable to have the committee free of the council's jurisdiction," the mayor declared. "We venal politicians tend to appoint people for the wrong reasons."

So saying, the mayor appointed Hal Schwartz, chairman of the city's teen center; Joseph Brewster, former parks and recreation commissioner; Richard Parino, and Clay Underhill, chairman of the community and youth center fund, to form a subcommittee, taking the matter "under study."

The four-man committee was instructed to consider the matter of youth advisory programs and report its findings to the council by next January.

"We will be happy to give it a go," Parino told the councilmen from the audience.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks added, "An independent group is certainly a good idea."

Tam District Budget Could Mean Tax Cut

Tamalpais High School District board last night adopted a tentative budget which could lower the tax rate three or more cents.

Expenditures in the tentative budget total $6,119,405, an increase of $306,331 over the current fiscal year but down from the 6.3-million-dollar preliminary budget.

Business manager Frank Cassou said that unless there was a "drastic change," expenditures and tax rate would remain the same as estitmated when the final budget is adopted.

Board members indicated approval of three-cent reduction of the general purpose tax rate of $1.90 per $100 of assessed valuation, made possible because of increased valuations of property in Southern Marin and the Bolinas area.

Cassou said there may be a decrease of about two cents in override taxes, which would come from lower payments to the retirement program.

The total tax rate for this fiscal year, including overrides and bond redemption payments, is $2.21 for the high school district.

The Tamalpais High School Board Also:

1. Approved a seven-step salary schedule for non-teachers which will give some employees of the district in this category raises up to 7 per cent, matching raises given to teachers.

2. Approved a policy of giving teachers up to two days of religious holidays a year without loss of pay and half days off for non-teachers the days before New Year and Christmas Eve.

3. Hired Horton Paul Scioneaux of San Francisco to replace William Wilkinson as Spanish teacher at Redwood High School, and accepted resignations of Wilbur Wilken, driver training instructor, and Dumont Hixon, reading teacher at Tamalpais High School.

4. Learned that Ethel Louise Abbott, English teacher and counselor at Tamalpais High School for 19 years, will retire on her doctor's advice.

5. Directod Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to answer five form letters which the district has received from Sausalito residents requesting the district to lower its tax rate in view of increased valuations placed on property.

6. Approved an exchange of a small piece of property with the City of Mill Valley which will facilitate the widening of Miller Avenue.

14 Are Hurt As Bus Rams Truck

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — A Continental Trailways bus rammed the rear of a truck and ran off Highway 60 today, the California Highway Patrol reported. Fourteen persons were reported injured.

Some were treated at Desert Hospital while others continued to Los Angeles aboard a Greyhound bus.

Patrolman Ernest Felio told a newsman: "It appears the bus was westbound when it struck the back end of a truck, then crossed the center divider, swerved across the eastbound traffic lanes, plunged off the road and down a 10-foot embankment. The bus remained upright."

LBJ Pledges To Aid German Reunification

BONN (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson pledged anew in a letter to Chancellor Ludwig Erhard that the United States will seek the reunification of the two Germanys, the West German government reported today.

"As I told you here," Johnson said, "it is a fundamental objective of American foreign policy to help bring an end to the unjust division of the German people, because otherwise there can be no real and durable stability in Europe."

City Is Frustrated By Anti-Annex Move

The Mill Valley City Council threw up its collective hands in frustration last night in the wake of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission's refusal two weeks ago to permit the city to annex 255 acres of marshland.

"The need for this area is great as ever, but the local annex agency has an absolute veto for one year on this," said Mayor Michael Wornum. "Under the circumstances, there is not a great deal the city can do."

Wornum had called for a review of city policy on annexation to decide "where the city would go from here."

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer told the council the agency had indicated it "would look with favor" on smaller, populated annexations. He suggested stronger liaisons with districts surrounding the city such as Homestead, Alto and El Monte areas.

"Some groups," he noted, "have shown some interest in the possibilities of annexation. We are open to any requests of petitioners."

Warning that the council should first consider "the economic pros and cons" of annexations, Balmer recommended that the council institute a "standing policy" which would enable the city be able to move ahead on annexations appearing advantageous.

At that point, Councilman Albert E. White proposed a "reaffirmation" of the council's former policy on annexation. He also offered a suggestion that the council invite representatives from proposed annexation districts to council meetings.

Reaffirmation of the policy that annexation of adjacent areas is in "the public interest" of Mill Valley was passed unanimously.

Balmer also promised the council he would meet with representatives of surrounding districts in the future.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Heard first reading of an ordinance recommended by the parks and recreation commission rezoning Boyle Park, Freeman Park, Molino Park, Sycamore Park, Miller Grove, Kathleen Norris Park, Golf Course and Pro Shop, Three Wells and the Kott dedicated strip, and the Cascade Reservoir from recreation area to open area.

2. Voted final passage of two ordinances clarifying regulations for city parks and other city lands.

3. Accepted public improvements in Scott Valley Unit 2.

4. Granted Calvin MacIntosh permission for a septic tank at 360 Tamalpais, subject to approval of the county health department.

5. Reappointed Mrs. John P. Farnham and Paul Fourman to the library board for three-year terms. Congratulations were also offered to members for work on the recently passed library bond issue.

6. Set for July 6 public hearing on rezoning of the C. O. Sollom property, west side of Camino-Alto, from commercial services to professional-administration.

7. Confirmed by resolution the Marin County Board of Supervisors canvass of the direct primary election and special municipal bond election of June 2.

8. Sent back to planning commission an application by Dr. John Lee for a use permit for a medical-dental building in a multiple dwelling zone, 279 Miller Avenue. The lot, according to council recommendations, must first be cleared of a home in back which Lee proposed to use for living space.

9. Revoked the use permit of Thomas Meisner to build a mortuary on Miller Avenue across from Tamalpais High School. The permit had not been used for one year.

10. Postponed until next meeting approval for a minor subdivision on the north side of Hazel Avenue by Gladys Mekisich.

11. Adopted the 1964-65 city budget, as approved in budget hearings last week.

Supervisors Hold Off Action On Tidelot Claims

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to hold off action on two claims totalling 1.9 million dollars filed June 8 by owners of tidelots in Richardson Bay.

County Counsel Douglas J. Meloney said the board had until July 13 to act on the claims, and Supervisor Peter H. Behr asked for a two-week delay, suggesting that Maloney meet with the claimants Tom E. Nowell and Kenneth H. and Marian P. Norberg.

Behr said that the claims were unusual, especially since they are probably not covered by any county insurance policy, and said some advance negotiations might solve many problems.

The claims contend that the county has prevented the owners from using their underwater lots for the past five years and that the county has, in effect, confiscated the land without paying for it.

IN THE SOUP

Artist Gets Some Very Sage Advice

He only wanted to make soup and spaghetti.

That's what artist Ambrose J. N. Hollingworth, 31, told Marin County Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff when the officer found several sage plants in Hollingworth's car, parked on a fire road off the Shoreline Highway near Stinson Beach.

Goff told Hollingworth it was unlawful to pick shrubs on state property.

Hollingworth, who has a ruddy mustache and goatee and lives on the ferryboat Charles Van Damme in Sausalito, said he had been doing just that for a long time, and didn't know it was illegal. He said he picked the sage to use in preparing food.

The artist was warned about any more sage gathering, and released.

Man Is Sought As Forest Knolls Fight Suspect

An all-points bulletin was out today for a 47-year-old Daly City man, suspected of hitting Richard F. Hammer of Aztec Road, Forest Knolls, on the head early Sunday, the Marin County Sheriff's office reported.

Hammer was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple scalp cuts. He told deputies that Earl P. Travis of Daly City struck him with an unknown object.

Travis got angry earlier at the Hammer home, and broke Hammer's television set, record player and other furniture, the victim reported. Later, Travis returned and pointed a revolver at Mrs. Barbara Boucher, he related. Hammer said he stepped between them, and a fight started.

Five children under 11 years old were in the house at the time, deputies reported.

Exile Leader Claims Cuba Bomb Rack Work

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soviet technicians are mounting bomb racks on supersonic MIG-21 Russian jet fighters at an underground airbase in Cuba, the Senate's preparedness subcommittee was told today.

The information sent committee chairman John Stennis (D.-Miss.) came from Manuel A. De Varona, a Cuban exile leader who was senate president in Cuba in the Constitutional regime of ex-president Carlos Prio Socarras.

De Varona said his information was based on intelligence reports prepared inside Cuba by forces opposed to the Castro regime.

The Cuban statesman, generally credited with having freed the island's labor movement from communist control in the 1950's, sent Stennis a thousand-word report updating military preparations on Cuba.

He said the installation of bomb racks on the jets gave them nuclear potential and thus threatened U. S. internal security.

"A miscalculation of the Soviet military might in Cuba at a time when freedom-loving Cubans are intensifying their resistance could lead to another Hungary, or could pave the way for a new Soviet fraud," De Varona warned.

Actor Hayden Fined $220 For Auto Row Sit-In

Sterling Hayden of 416 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, was fined $220 and placed on one year probation today in San Francisco Municipal Court for his participation in April in an Automobile Row sit-in.

Hayden entered a "no contest" plea, neither admitting nor denying the charge of trespassing placed against him after police carried him from a civil-rights sit-in at an automobile showroom.

Further charges of unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace had been dismissed in a previous hearing before Judge Leo Friedman.

Hayden's probation includes restrictions against his taking part in similar sit-ins or demonstrations and requires that he gain court permission to leave the country.

Vote Urged On Housing For Elderly

The Marin Citizens Advisory Committee for Senior Citizens voted last night to recommend a Nov. 3 referendum on public housing for elderly residents.

Ten of the 15 committee members were present at the meeting in San Rafael which voted to request the referendum.

The type of husing to be built is to be recommended by the Committee on Housing of Marin's Elderly.

The advisory committee will also send a letter to the supervisor's expressing concern over the county's home nursing service for aged residents, said chairman Harry Heifetz.

"Our only concern," the letter will read, "is that Marin's older people continue to get adequate bedside nursing care."

The committee feels that the surpervisors "are faced with problems in this respect," and will offer its help to look into the situation," added Richard Phenix, coordinator for the project.

No wonder the TV reception was poor!

Residents of Shon Court, a Kaehler - Farrar Development Co. residential development in Novato, complained about the weak signals on their television sets.

So, Philfred E. Kaehler of 640 Sunset Parkway reported to Novato police yesterday, he investigated and found the TV antenna for the whole court had been stolen.

Novato Club Picks Production Theme

"Blackout Bash," was the theme picked for the next production of the Novato Community Club at its meeting last night in the Community House.

This "bash," to be presented the first two weekends in November, will be a broadway review, according to Mrs. Bette Hints, secretary.

Window Is Believed Broken By Boy

A boy reportedly threw a brick through a plate glass window of the beauty salon, 5 El Paseo, Mill Valley, at about 7:22 p.m. yesterday, knocking over a large electric coffee urn and spilling the coffee.

Mary Harkins, owner of the nearby El Paseo Restaurant, reported the incident to police.

Brown Says Reduced Phone Rates Tax Cut

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that a Public Utilities Commission order requiring reduced telephone rates and an 80 million dollar refund to subscribers was actually 'a great reduction in taxes."

The governor told his news conference that this was true because everybody needed and used telephones.

Members of the PUC handed down the order June 11, saying that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. must make the refund and cut its rates by nearly 41 million dollars a year.

Brown declined to give his opinion of the PUC action, saying that he had not studied the decision. However, he noted that he had appointed the PUC members and had "great confidence in their judgement."

KEEPING SHORTCUT

Hilltoppers Get Way On Boyd Park Road

A 20-by-50 foot easement between Tampa Drive and Robert Dollar Drive, near the top of San Rafael Hill, will remain a shortcut for hilltop dwellers driving downtown.

The San Rafael City Council last night spurned a proposal by the parks and recreation commission that access over the easement be closed except to foot traffic.

Robert Dollar Drive is a winding, narrow, semi-surfaced road that runs most of its wiggly length through Boyd Park.

Parks and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said the commission was concerned over the amount of traffic on the drive. He said it was originally intended only for pedestrians but made 20 feet wide for use by fire trucks in an emergency. He said it "is not a city street but a park roadway."

Sain Councilman Harry A. Barbier, who lives near the top of the hill, "It's a lot better than Coleman Drive." This brought applause from the large delegation of hilltop dwellers on hand to protest the closing.

Chairman Arthur Fiedler of the parks commission drew laughs from the hilltoppers when he said "you're running some 20 cars an hour down this." Parks Commissioner Irwin Taranto said it was "a matter of principle whether a public park road should be used as a public thoroughfare . . . If it is it sets some kind of precedent."

"Mr. Taranto," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen, "you have Golden Gate Park in San Francisco." This brought another round of applause.

Charles W. Pierce of 61 Graceland Drive said, "I've never seen 20 cars in any hour save on Easter morning, and they weren't coming through Tampa Drive." Further, he said he had researched planning commission minutes and found that, rather than designating the easement as a pedestrian way, the commission had attempted to get it made 40 feet wide, and its dedication had been a condition of a subdivision permit.

John Brusati, developer of Coleman Heights, confirmed this. Further, he promised to pave the easement to make it easier to get to Robert Dollar Drive.

Councilman L. H. Bud Baar suggested the upper portion of Boyd Park is little used, and automobile traffic from above might benefit park use. He and Mayor John F. McInnis recalled the council a few years ago attempted to get Miss Louise A. Boyd, who gave the park to the city, to permit realignment of the drive to make it a direct connection to B Street.

"I take it the council does not want to take any action to close this easement," said the mayor.

The hilltop delegation, about 30 of whom had signed a petition against the closing, applauded and left, almost emptying the council chamber.

Sausalito Council Unit Tours Town

The Sausalito City Council finance committee toured the town last night for two hours, looking over streets, sidewalks, sewers and stairways in connection with public works projects in the 1964-65 budget.

No action was taken, the council returning to city hall where it discussed possible inclusion of sidewalk construction on Bridgeway between Nevada and Spring streets. The sidewalk would be of special use for school children, reported City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The planning commission budget will be discussed at another finance committee meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in city hall. All councilmen were present except for Mayor Jan Paul Dyk, who is on vacation.

Scout Troopers Plan Newspaper Pickup

Boy Scout Troop 46 of Kentfield will hold a newspaper drive from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Kentfield, Murray Park, Kent Woodlands and Wolfe Grade School areas, to raise money for camping equipment.

Residents may leave papers and magazines for collection at the curb, tied in bundles. Residents outside the collection area may take papers to the lot beside the Kentfield firehouse.

Driver Fined $166

Steven Wade James, 38, Tomales, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 May 14.

No Enthusiasm By Council As Coleman Quits

Daniel P. Coleman was relieved of his duties as acting planner of San Rafael last night, at his own request and with no enthusiasm by the city council.

Coleman, who heads the engineering firm of Dan Coleman Associates, said he found it impossible to continue in the city planner role without damaging the interests of his engineering clients. He has been serving as acting planner since David DuBiel resigned three months ago.

Councilmen L. H. Baar and Fred E. Jensen insisted he should stay on as consultant, which he said he would do if the city wished it. "Our planning is working out for the first time under Dan," declared Baar.

To try to fill Coleman's shoes, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said he had found the planning director of another city, in his present job seven years, who would take the position at $900 per month. He recommended hiring the applicant, whom he called the only satisfactory one among about a dozen interviewed during Coleman's service — which Coleman had insisted initially must be temporary.

Councilmen did not boggle at the $900, although in the past San Rafael has not paid over $750 per month for a planner. They asked Andersen to set up a day this week for them to meet and interview the prospect.

Cyprus Peacekeeping Force 'Should Stay'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— Secretary General Thant recommended today that the U. N. peacekeeping force be kept in Cyprus for a second three months beyond June 27, its scheduled termination date. He warned that its withdrawal now might bring heavy conflict between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Thant made the recommendation in a 40-page report to the Security Council, which is expected to take it up before the end of the week.

ATTENTION: LARKSPUR!

BENEFITS OF THE TAMALPAIS RETIREMENT RESIDENCE TO LARKSPUR AND MARIN

After careful consideration, the undersigned endorse and support in every respect the Larkspur City Council decision to approve the application for the construction of the Tamalpais Retirement Residence on the southerly slope of the Bon Air Hill, for the following reasons:

(1) The project fills a need to prevent the loss from the community of elderly citizens financially able to care for themselves, and to return them and their assets into the main stream of community life, a need which is receiving the earned attention of the Marin Council of Community Services and the H.O.M.E. Committee.

(2) It is estimated the project will annually yield approximately $68,000 in school district taxes, $19,000 in city taxes and $29,000 in county and special district taxes, with no load on the schools and a minimum demand on other community services. It would take eight light industrial plants similar to McGraw-Hill in Corte Madera to equal these tax benefits.

(3) Annual payroll, operating expenses of the project, and expendable income of the residents will total in excess of $1,000,000 per year, much of which can be expected to be spent within the community.

(4) The multi-story, fireproof, elegantly designed building proposed will cover only 15% of the site at terrace level and only 9.1% of the site above that, retaining the balance for recreation, landscaping and the preservation of the century-old oaks and other native trees on the slopes.

(5) The six-acre site is ideally located in the middle of 125 acres of multi-family and professionally zoned property, flanked by the Bon Air Shopping Center, Marin General Hospital, Marin Catholic High School and other institutional uses, eliminating any detriment to neighboring property or residences. There were no objectors living within 2000 feet of the site, and beyond that very few.

(6) The sponsors of the project are well-known, well-established and respected local citizens, and the project will be privately financed.

(7) This is not a precedent for multi-story building in Marin County. Others have been approved by the Cities of Sausalito and San Rafael, and the County of Marin.

(8) The project was supported at the hearings by a preponderance of the audience, a petition containing some 225 names, the Marin County Development Association and has been enthusiastically received by the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce, Larkspur Lions Club and Ross Valley Kiwanis Club.

(9) A project for the elderly may not depend on stairs, and since there is no reasonably located level area available on which a one-story project of this type would be financially feasible, the only alternative is a multi-story building.

This ad has been placed to correct much misinformation that has been spread regarding this project.
If you have signed a petition against this project, we earnestly request that your signature be repudiated by a letter to the City Council.

PILOT PRESIDENT?

Clausen Stresses Victory For GOP

By DONALD G. DAVIS

The importance of electing a majority of Republicans to the House of Representatives in the November elections with enough strength to elect a Republican president "on our shirttails," not vice versa, was stressed last night by Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

Clausen spoke as honoree at a Marin County Republican Central Committee appreciation dinner at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

Clausen said he does not know who the Republican presidential candidate will be, but sounding the theme of unity, he declared "we all owe our responsibility" to whoever that candidate may be.

While predicting the Republican Party will control the House and win the presidency, Clausen added with a touch of caution, "If we don't win the White House but control the House of Representatives, what is that boy from Texas going to do?"

He asked that his party run strictly on the issues, and offer constructive alternatives — that "too big" a federal government takes control away from local areas, that exchanges of "ideals and ideas" is what is needed on the international scene, that private peace corps be utilized to export knowledge.

After expressing his regret at not being able to come home to his First Congressional District "as often as I like," Clausen told an audience of more than 500 his ideas for an "ideal candidate" for president.

He said in the space age one must consider a qualified pilot. (This drew partisan laughter and applause with Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's name mentioned at several tables. Goldwater is an Air Force Reserve pilto.)

Clausen's other qualifications: Someone who believes in strong local government as opposed to federal bureaucracy, who believes in returning some of the federal tax money to the states, who believes in the sovereignty of the individual, the state and the federal government in that order, and one who must have a declaration of national policy "if we are to win the cold war."

The slipping to a lighter vein, he said, "Since none of the present candidates qualify, I'll announce for the presidency of the U. S."

Labeling President Lyndon B. Johnson a "spender in miser's clothing," Clausen said the "LBJ honeymoon is over."

He charged that Johnson is turning Laos over to the Communists, that he has an inept and vacillating policy in South America, is wrecking the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and is giving away the Panama Canal by retreating, and that Johnson wants to bury the Bobby Baker case "once and for all."

Clausen was introduced by Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson of San Diego, vice-chairman of the California Republican Central Committee.

Parkinson, who had attended a meeting yesterday in San Francisco of Republican leaders striving for state unity, said the party had "a truly, sincere meeting of the minds," dedicated to teamwork.

The dinner was preceded by a cocktail hour, and the presence of Goldwater and Rockefeller buttons showed that the spirit of unity and teamwork had not quite yet matched conviviality and cheerful and friendly optimism of the crowd. Just a few hours earlier in New York, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced his support of Gov William M. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the GOP presidential nomination.

Again at dinner there was a note of solidarity but choice in the dessert. Frozen ice cream elephants were served with no attempt at jokes. But they were of many colors and flavors, enough for everyone's tastes.

Introductions were made by Gerald E. Misner, county central committee chairman. Edwin W. Thomas was dinner chairman. The invocation was by Rev. Tod W. Ewald of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, Corte Madera. Former Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber led the Pledge of Allegiance. Entertainment was by the Fourentals.

Old St. Hilary's Landmark Will Be Open To Public

Old St. Hilary's landmark in Tiburon will be open to the public Wednesdays and Sundays from noon to 4 p.m. starting tomorrow, the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society announced today.

Built in 1888 and used for services until 1954, Old St. Hilary's is considered to be of historical and architectural importance as one of the few examples of carpenter's gothic in California to survive in its original condition.

The building was purchased in 1959 by the landmarks society and was rededicated in 1960 as a historical landmark.

The first exhibit will be a collection of Tiburon pictures in honor of the new City of Tiburon.

Anshen's Will Goes To Probate

Will of S. Robert Anshen, 54-year-old architect found dead in his San Francisco office May 26, was admitted to probate yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The will leaves an estate worth more than $10,000, including real estate and drawing an income of over $5,000 yearly, and names a blonde woman companion, Sarah Rafetto, 35-year-old divorcee, as beneficiary of a large portion.

An investigation is still under way into the mysterious fire at Anshen's DeSilva Island home in Marin County the night before his death.

Free Peacock Gap Park Accepted By San Rafael

The City of San Rafael last night accepted a free park in Peacock Gap.

The city council found no fault with the offer of the Draper Companies to develop and hand over to the city a 1.85-acre park at Riviera and Biscayne drives, which will include a Little League-size baseball diamond.

It made only one proviso: that the company coordinate development of the park with the plans of Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota.

About seven acres adjoining the park has been offered to the San Rafael Elementary School District at $10,000 per acre as a school site.

Three-fourths of the people in the United States never have traveled in a commercial airplane. Half the population, according to a recent study, moves no farther than 200 miles from home in the course of a year.

Preliminary Budget Set For School

Tomales Bay School District trustees last night adopted a preliminary budget of $73,682 for 1964-65, which calls for an eight-cent increase in the tax rate, according to Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board.

This year's rate is $1.22 per $100 assessed valuation for operations plus 28 cents for bond retirement.

The budget is $2,762 more than the $70,920 budget this year. The board set Aug. 3 for the public hearing on the budget.

Henris Roofing Service of Petaluma was given a $425 contract to reroof the Marshal School and shed, with the job to be completed before school starts in the fall.

Trustees accepted the letters for Tomales Elementary School, as a gift from the eighth grade, to be placed on the new building at the Tomales School.

The board voted to continue the milk program for next year.

Sharing food and drink with friends after the ceremony is the most widespread of all marriage customs among all races and cultures, the National Geographic Society says.

Brewery Talks Break Down

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There was another breakdown in negotiations aimed at settling the California brewery strike and lockout last night.

Conciliator Eugene Barry said today no new meeting has been arranged between the Teamsters Union and the California Brewers Assn.

Most of the state's big breweries have been idle since May 11.

Anemones balanced on a long, semi-transparent tube with flower-like tenacles, have been known to burrow four feet in the mud.

Corte Madera Manager Says No Dredging For Sanitation

The Town of Corte Madera is not responsible for paying for dredging which will provide sanitation benefits and use of waterways for boats in Mariner Cove, Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said last night.

Brandow's statement came at the town council meeting where Herbert C. Leney, chairman of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. board, requested that the town dredge San Clemente Creek for flood control, navigation and sanitation reasons.

The council decided to take the matter up at its budget session Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Leney said there was a high bacteria count in the lagoon where children were playing Sunday. With full development of Mariner Highlands, more runoff will be coming through Mariner Cove. Docks could be constructed by residents to meet a channel dredged in the middle of the creek, he said.

Brandow said the town was responsible for flood control "but certainly the taxpayers are not responsible for sanitation and navigation benefits." He said the silting problem was serious and that the creek would have to be dredged within the next five years.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Authorized Brandow to negotiate with the Del Mahood family for purchase of the site of the Public Safety Building at $28,500, price set by appraiser Neil J. Brosgaard.

2. Heard Brandow report that in the last month the police department had served 48 of 106 warrants issued by other jurisdictions which is "probably the best record in the county."

3. Authorized the expenditure of $500 for shoring up the lagoon in Fifer Industrial Park, with the cost to be repaid by the property owner.

Marin Couple Hurt In Oregon

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Draper of 194 Central Avenue, Woodacre, were recovering in a Lakeview, Ore., hospital today from injuries suffered last Saturday when their truck skidded off a road during a storm.

Their son, James D. Draper of 335 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, said they were returning from vacation at Yellowstone National Park when a tire blew out and the vehicle went off the road.

Draper suffered a slight concussion. His wife's collar-bone was fractured.

Steaks, Money Missing At Home

A hungry burglar was not in a hurry last Friday when he broke into the home of Frank G. Barberis on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Lagunitas.

Barberis told Marin County Sheriff's deputies someone took $60 from under a rug in his bedroom, then removed two steaks from the refrigerator and ate them before leaving.

The burglar entered the house by a rear window which had previously been broken and covered by cardboard.

Planners Again Seek Zoning Administrator

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday again asked the county board of supervisors to approve money to hire a zoning administrator and a zoning enforcement field man.

The action was taken in preparation for coming budget sessions.

The commission held off, on a recommendation that four more planning staff members be hired, agreeing rather with County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that two men be hired in December and one other two be deferred until the 1965-66 fiscal year.

The resolution on the increase in staff stated that if a program of advance planning projects outlined by planning director B. D. Dobbs is to be completed in the next fiscal year, the four men would have to be hired.

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. said he feared that when the advance planning work was done, the staff would be too large for the day-to-day chores of the department but would not be cut.

He also asked that the job of streamlining the county zoning ordinance, cutting out many requirements for staff time, be given high priority.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Granted architectural supervision of plans of the Community Congregational Church, on 4.9 acres at the end of Rock Hill Road in what is soon to be the city of Tiburon.

2. Denied a request by William Radford to split a lot at 19 Old Landing Road, near Tiburon, into two lots both under the 20,000-square foot minimum for the area.

3. Denied a three-lot subdivision at 120 Beatie Road, Black Point, requested by Vern Love, although there are now three houses on the property, because two lots would have no on-site parking on street frontage.

4. Approved a revision of the tentative map of Wolfe Glen Way, presented by Trico Enterprises, Inc.

5. Granted Paul and Ova Smith a permit to excavate and grade a site for a proposed motel west of the existing Fireside Motel on Shoreline Highway, near Tamalpais Valley; and gave architectural approval to the motel plans.

6. Gave architectural approval to plans by Donald Marchus to convert a single-family residence at 10-16 Marine Way, Stinson Beach, into a duplex and construct two rental units over an existing carport.

7. Recommended that a new section of the Ignacio interchange, a southerly extension of Entrada Drive, be named Entrada Drive.

8. Granted architectural approval of plans for a swimming pool equipment building at Atherton Club property, Atherton Avenue and H Lane, Novato.

Fall From Horse

Audrey Richardson, 17, of 341 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital by city ambulance at 9 p.m. yesterday after it was reported she fell off a horse in front of Edna Maguire School. Miss Richardson was X-rayed, examined and released with no apparent injury.

Judy May Wed Again And Again

YOKOHAMA (UPI) — A radiant Judy Garland said today on her arrival from Hong Kong that she had married her traveling companion, Mark Herron, twice and might do it again in Japan.

"I think we ought to get married every place we go," she told reporters after arriving here on the liner President Roosevelt.

The singer displayed a red, leather - bound marriage certificate, written mostly in Chinese.

Mill Valley Will Build Road Over Rail Tunnel

The Mill Valley City Council decided to cross a tunnel with an access road last night, shaking off fears that the Northwestern Pacific Railroad structure might collapse and cause a disaster similar to the San Rafael Puerto Suello Tunnel collapse of 1961.

City engineer Stanley M. Bala told the council it is "next to impossible" for the tunnel, which separates Scott Valley Subdivision Unit 3 from other developments, to collapse.

"I have surveyed the tunnel, for fitness of the rock," he reported, "and I think it is sound. It could only collapse in case of a very severe earthquake."

He also reported the findings of Harding Associates, soil engineers of San Rafael, who measured the distance between the proposed roadbed and the roof of the tunnel. It was found to be 48 feet long.

"There is six and one-half feet of top soil, 11.5 feet of crushed rock, and 29.5 feet of solid rock present," he told the council. "It is very remote that the structure will collapse."

Another problem perturbing the council was that Northwestern Pacific Railroad said it would not be liable for the road should the tunnel collapse. The railroad had been held liable for the road above the Puerto Suello tunnel.

The tunnel clears way for the railroad track going from Corte Madera Ridge to Alto Bowl. The council had instructed City Atty. Leland M. Jordan to review the city's indemnity in the proposed agreement.

Jordan reported that the contract contained "as expected, a provision which releases the railroad from liability resulting from the maintenance of the road over the tunnel. He haid he did not consider such a provision objectionable.

Several councilmen expressed fears concerning homes in the area, should an earthquake occur.

Bala concluded by saying, "I wouldn't worry about homes in case of a disastrous earthquake—they wouldn't be there anyway."

The council voted unanimously to adopt the resolution accepting the proposed easement.

Largest Class Is Graduating At Quentin

Members of the largest graduating class from San Quentin Prison's Bayview High School will receive diplomas at 7:30 p.m. today in the garden chapel at the prison.

Certificates of completion of University of California extension division courses will be presented to 22 inmates. There will be 84 men graduating from elementary school during the ceremonies, according to Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Dr. Don Jose Aubertine of San Francisco, chairman of the prison's dental advisory committee, will present certificates of completion of vocational training to 57 inmates.

Presenting the high school diplomas will be County Supervisor Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, member of the academic advisory committee of Bayview High School. Arnold Dolcini Jr., president of the Marin County Board of Education, will present the elementary school diplomas.

Theodore Neff of the State Department of Education will speak to the graduates. Music will be provided by the prison's 40-voice glee club and 25-member concert band.

Planning Meet Off—No Room

The Novato Planning Commission did not hold its adjourned meeting last night because there was no vacant room in the community house.

It adjourned until 8 p.m. today when it will meet in the auditorium while the city council meets in the council chambers.

The commission adjourned last week to finish its agenda this week. This is the second attempt by the commission to finish its regular agenda of last Monday.

Novato Landscaping Action Is Postponed

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night postponed further action on landscaping center islands in the downtown stretch of Highway 101 to await report of a committee on the subject appointed by the city council.

The parks commission also decided to make no "united front" at a joint meeting with the planning commission on June 29 to discuss parks. Each member will give his own views.

Youth Graduated

Richard Baum, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Baum of 28 Rutherford Avenue, San Anselmo, has graduated cum laude from Cate School in Carpinteria, Santa Barbara County.

Agenda Too Long, So Hub Planners To Meet Again

The San Anselmo Planning Commission, unable to wade completely through a long agenda last night, will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday in city hall.

Public hearing on application of Harry Broglioli of 32 The Alameda to operate a trailer court and other public rental at 100 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was postponed to next Monday because he was absent.

Hugh M. Wilcox of 230 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, withdrew application to build and operate a root beer drive-in at 220 Greenfield Avenue.

Lido Artegiana was denied duplex rezoning at 31 Lansdale Avenue, in a single-family dwelling zone.

Jim Stewart was granted permission to convert a single family residence to a duplex at San Anselmo and Madrone Avenues, but Mary E. Orr was denied permission for a second duplex at 36 Ash Avenue.

Monday the commission will hear applications by Norman T. Gilroy to develop apartments on his property on Red Hill; by Sunny Hills Home to construct new buildings, and by the Bay Counties Realty Corp. to divide four lots at Scenic Avenue and Canyon Road into five.

Photocopy Machine Installed By Library

A public self-service photocopying machine has been installed at San Rafael Public Library, librarian Vivian R. Smith announced today.

She said the machine copies pictures and maps as well as printing. The photocopyer may be used during the hours the library is open: 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturdays.

NCO Graduate

Marine Lance Cpl. Garvis L. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Martin of 87 East Crescent Street, San Rafael, graduated recently from Non-Commissioned Officers School, Division Schools Center, Camp Pendleton.

Underground Utility Lines To Be Required

Corte Madera town councilmen indicated last night they would follow the lead of San Rafael and Mill Valley in requiring underground utility lines in new subdivisions.

The council introduced an amendment to the subdivision ordinance which would require full underground utilities.

If the developer proved that it would not be feasible, alternatives would be the "streamline" system, wood poles in rear yard easements, or wood poles in street rights of way.

Developers would have to pay the utility companies the difference in cost between conventional and underground system.

Robert W. Figone, district representative of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., objected, saying that "there is little aesthetics to be gained."

R. W. Kerr, senior engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., said his company "was very happy with the proposal."

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst was absent.

Trustees Go 'Round And 'Round On Budget

Trustees of Reed School District almost—but not quite—approved a tentative budget last night for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

With Supt. Edward C. Pino reminding trustees that they had "at least five long meetings" on the budget, board members gave tentative approval to the tentative budget. An almost silent audience of 15 persons sat through most of the three and one-half hour budget session with only minor comments on the $1,067,472 budget, up from $816,861 for the current year.

Trustee approval came with understanding that at the June 30 meeting, where the board must make the final decision, trustees would consider whether the budget could be trimmed without materially hurting the district's curriculum and maintenance of buildings and equipment.

But again and again Superintendent Pino told trustees that the proposed budget was only holding the line, that there would be no real gain in curriculum quality, and that the budget would just cover the expected rise in enrollment from 1,460 pupils to 1,600 and the opening seventh-eighth grade Granada School set for Oct. 16.

Pino came under close questioning by trustees who asked him to take $25,000 from specific budget items and place the amount in the unallocated reserve before they gave tentative approval to the budget. A portion of that money may go toward raises in teacher salaries requested by the staff but not included in the budget.

Trustees also asked that for the June 30 meeting Pino set aside another $25,000 in specific budget items from which trustees might —or might not—consider cuts.

Pino said the budget had been "too austere" the past two to three years and there is "danger of delaying too long a real significant increase in the tax rate" which he said was needed "just to maintain ourselves."

Much of the increase will come from a proposed over-ride tax of 49 cents per $100 assessed valuation which, under a new state law, trustees can levy without voter approval. The tax, by law, is for seventh and eighth grades.

Proposed total tax rate for the coming fiscal year is $3.415, compared to the present $2.83 per $100 assessed valuation.

As the meeting wore on toward 10:30, trustee Richard J. MacLaury threatened to leave and the audience slowly began walking out.

"I want this budget approved, disapproved or amended," Pino insisted.

"Our purpose is to see if we can save the taxpayers some money," said Trustee David D. Ring.

"I'm kind of against going against what the people of this district said in the last tax election," put in Trustee Marilyn C. Steinau. District voters last October turned down a proposed $1 rise in the rate. Over-ride taxes of 49 cents for upper grades and five and one-half cents for health and welfare services and other over-rides may be levied without voter approval.

"I think we should stay here and go down item by item until you say where we can save," said MacLaury. "I don't want one person saying we're spending too much."

Mrs. Steinau said the budget represented "more than a modest improvement" in the Reed program, not just a hold-the-line budget as Pino had said.

Trustee Leo Souza, worrying through the meeting about the board's "image" with the public, said he believed the public had in effect accepted the higher budget and over-ride taxes as there were so few persons present for the budget meeting after trustees had previously gone on record as favoring an over-ride up to 45 cents. He said he had received no protest.

"The community apparently has accepted an over-ride," he said.

Wampum, the media of exchange between early explorers and Indians in America, consisted of tiny purple and white pierced beads made from the inner sides of clam shells. Colored beads were the more valuable.

Boat Worth $100 Reported Missing

Roger M. Mitchell, 22, of Teacher's Beach, Inverness, has reported theft of his eight-foot pram from the private beach in front of his home.

He told the Marin County sheriff's office the pram was lying about 85 feet from the water, under a tree. A round-bottom, plastic boat, it is valued at $100.

Warehousemen's Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Northern California warehousemen of two unions have ratified a new three-year agreement. It affects about 25,000 members of the Teamsters Union and International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Wages will be boosted 10 cents an hour.

BRIEF TIME OUT FOR A LONG CRISIS

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (UPI) — The Papua-New Guinea Assembly solved a crisis yesterday when a three-foot snake was discovered in the public gallery.

Speaker H. R. Niall called a recess.

Then one lawmaker removed his shoe. He handed it to another assemblyman.

Thump!

Guards removed the dead snake.

Speaker Niall declared the session resumed.

Teen Help Sought For Landscaping

The City of Belvedere will try to enroll teen-agers to assist in a summer program of landscaping San Rafael Avenue.

The city council last night heard G. Roger Felton, appointed by the council, describe plans for the landscaping, and agreed to ask the recreation commission to try to work out a plan for the use of teen-age help.

City Atty. William H. MacKay informed the council Cove and Lagoon roads cannot be closed before holding a public hearing which has been scheduled for the July 20 council meeting. Also, he said, the closing must be approved by the California Division of Highways.

Tam Unification Vote Urged Again

Mill Valley School District trustees last night adopted a resolution urging a second vote on the proposal for a Tamalpais Unified School District.

The proposal, which would unite all districts now within Tamalpais High School District, failed of passage in the June 2 election.

The resolution will be sent to Earl G. Marshall, chairman of Marin County committee on School District organization.

The vote was 3-1, trustees M. James Norton, Mrs. Joyce Gross and John G. Donhoff voting "yes," trustee Edward A. Kemp voting "no," and Dr. William L. Clark abstaining.

Belvedere Planners

The Belvedere Planning Commission will meet on June 22 at 8 p.m. in the community hall, having postponed its meeting from last night because of a conflict with the city council's adjourned meeting.

Brothers Mark Fortieth Year Together In Banking Services

Two brothers, one of them a Marin resident, will celebrate completion of their 40th year of full-time service with the Bank of America next week.

George A. Moreno of San Rafael (Country Club) and his brother Sinclair of San Francisco began their part-time service in 1921 together—and three years later embarked on their banking careers in earnest. George is now manager of the Clay-Montgomery branch in San Francisco, while Sinclair is assistant vice president in accounts receivable in the San Francisco head office.

A native of Acapulco, Mexico, the Marin Moreno was appointed manager of the West Portal branch in 1946 after serving in a variety of positions and departments. Seven years later he was advanced to manager of the Bay View branch, and assumed his present position in 1961.

CONGRATULATIONS to San Rafael realty broker William Timmer, who is still showing the reflected $-signs in his eyes from last month's property sales. His 10 salesmen racked up a total of $1,008,350 in 34 separate transactions. May, 1964, was the first month Timmer's sales reached seven figures since he opened his office more than 10 years ago.

SAN RAFAEL men's clothier Warren Marcus holds that a bridegroom is the "forgotten man" as far as June—or for that matter, any other month—is concerned. The best man falls in the same category.

Fathers get a break next Sunday; brides are feted all month long. But no one gives the groom much thought in explaining just what ceremony responsibilities and expense he lets himself in for, after popping the question and being accepted. (Maybe he wouldn't be so eager to pop it if he knew all this ahead of time.

So the Marcus Shop has had a list of helpful hints for grooms and their aides compiled. Free for the asking while the supply lasts. After that you're on your own.

PATRICK H. PRICE of Mill Valley, who was recently promoted to assistant manager of the loan department at San Francisco Savings and Loan Assn., has been elected president of the Bay Area Mortgage Assn.

INSURANCE. Edwin F. Cutler of Terra Linda has been appointed vice president of Fireman's Fund Insurance Companies. Cutler joined Fireman's Fund in 1946 and has been assistant controller since 1961. He will assist in supervising nation-wide accounting and statistical operations. . . Donald L. Mincey of San Anselmo has been appointed a salesman for New York Life Insurance Co.

GEORGE A. MORENO
Completes 40th banking year

DALE B. SEESEE
To manage auto dealership

DALE B. SEESEE of Novato has been appointed general manager of Ellis Brooks Chevrolet, San Francisco. He has been with the automobile firm since 1949.

THE HALF-HOUR color documentary film, "Wonderful World of San Francisco," which will compete in the International Exhibition of Cinematographic Art to be held in Venice, Italy, during August, features a full sequence on Marin visitor attractions—including Muir Woods, Sausalito, Belvedere, Tiburon and other locations. Vista Productions of San Francisco was the producer. Film coordination was done by the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Sometimes it's an advantage to be the neighbor of a "big brother" city.

THREE COURSES by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers will be offered at the University of San Francisco during August. Covered are basic appraisal principles, urban properties and condemnation. Contact Arthur G. Lee at Northern California chapter offices, 1 Sansome Street, San Francisco, for details.

Phone Merger Gets Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stockholders of Western Utilities Corp. and its three affiliates have approved a merger with General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

The merger was approved at New York and San Francisco stockholder meetings of Western Utilities and its affiliates —California Water and Telephone Co., Southwestern States Telephone Co., and West Coast Telephone Co.

All are based in San Francisco and serve about 635,000 telephones in portions of seven states.

The Greeks called it a "water stealer" or Clepsydra. An example of this unusual-type water clock is on display at the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park. Such clocks were used up until the 18th century.

TAX CUT'S FIRST FRUITS

Lawmakers Study New Taxation Proposals

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — First economic fruits of the federal income tax cut are whetting some congressional appetites for further tax revisions. Suggestions range from comparatively minor tax relief to adopting levies until now untried in this country.

The House Ways and Means Committee this week is studying what to do about excise taxes or several substitute levies, including the value-added tax on manufacturing. This European variant could replace the excise or sales tax or even lower the corporate income tax.

The administration is reported studying the possibility of greater use of income taxes as an economic weapon against any future recession.

The argument is that if cutting individual and corporate income taxes by some $11.5 billion a year is good for this year's economy, why wouldn't other tax reforms be just the right medicine for future economic upsets? The likely stumbling block is that the administration would like the power to raise or lower income tax rates quickly at any sign of trouble and Congress is loathe to give up its right to make any changes, and at its own pace.

The House later this week will get around to a more specific and present matter—the extension for another year of the present excise or sales taxes on cosmetics, jewelry, handbags, furs and the like. These war-time taxes have been on a year to year basis.

Since they bring in a fairly regular and dependable revenue, while income tax receipts swing widely with economic ups and downs, the excise taxes have strong supporters in Congress and the administration. And some would like to see more reliance on federal sales taxes and less on income taxes that may discourage investment.

One argument against this is that sales taxes should be left to the state and local governments. Another is that the levies penalize the industries whose products are singled out for the special taxation.

The newcomer to the debate this year is the European value-added tax. A sales or excise tax is based on the price at which a manufacturer sells his product, or on the price at which the ultimate consumer buys it from a store.

The value-added tax is based on the gross receipts or sales of the manufacturer minus the cost of goods or materials he purchased from others. The value he has added to these raw materials for the tax's purposes includes wages, salaries, rent, interest and profits.

The value-added tax is also paid by all the manufacturer's suppliers. Proponents stress that this puts the burden on all stages of production while the excise tax affects only the finished item. Also a low rate would bring in large sums to the Treasury.

Steels, Motors Lead Fairly Active Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market closed higher today. Trading was fairly active.

Dealings were more vigorous than in recent sessions as steels, motors, airlines and a wide range of selected issues posted sharp gains.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.16 million yesterday.

Gains of key stocks moved from fractions to a point or more.

Steels were in demand. U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin rose more than a point each. Lukens spurted more than 3, Wheeling and Copperweld Steel about 2 each.

General Motors, recovering from yesterday's dip, advanced more than a point. All other leading auto stocks gained fractions.

Chrysler was running well ahead of Texas Gulf Sulphur as the most active stock. Texas Gulf was about unchanged.

Tobaccos, soft in early trading, firmed and moved higher on news of bigger cigarette shipments.

Some of the airlines made sharp gains. Up more than a point were Pan American, National and Delta.

IBM rose more than 3, U.S. Smelting more than 4, Xerox and Control Data better than 2 each.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly higher.

Standard Oil Reduces Price

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of California has reduced prices on premium gasoline by one cent a gallon.

Retail prices at Standard and dealer-operated stations were reduced to 33.9 cents a gallon on the premium grade and to 35.9 on the highest premium grade.

The regular grade price of 30.9 cents was unchanged.

The price changes are effective in eight western states where Standard of California operates.

Bank Syndicate Buys School Bonds

SAN FRANCISCO — Bank of America underwriting syndicates has purchased two San Mateo County school bond issues totaling $2,019,000.

One Bank of America group bought the $1,750,000 bond issue of the San Mateo Junior College District. A second bank syndicate purchased the $269,000 bond issue of the Half Moon Bay Union High School District.

More Reaction To Market Is Expected

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu and Stetson says that the current rally from the recent reactionary slide will be over soon and prices again will be vulnerable to another slow moving reaction that will carry it back again.

Thurlow believes the first phase of the reaction is now over, but suspects there is more to come. He also feels the preset pattern of price movements bears many resemblances to the events of 1960.

Albert M. Klein and Stuart W. Graff of Reuben and Co., Inc. feel the market's lackluster performance over the past week or so appears partially due to discounting of the bright economic news. However, the firm feels the economy will score significant advances in the coming months and be reflected in the popular averages.

Bache and Co. says the market should soon begin anticipating second quarter earnings reports and feels it is advisable to accumulate well situated issues on any current weakness.

Freightways Says May Sales Up

SAN FRANCISCO — Consolidated Freightways, Inc. today reported that May sales and earnings continued the improvement trend which has put the company far ahead of last year.

May earnings of $510,000, equal to 20 cents a share, boosted the year to date figure to $1,732,000, or 68 cents a share, last May, and $252,000, or 9 cents a share, in the first five months of 1963.

May sales were $17,130,000, up 4 per cent from last May. Year to date sales total $84,457,000, 11 per cent ahead of 1963.

Richardson Bay Hearing Is Scheduled

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday set a specail meeting on the Richardson Bay master plan for June 29 at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center.

At that time the Marin Conservation League and Marin Rod and Gun Club are expected to present their plan for the Bay.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said all persons who have proposals to present should offer them at this session of the commission.

The commission has to make its decision on Richardson Bay plans before July 7.

The commission also set hearing on the West Marin master plan for June 29 at 8 p.m. with county supervisors expected to attend.

Probation Given In Robbery Case

Thomas Ezekial Rivera, 24, was placed on three years probation in Marin Superior Court yesterday on his guilty plea to two counts of armed robbery.

The sentence was in a Feb. 13 crime spree in which Rivera robbed Joyce Elizabeth McColm in the real estate office of Howard M. Morse, 1726 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and Mrs. Mabel K. Timmer and her daughter, Anita, at Court San Rafael motel on Puerto Suello Hill.

Charges of kidnaping Mrs. McColm, of 6 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, and of robbing Opal and Labran Judd, elderly Oregon couple, were dismissed May 18.

Rivera is an escapee from Napa State Hospital. Probation terms require continued psychiatric treatment.

Prison Inmate Denies Possession Of Knife

Walter E. Bradford, San Quentin Prison inmate charged with illegal possession of a sharp instrument, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday and jury trial was scheduled for July 14.

Bradford, who allegedly had the weapon in his possession March 11 at the prison, is serving terms for burglaries in Mendocino and San Luis Obispo counties.

HURRY, BALL — San Francisco Giants shortstop Jose Pagan waits for the throw from catcher Tom Haller as Cincinnati leftfielder Tommy Harper slides safely into second with a steal during the fifth inning of yesterday's game at Candlestick Park. Harper was safe by a wide margin, but got no farther before the inning ended. (AP Wirephoto)

GIANTS GO FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT

It's Sanford Vs. Cincy Tonight

The San Francisco Giants, trailing the pace-setting Philadelphia Phillies by eight percentage points, go after their fourth straight win tonight when they square off again with the Cincinnati Reds at Candlestick Park.

Jack Sanford (4-6), beaten in his last three decisions, is slated to start for the Giants against John Tsitouris (2-4), who won 12 games for the Reds last year and has become one of Manager Fred Hutchinson's mainstays.

Rookie Jim Ray Hart redeemed himself yesterday by singling home a ninth inning run that gave the Giants a 6-5 victory over the Reds. The powerful third sacker had bobbled a grounder in the Red's half of the ninth which set up an unearned tally as they scored twice to deadlock the score, 5-5.

"I tried to push the ball," Hart said of the game-winning hit which bounced through the box and into center field as Willie McCovey galloped on in from second base.

The losing pitch was tossed up by Ryne Duren, who had just come in with nobody out to relieve Bill Henry after the southpaw had walked the first two batters he faced.

Asked if he thought about ordering Hart to bunt, Manager Alvin Dark said he had thought of the possibility but "that wasn't the play in that situation."

Hart hadn't hit in three official times at bat in the game but he had 7 for 13 in the previous four.

Dark didn't comment further on the strategy except saying a bunt wasn't the play in the situation.

Had Hart sacrificed, however, the Reds undoubtedly would have walked Tom Haller to fill the bases. Then it would have been up to Gil Garrido, hitting just .080. Dark had catcher Del Crandell as a pinch hitter, but previous substitutions did not leave another available shortstop.

Henry wound up with the loss, his first against one victory. Billy O'Dell, who is being used for relief of late as he recovers from an aching back, went home the winner and now is 2-1.

But square-jawed Bill looked more like a loser in the ninth inning as the Reds came back to tie the score while he gave up a run-scoring double to Johnny Edwards and allowed two walks. It was during this frame that Hart booted Steve Boros's grounder at third base and kept the Reds alive.

Dark used a total of four relief pitchers during the last two and two-thirds innings in the battle of strategy. Hutchinson countered with three firemen, including Joey Jay who was banged for a two-run triple in the eighth by pinch-hitter Cap Peterson as the Giants took a 5-3 advantage.

Cincinnati moved out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning at the expense of starter Bob Hendley who gave up a bases empty home run to Deron Johnson in that frame and was tagged for six hits and three runs over a span of six and a third innings.

After the Reds added an unearned run as the result of Hendley's throwing error in the fifth, Willie Mays drove in the first Giants tally in the home half by singling Hendley across from second.

The Giants picked up another run in the seventh then took their brief lead with the three run blast in the eighth.

LEMA IN SPOTLIGHT AT NATIONAL OPEN

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The blue-bloods of golf began pouring into the sweltering nation's capital yesterday for the 64th U. S. Open championship, and the hottest topic was not Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus, but Champagne Tony Lema.

No one was more impressed by Lema's current winning streak—two tournaments in a row—than Palmer himself.

"I'll tell you why Tony is going so well: That rascal has my putter," said Palmer, the Master's champion who is eager to forge the second link in a professional grand slam.

"I gave him my putter earlier this year in Oklahoma City. He was having trouble on the greens and I said, 'Here, try this.' He did, and he's been going great guns ever since. I should make him give it back, but I'm no Indian given."

Lema used the putter to win the $20,000 first prize in the Thunderbird at Rye, N. Y., sinking an eight-foot birdie put on the final green, and he had it blast-hot again this past weekend in taking the $8,000 top purse in the Buick Open.

CO-FAVORITES

The tall, handsome stylist from San Leandro, Calif., who treats friends to champagne every time he wins a title, certainly will be one of the leading favorites—along with Palmer and Nicklaus—when 150 of the world's best golfers tee it np Thursday over the long and toughened Congressional Country Club course.

Muggy heat—temperatures in the 90s and high humidity—greeted early arrivals for the 72-hole, three-day test, rated the hardest and most important in the sport.

"I've been playing in these things for 24 years, and I've never seen it hotter—not even at Dallas in 1952 and Tulsa in 1958," said Sam Sneed, wiping prespiration from his brow. "Man, it's awful."

The heat brought one blessing. It baked the 7,053-yard par 35-35-70 course to concrete hardness and gave some added roll to the drives. Birdies, which have been at a premium, came easier.

Twins-Tribe, Cards-Cubs In Big Trades At Last Minute

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Minnesota Twins, acting quickly just before the clock struck midnight, have tapped veteran right-hander Jim "Mudcat" Grant to play a Cinderella role in the American League pennant chase.

Balked in earlier atempts to bolster their pitching staff, the Twins completed an 11th-hour deal with Cleveland last night just before the midnight trading deadline, acquiring Grant in exchange for pitcher Lee Stange, a player to be named later and an undisclosed amount of cash.

In a major six-player deal between National League clubs, St. Louis sent former 20-game winner Ernie Broglio, reliever Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens to the Chicago Cubs for outfielder Lou Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Grant, 28, had been hit hard this season, starting nine games and completing only one. He had a 3-4 record with a 5.95 earned run average, but is an established major league starter of known quality with a 64-59 lifetime record entering this season. He was 13-14 last year.

Strange, a promising righthander in his fourth season in the majors, impressed last year with a 12-5 record and a 2.62 ERA. This season, however, he had a 3-6 mark with a 4.73 ERA.

The key men in the St. Louis-Chicago trade were Broglio and Brock, who fills the Cardinals' need for additional outfielding help.

Broglio, a 28-year-old righthander, apparently became surplus when the Cardinals acquired pitcher Glen Hobbie from the Cubs in an earlier trade. Broglio was 21-9 in 1960 and had an 18-8 record last year, but was 3-5 this season with a 3.53 ERA.

Brock, a speedy 24-year-old flychaser who bats left-handed, is in his fourth season in the majors. He hit .258 last season with nine homers and 37 runs batted in. He was hitting at a .257 clip for the Cubs with two homers and 14 runs driven in.

Hart, Herbel Rate With Phillies' Allen In Rookie Of Year Derby

Jack Hanley

Soon speculation will start on Rookie of the Year candidates. So we might as well get in our two cents worth ahead of time. Philadelphia's Richie Allen is a worthy candidate. San Francisco's Jim Ray Hart is, too. And no fair minded judge could overlook Ron Herbel of the Giants.

There are others worthy of mention but at the moment Allen, Hart and Herbel are the front runners. Temporarily bypassing Allen and Herbel, let's confine this piece to the rookie Giant third baseman.

Hart, heralded as a power hitter, surprised everyone in spring training with his glove work and speed afoot, particularly to his left. It's true he made a number of errors in the spring but most of them were on off-balance, hurried throws to first.

It also is true that in the first third of the 1964 National League season an even dozen errors were charged against him. Fortunately, none was directly responsible for the loss of a ball game. More importantly, the rookie hasn't let the errors get him down. And now he takes his time on the throw to first. On the plus side of his fielding are several sparkling plays to his left on hard grounders that were headed through the hole.

"HART'S THIRD base glove has surpassed my expectations," said Alvin Dark. "He is gaining more confidence with each game. Some rookies get jittery before big crowds. Not Hart."

The Giant manager smiled when he next discussed Hart's hitting in recent games.

"I had been told to look for his power hitting," said Dark, "but he didn't hit with power this spring, not the kind of power that knocks in 75 runs."

And now?

"HE SURELY smacked that bases-loaded double (in the first inning Sunday against Cincinnati) with power and his homer (No. 6 in the third inning) was an authoritative belt."

Hart's RBI total now is 21. He still may produce the 75 expected of him. If he does, the stockily-built 22-year-old third baseman definitely will be entitled to serious consideration as the National League's 1964 Rookie of the Year.

First time Lefty O'Doul saw Hart swing a bat in spring training camp, the one-time batting champ said:

"THAT YOUNG man does not have a flaw in his swing. He cocks his hands opposite his right ear. He hold them high and waits for the pitch. He has no bad habits while waiting for the pitch such as hitching his hands up and down. He keeps the bat at a perfect point behind his shoulder.

"I asked Hart who taught him to hit and he said nobody. He's a natural. I told him what I told Ted Williams years ago—'Don't let anyone ever change your swing or style.' You can't improve on perfection."

MARIN'S PRO BALL PLAYERS

Ard, Boccabella Hike Their Averages; Cole Wins Sixth

Gerry Ard of Fairfax, bonus rookie with the Houston Colt organization, had a big week with the Modesto team in the California League, according to statistics compiled by Player Periscope of Novato.

Ard, a fine-fielding shortstop for Modesto, handled the bat equally well in the last reported week, hitting .421 (8 for 19). His week's work upped his average on the season to .253. He has a triple and three doubles, 20 runs batted in and has scored 19 runs so far this year.

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, power-hitting first baseman for Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League, batted .318 for the last reported week, hitting safely 7 times in 22 at bat. His 7 hits for the Chicago Cubs' top farm club included 3 home runs and a double, all good for 7 runs batted in and 6 runs scored.

On the year, Boccabella has 47 for 202 for an average of 233. But on the power side of things, he has 11 home runs, 2 triples and 6 doubles. He has smacked in 31 runs and has scored 26.

AVERAGE DROPS

Ken Anderson of San Rafael, outfielder for Greenville, S. C., of the West Carolina League, a Milwaukee Braves organization, lopped off 4 points from his average when he collected only two singles in 10 trips to the plate for the week.

Anderson is now hitting at a .250 clip (21 for 128). He has one double, has knocked in 8 runs and has scored 8.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley continues to pitch fine ball for Modesto, the Houston farm club. During the last reported week, the righthander appeared in two games and came out with one win to run his season record to 6-2 and his earned run average to 3.05.

In 7 innings pitched, Cole allowed 6 hits, walked 4 and whiffed 12. In 56 inings this season, he has allowed 44 hits, walked 21 and struck out 54.

Farm Manager

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gus Niarhos,, bullpen coach with the Kansas City Athletics, was named manager of the Wytheville, Ga., farm club yesterday.

Mighty USC Ousted By Little Maine

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — University of Southern California's baseball team, defending NCAA champ, was ousted from this year's tournament last night by upstart Maine which nipped the Trojans 2-1.

Maine will meet Missouri tonight in the semi-final round. Missouri last night handed Minnesota its first defeat 4-1 by holding the Big Ten champs to one hit.

The winner of the Missouri-Maine game will face Minnesota for the championship tomorrow night.

Giants Sign Son Of Coach Jansen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dale Jansen, son of San Francisco Giants' pitching coach Larry Jansen, signed with the Giants yesterday and was assigned to their Twin Falls (Idaho) farm team in the pioneer (Rookie) League.

The 22-year-old Jansen was a right-handed pitcher for the University of Oregon.

Softballers To Meet

Terra Linda Merchants will take on Sohner Tree Service tonight in a softball tilt at 7 o'clock in Terra Linda.

Sohner meets Fairchild in a 7:30 doubleheader in Petaluma tomorrow night and will play a twin-ball at Albert Park in San Rafael Saturday night against an unnamed opponent.

Dodgers Near Million Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took the Los Angeles Dodgers 31 games in 1962 to exceed the one million mark in home attendance—but they hope to do it tonight—in 30 games.

They've drawn 956,115 fans at Dodger stadium so far this year, and if 43,886 turn out tonight to see the game with Milwaukee, they'll top the magic number.

Last year, it took the Dodgers 34 games to reach a million.

On top to help the Dodgers draw crowds will be Don Drysdale, who's sporting an 8-5 record and a 1.92 ERA. He'll go against Warren Spahn, 5-4 and 4.26.

Drysdale lost four of five games to Milwaukee in 1963, but has a lifetime record of 19.15 against the Braves.

Spahn is 22-34 against the Dodgers. He's won 355 major league games.

The Dodgers will start rookie third baseman Derrell Griffith. He hit four singles Sunday off Brave pitchers.

Lido Team Wins Challenge Race

The Lido team nipped the Blue Jay entry 35-37 in a pair of challenge races by the Belvedere Sailing Society last Saturday.

The Lido team of Ed Misuraca, Ken Cohn, Carolyn Saltzman and Paul Law tied with the Blue Jay team of Sally Mathews, Ricky Treacy, Eric Bellingall and John Wiley in the first race, but the Lidos won the second race.

Then on Sunday, 30 boats in five classes competed for prizes. Results were:

Sun—Martin Bramante, Gene Raueher, Harvey Rogers. Lido—Bill Clute, second and third place under protest. Blue Jay—Burt Jacobson, Ed Brash, John Wiley. Shamrock—Tom Ferguson, Roberta Ferguson, Bill Ferguson. F. J.—Steve Johnson Jr., Steve Johnson Sr., Phil West.

(A Monthly Page Published In Cooperation With The Marin Rod and Gun Club)

OUTDOOR ROUNDUP

Grisez Is New Archery Champ

Norman Grisez of San Rafael is the new champion of the Northwoods Bowmen's Club after winning the title from a large field Sunday.

He scored a total of 490 points, 11 more than runnerup John Ames of Santa Venetia, a former champ. Ames took the 325 Class trophy and Fred Del Pino of San Anselmo finished third with 475 points, good enough for the 250 Class title.

The men's 175 Class was won by Dick Kenney of Mill Valley, and Shirley Davis of Novato won the women's title. Grisez' son, Dale, won the junior title and Paul Makinson of Novato topped the Intermediate Class.

Delta Canal Is Topic Of Speech

Robert L. Jones of the Delta Fish and Wildlife Committee will speak on "The Delta Periphery Canal," at the next meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Friday at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Another feature of the meeting will be an outdoor motion picture. The meeting is open to the public.

Revolver Tourney Scheduled Sunday

The monthly tournament shoot of the Tamalpais Revolver Club will be held next Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Police range in San Rafael.

Since the firing points are covered, the match will be held regardless of weather conditions. It will be an authorized National Rifle Assn. tournament so NRA match rules and classifications will be used.

Club president Wade Powell asks that all members of the board of directors meet in the clubhouse after the competition.

15½-Pound Bass Taken At Pier

Rapp Brush hauled in a 15½-pound striper to win the fish of the month award for May. He was fishing at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier.

Bass are being taken on bait and shiners mainly, with occasional success rewarding the stroller trollers.

Sportswomen To Meet On June 23

The women's auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will hold its monthly meeting June 23, starting at 8 p.m. at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Virginia Shattuck, home economist from the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., will give a talk on "Decorating with Light."

The following day, June 24, the auxiliary women will hold a "fishing get-together" at the Paradise Park Pier at 9:30 a.m., in hopes of landing some striped bass.

Little Leaguer Hurls His Third No-Hitter

Roger Smith, 12-year-old whiz of the Larkspur Lions in the Twin Cities Little League, hurled his third no-hitter of the season Saturday when he led his team to a 12 - 0 triumph over North Bay Lumber.

Phil Brooks, hard-hitting pitcher-outfielder of the Larkspur Lumber team, hit his seventh home run of the season on Sunday.

Fair To Feature Robin Hood & Co.

The Northwoods Bowmen's Club, a Marin County archery group, will play a prominent part in the Marin Art and Garden Fair which is scheduled for July 1 through 5.

Theme of the fair, "In the Medieval Manner," is a natural for the archers who will assume rolls of Robin Hood and his merry men.

Archery demonstrations, a shooting booth for the public and a reproduction of the famous Blue Boar Inn will be among the features of the Northwoods entry. Archers in costume, the sheriff of Nottingham, Maid Marion, Friar Tuck, Will Scarlet and the evil Guy of Gisborne all will be on hand to teach archery and hand out prizes to the shooters.

Rod-Gun Rosters Adds Seven Names

Robert Heyward, William B. Norton, Dr. Andrew Noble, Everett L. Cantrell, Aaron Bigham, Kendell Green and Gilbert Morgan will be welcomed as new members to the Marin Rod and Gun Club at the meeting Friday night at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Ham'n'Yams Menu For Sportsmen

Next family dinner, under the chairmanship of Ray Augusto, will be served at the Marin Rod and Gun Club Saturday at 7 p.m.

Members may get tickets to the dinner from club secretary Paul Ware. Ham and yams are on the menu and there will be musical entertainment. Tickets are $2 per person.

Marin Rod-Gun Picnic July 26

The Marin Rod and Gun Club annual picnic is scheduled to be held Sunday, July 26, at the club grounds, it was announced today.

Tickets for the picnic, one of the top social functions of the club, may be obtained at most sport shops in Marin County. John Sterling is chairman of the committee working on the picnic details.

Conservationists Making Studies

The Marin Rod and Gun Club Conservation Committee is making a thorough study of the North Bay Master Plan as it affects fish and game, boating, outdoor recreation, streams, bays and natural beauties of Marin County.

Also on the committee's schedule is a meeting to gather information on the effect of Corte Madera Creek Flood Control proposals.

Represented will be the Army Corps of Engineers, California Department of Fish and Game, Marin County Planning Commission, and the Marin County Recreation Department.

Date for the meeting has not yet been set.

PROUD FISH DERBY WINNERS

Fishing Map Will Be Available In August

A sub-committee of the Marin Rod and Gun Club Conservation Committee is preparing a fishing map and brochure of Marin County for publication soon. Target is August.

The map was developed by Al Giddings, Marin County's popular state fish and game warden. Published in the Independent-Journal last Thursday, it shows the place in the county where salmon, trout, bass, striped bass, flounders, halibut, perch, rock fish, cockle clams, big neck clams, abalone and other fish and shell fish may be taken.

The piece will be in at least two colors. The map will be about newspaper full page size and will be on one side of the page. It will fold into a brochure and the back will contain pertinent fishing and outdoor recreational information on Marin County.

Publication committee is headed by Sam Knoles of San Anselmo and other members are: Judge Leonard Thomas, Barney De Bisschop, Steve Lato, Monte Marzetta, Leo Ciucci, Gordon Dixon, Al Ferrari and Fred Del Pino.

Carlson-Murphy Team Wins Tennis Tourney

Mrs. Howard L. Carlson and Jack F. Murphy defeated Mrs. Howard G. Brown and Ron Theisen, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, Sunday in the finals of the Marin Women's Tennis Club mixed doubles tournament played on the College of Marin courts.

In semi-final round action Saturday, Murphy and Mrs. Carlson defeated Mrs. Robert J. Hansen and Conrad Theisen, 6-3, 6-3, and Ron Theisen and Mrs. Brown downed Mrs. C. A. Pettijohn and Henry Polanshek, 6-3, 6-0.

Lester Wins 11th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Middleweight Jimmy Lester scored his 11th consecutive victory — and 10th knockout—last night by decking Mexico's Andres Herrera in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Lester floored Herrera with 30 seconds left in the round, the only knockdown of the fight. The winner went into the bout a 2-1 favorite.

The Bayview victor weighed 155 pounds, his opponent 153½.

Chargers Sign USC Tackle

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League have signed tackle Gary Kirner as their fifth draft choice.

Kirner, from the University of Southern California, played in the Rose Bowl, and the East-West and Hula Bowl games.

Open Season On Boars In Most Of The State; Bait Angling Is Poor

STEVENS

The phone rang. An outraged voice demanded: "You made a mistake! You mentioned some hunter bagging a 300-pound boar in one of your columns when you should know that the season closed to the taking of wild boars on March 31. How come?"

I refer my irate caller — and all others who have the same idea—to the 1963 California Hunting Regulations, page 24. "Wild pigs and crosses of this animal with feral domestic pigs may be taken only as follows: From Oct. 1, 1963, through March 31, 1964 IN THE COUNTY OF MONTEREY, OPEN ALL YEAR AND NO BAG LIMIT IN THE BALANCE OF THE STATE.

THE 300-POUND boar was NOT killed in Monterey County. I hope that sets the record straight.

By the way—on the subject of big game hunting, anyone having a yen to bag a lion in Uganda, East Africa, should be interested in a release I just received from the Winchester-Western News. It reads: "A cut-price, 21-day hunting safari to Uganda, East Africa, is being offered by the Uganda Wildlife Development Co. for just $2,300, which includes round-trip air fare from New York. The price also covers the services of a professional hunter, Winchester guns, game and gun licenses, fishing equipment and boat trips, with no extras. Africa-minded hunters—or just dreamers — can contact the Uganda Wildlife Development Co., 720 5th Avenue, New York 19, N.Y., for further details."

YOU MAY wonder, as do I, how exciting it might be to hook a full grown lion on light tackle, or how big are the fish that you need a rifle to get 'em. But, of course the inclusion of fishing tackle in the package deal is because there is some of the finest fishing in the world in the Uganda area of East Africa.

Now for a peek at the fishing picture locally. It took some days to revitalize the trolling in the Upper San Pablo sector, but it came back fairly well on Saturday. I note the trollers out of Crockett did okay for themselves. Party boats from there totaled 39 stripers to 12 pounds, and one private boat collected five fish to 10 pounds. Best bet was the area between the Center Pier and the Oleum Wharf.

WISH I could pass along as good a report on other areas, but the sad truth is that bait fishing was plain poor in all sectors. Nothing doing on the Marin side, where little or no trolling was done. The action in the South Bay regions slowed down to a walk. The only good report of bait fishing came from Pat Paddock of Walnut Creek. Pat took his limit of small bass on bait out of Patrick's place at Three Mile Slough.

Clarence Witt of the San Leandro Marina reported practically no fish unloaded at his harbor. Alice Quan of China Camp blamed the minus tides on the lack of action, Joe Navarro had nothing to report nor did the Paynes of San Lorenzo—so the slump in striper production is not confined to the Bay Area, but includes the Delta Region as well. However, Oldtimers expect the slump in the back country at this time. Usually fishing goes into the doldrums at the end of May in the Delta Region. With normal tides back again, chances are bait fishing in the San Pablo and upstream to Pittsburg will again become active, and the late evening trolling is unquestionably your best bet for the next six days.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

TOKYO — Osamu Watanabe, 147¼, Japan, outpointed Eliseo Aranda, 147¼, Philippines, 10.

SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy Lester, 155, Bayview, Calif., knocked out Andres Herrera, 153½, Mexico, 4.

PHILADELPHIA — Benny Briscoe, 149¾, Philadelphia, stopped Percy Manning, 150, Philadelphia, 8.

YOUNGSTERS LAND BIG STEELHEAD

These young Marin anglers offer pictorial proof of the large steelhead they caught in local waters recently. At left is 11-yearlold Dan Schallock of Mill Valley with the four-and-one-half pounder he took out of Papermill Creek below Camp Taylor with a spinning outfit, using salmon eggs on a No. 8 hook. Young Schallock also boasts of catching a 12½-pound bass at Tiburon on another recent trip. At right is 15-year-old Eddie Richmond of San Rafael with the 5-pound, 11-ounce steelhead he caught at Nicasio Lake. The whopper measured 25⅛ inches.

AAWU Given Approval To Experiment With Pay-TV

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The NCAA has granted the Athletic Association of Western Universities permission to conduct an experimental program with pay TV during the 1964 football season, AAWU Executive Director Tom Hamilton announced yesterday.

The conference of major schools on the Pacific Coast had voted at its recent meetings in Seattle to seek the approval of the NCAA for the program.

Details of the play have not been completed, but he announcement from the AAWU said it is known that the football games to be shown to subscribers of Subscription Television Inc., in San Francisco and Los Angeles areas will be in addition to games shown under the NCAA Game-of-the-Week program on the NBC network.

"The results of this year's experience will be given careful study and consideration by the NCAA colleges when formulating future policies in the use of any form of pay television," Hamilton said.

CRANKCASE DEVICES

Smog Abatement Goes Into Autos

By WAT TAKESHITA

(First of three articles.)

A controversy is developing over the anti-smog crankcase devices that are required for California car owners, which means an added cost of 75 to 100 million dollars annually.

Nobody likes smog. Everyone wants to see it abated. Both enforcement officials and the public are universally agreed that smog can be a hazard and should be controlled. But there the agreement ends.

Citizens, suddenly saddled with the cost of the devices and maintenance, are beginning to scream. Their complaints run counter to the official statements issued by the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

Here are some of the questions raised.

Is it true that the crankcase devices are not harmful to the engine?

Assuming that they are mechanically safe and effective, is the public using them instead of skirting the law?

Are the costs of installation and upkeep reasonable?

Will the devices substantially reduce the overall smog problem so that costs are justified?

The Motor Vehicles Pollution Control officials say, "Yes." Opponents of the crankcase device reply with an emphatic "No!" Just where does the truth lie?

First of all, it should be pointed out that the law to curb automobile pollution was passed by the California Legislature in 1960. The Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board was created that year.

The pollution control board is only trying to enforce the law in the most effective way it knows how. Here is the enforcement timetable:

NEW CARS

Beginning with 1961 model years, crankcase devices were installed voluntarily by American manufacturers on all cars sold in California.

Beginning with 1963 model years, crankcase devices were installed by American manufacturers on all cars sold in the United States.

Beginning with the 1964 registration year, every new car (except those exempt) must be equipped with a certified crankcase device in operating condition.

USED CARS

Beginning Jan. 1, 1964, every used car for which ownership is transferred (except those exempt or those not within an air pollution control district) must have approved devices before registration can be transferred. Marin is within an air pollution control district.

Beginning in January, 1965, every used passenger car (with the same exceptions above) must be equipped with an approved device before it can go out onto the highways. The deadline for compliance is the month of 1965 corresponding with the last digit of the car license plate number.

Beginning with the 1966 registration year, every used passenger car (with the same exceptions) must be equipped with a certified crankcase device in operating condition.

For commercial vehicles, the dates for compliance are one year earlier. All commercial vehicles (except those exempt) must be equipped with a certified device, beginning with the 1965 registration year.

EXEMPT VEHICLES

Diesel power motor vehicles, pre-1950 model cars, motor driven cycles, and implements or husbandry and farm machinery are exempt.

Used foreign cars are also exempt thus far, but officials of the California Department of Motor Vehicles speculate that these too may be required to comply in a year or two.

(Tomorrow: Is device harmful to engines?)

Big Bolinas Subdivision Is Planned

The tentative map for a 28-lot subdivision on 32 acres on Bolinas Mesa was approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday, although there were warnings the Regional Water Pollution Control Board might raise objections.

Engineer Leslie Smith said the map, with average lots of about an acre, and with a three-acre park included, was proposed to bring the question of sanitation facilities in the area to a head.

He said he felt the lots, which are a mile from the Bolinas Lagoon and which drain to the Pacific Ocean, should be allowed to have septic tanks. The Bolinas-Stinson Beach master plan calls for acre lots in the area.

However, he added, the water pollution control board can, and has held up similar subdivisions. He said if sewers are required, smaller lots will have to be allowed and the zoning will have to be changed.

Smith at first asked that the matter be continued, but Chairman Niels Schultz suggested approval, since the staff was in favor of the plan. "Then you'll be on your own," he told Smith.

"My first reaction is that the water pollution control board is getting a little far afield," commented Commissioner William F. Upton, making a motion for approval. The vote to grant was unanimous.

Truck Broken Into, Video Tubes Stolen

Someone forced open the window wing of a truck belonging to Clarity Electronics, 2054 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Sunday evening and stole 365 television tubes, valued at $550, it was reported to San Rafael Police yesterday.

Horst W. Dannecker, 75 Woodland, San Rafael, reported that he parked the truck in front of his home at 10:15 p.m. and found the tubes missing yesterday.

Tracy Says Negroes Excluded From Juries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Tracy Sims, 18-year-old Negro civil rights leader, charged in Federal District Court today that Negroes are systematically excluded from San Francisco municipal court juries.

She and 10 others charged with trespassing during a more-jobs-for Negroes demonstration April 11 asked that the federal court take jurisdiction in the case. The 11 accused were picketing Jim Wessman, Inc., an automobile agency.

Activities Are Underway For Debutantes At Hamilton Base

A round of activities has started for the debutantes of 1964 at Hamilton Air Force Base which will climax Saturday night when the 36 debutantes will be presented to Maj. Gen. and Mrs. C. F. Necrason at the debutante ball at the Officers Club.

On Friday debutante Sandara Necrason, daughter of General and Mrs. Necrason, entertained the debutantes at an informal get-acquainted luncheon at her home at Hamilton.

The debutantes will have a rehearsal with the deb committee tonight. Members include Mrs. Robert Tobin, adviser, and Mesdames Gene L. Sundeen, Douglas Alexander and Charles W. Ennis.

On Thursday night, the debs will rehearse at 7 p.m. with their fathers and escorts, followed by a get-together at the cabana club at Hamilton. Nearly all the escorts are cadets at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The debs will be honored at a tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday in the lounge of the Officer's Club, sponsored by the Officers' Wives' Club. Officers' Wives of the 28th Air Division headquarters will be hostesses.

Mesdames C. F. Necrason, Norman H. Traverso, E.S.E Newberry and chairman, Mrs. Eugene Callahan comprise the tea committee. In the receiving line will be the debutantes, all daughters of Officers at Hamilton and Mrs. Norris Brill, president of the Officers' Wives' Club.

Friday evening, the Debs and their escorts will be honored at a tea dance from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tables for four will form an oval around the dance floor, with a red and white theme used in the decorations, according to the deb committee. The decorations for the tea-dance were designed by Mrs. Robert E. Evans and carried out by a group of mothers under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Starkel. A combo from the air force band will provide music for dancing.

Topiary trees in shades of blush to shocking pink will surround the ballroom when General and Mrs. Necrason receive the girls before a walnut screen flanked by the American Flag and the General's personal flag, at the debutante ball at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Officer's Club. Punch will be served before the picture window in the beautiful Hughes Trophy which was awarded to the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton in 1962. The punchbowl will be surrounded by white gardenias.

Following the ball, a breakfast will be served to the debutantes, their escorts, parents and guests.

Miss Burns Married In Sunday Rite

Stephanie Burns of Sausalito and Thomas Mathews Jr. of Salt Lake City were married Sunday in a 4 p.m. ceremony at Christ Church in Sausalito. Relatives and close friends only attended the wedding.

The double ring rites were performed by the Rev. Joseph S. Doron.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Burns, concert pianist, and the late Mr. Burns of Sausalito, who was a nationally syndicated columnist and author. Stephanie was given in marriage by Brig. Gen. (U.S.A. ret.) George W. Sliney of San Francisco, a family friend.

She recited her vows wearing a full length gown of ivory crepe satin. Her bridesmaid was her twin sister, Carol Burns, who wore a full length gown of deep pink with straight skirt and floating back panel.

Anne Mathews, the nine-year-old sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a short white eyelet dress.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Mathews of Salt Lake City, was his brother, Colin Mathews of Salt Lake City. Showing guests to their seats were James Purcell of Sausalito and Robert Ward of Los Angeles.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. After a brief honeymoon at Inverness the young couple will live in New York City.

Stephanie was graduated from Dominican Upper School and attended the University of Californnia for three years. She plans to enter Cooper Union in New York City in fine arts.

Thomas was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is in his senior year at Princeton University.

Marin Women

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

A Time For Parties, Travels

The San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere will be the setting for the "Sailors' Party" hosted by Henry B. Grandins of Ross on June 24. About 200 guests have been invited to share the supper and dancing and to view movies of the Acapulco yacht race in which the hosts' 46 foot sloop Amorita placed fourth in class B.

MRS. J. WATSON MACNAUGHT, wife of the Solicitor General of Canada, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Harry Hays Rasley, of Sausalito, left yesterday by plane for Vancouver, B. C. on her return to the capitol. During her stay in Marin she visited schools for the mentally retarded, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Sousa, child guidance consultant of Sausalito.

FETED AT A bon voyage luncheon Friday was Mrs. Edward Elliott of Belvedere, who is leaving on Saturday for a two-month tour of Ireland, England and the Continent. The party was given by Belvedere residents Mrs. Patrick Kirraine and Mrs. Maurice Glazer at the former's Lagoon home.

Mrs. Elliott will fly directly to Chicago where she will be joined by her cousin, Mrs. Richard Ryan, and from there to Shannon where they will meet another cousin, Msgr. Edward Ryan and other relatives. After a tour of the Emerald Isle, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Ryan will go to England where they will visit another cousin, Dr. Thomas Condon of Manchester.

In Germany, they will visit Mrs. Glazer's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lucas, and his family. The travelers will also visit Austria, Switzerland, France and Italy.

SEN. AND MRS. John F. McCarthy will be hosts for cocktails and a buffet on June 28 at their home in Fairhills to honor Father Daly who will be home on leave from Maryknoll mission work in Africa. The McCarthys have invited many of their Marin friends to the gathering.

MRS. DONALD SCHWEITZER and Mrs. Fletcher Bonham, both of Peacock Gap, were co-hostesses at the Schweitzer home to honor Mrs. Samuel Wright Jr. who has recently moved to the area from the Peninsula. The event was a morning coffee for friends and neighbors in Peacock Gap. Mrs. Wright, the former Terese McChrystal, attended Dominican.

MRS. BENNET SKEWES-COX has come from Washington, D. C. to stay with Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox of Ross, her mother-in-law, and will be joined by Mr. Skewes-Cox in August. They moved to Washington last year with their family. The Robin Skewes-Coxes of San Francisco have bought a house in San Anselmo, and Mrs. Skewes-Cox will join the teaching staff at Dominican College.

IN MEXICO CITY to attend the convention of the International Underwater Explorers are Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Gustafson of Tiburon, who plan to do some diving and underwater photography of their own while there. Following the convention which will be attended by divers and archeologists from throughout the world, the Gustafsons will go to Zihuatanejo, Mexico, for 10 days of underwater exploring and photography.

AN OLDTIME Fourth of July celebration is planned at the new private Peacock Gap Tennis and Swimming Club in San Rafael, reviving an old Marin tradition of a festive fourth when the property belonged to the McNear family. The activities will include three-legged races, barrel races, swimming and tennis matches, ending the day with a picnic supper and fireworks.

MAKING THEIR home in San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. Philip James Avila, who were married June 6 at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito. A graduate of San Rafael High School, the bride is the former Lyn A. Woods, daughter of Mrs. Eugene B. Woods of Oakland. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. G. E. Benassini of San Francisco and Philip Avila of Los Altos. (Planert photo)

ON BOTH SIDES OF ATLANTIC—

Never Underestimate Chanel Influence

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The French designer Gabrielle Chanel exerts a strong style influence on women even as they shop American fashion collections.

Chanel touches pervade Seventh Avenue, the New York garment center, as the nation's store buyers view and order the new fall and winter clothes which will be in the shops beginning in August.

LOOK IN ON any crowded showroom of the designers and manufacturers and you'll see the buyers in Chanel suits or copies of Chanel suits. These are suits with cardigan jackets, worn open and with front and collarless neckline trimmed with braid, fringe, what have you. The skirts are slim cut. The colors: All the pastels.

There's also the Chanel hair bow. It definitely is favored with the women who help determine what the rest of us will wear. Chanel bows, now made by just about everybody including milliners, are supposed to be outsize, often large as the bow of a little girl's dress sash.

TUCK THEM anywhere in the hair, although most of the younger buyers pin them right at the nape of the neck. Designer Vera Maxwell even succumbed to the bow fad—at her fashion opening she slipped a black bandeau and bow onto her sleeked-back white hair.

If it isn't a bow, it's the little girl ribbon tied through the hair.

AND A WORD about hair. This observer hasn't seen a single bouffant in the showrooms. The long-legged models are wearing their hair straight as Caroline Kennedy's. Few wear bangs, but many of the coiffures come dangling forward on the face. Favorite shaping of the ends is pure 180 degree horizontal with front strands flipped forward on the cheek. If curly hair is to make a comeback, as some stylists have predicted, the models' blessing isn't there yet.

Paler makeup also is "in" in the showrooms. Models wear pale toned lipsticks, very little rouge, and less eyeshadow and eyeliner although those false eyelashes seem destined for a long blink.

In with both buyers and models are the lowered heel pumps. Out are spikes.

IN ALSO ARE the T-strap sandals with the lowered heel.

In is the long pearl necklace, either single or double strand, reaching to the bustline. Out is the high-riding choker. In apparently forever are the armloads of bracelets and the capacious handbags. In are kid gloves instead of fabric, either white or black.

In, in growing numbers, are dark glasses for viewing collections. Well, those showrooms are brightly lighted.

And in is a fashion term new to this reporter.

The commentator at the Harvey Berin show described one pale toned lace dress as "M-O-B"—for mother of the bride.

Genessee Council Meeting Friday

Mrs. Sears Chosen To High Club Post

Mrs. Carl R. Sears, a 17-year resident of Marin County and a resident of Novato 10 of them, has been elected grand regent of Court 1707, Catholic Daughters of America, Our Lady of the Miracle.

She has served as vice grand regent, prophetess, lecturer and trustee during her seven years as a member of Catholic Daughters.

MRS. CARL SEARS

The organization plans two salad luncheons, a fashion show, and a rummage sale on July 17 among the projects for the coming year.

Margaret Sears and her husband, Lieutenant Sears of the Marin County Sheriff's Department, have three children, Edward, 14; Carl Robert, 13, and Sandra Lynn, 11.

The new grand regent also has a full-time job as comptroller for Weisenburg Construction, Inc., in San Rafael.

She lists among her interests sewing, swimming, water skiing and camping. "We try to go camping as much as possible with our family," Mrs. Sears said.

What does she enjoy most? "This is hard to say because I enjoy almost each and everything I do as it comes along and all of my activities do not seem to be scheduled at the same time so that I do not have to decide between one or the other and thereby get happy hours from all," she says.

Other officers to serve with Mrs. Sears for the 1964-65 year include Mesdames Henry Alvernaz, vice grand regent; Carlos Rivamonte, prophetess; William Tobin, financial secretary; Ruth Snodgrass, historian; Miss Eleanor La Franchi, treasurer; Mesdames W. V. Cannon, monitor; Donald Brazell, sentinel; Richard McGinnis, lecturer; Greg De Gear, organist; Arthur Gibson Raymond Weese, trustees; and Samuel Soars, John McGovern, Raymond Haslag and Gerald Cullen, trustees.

Certificates Of Merit Presented At Recital

Joan E. Liebeskind presented her pupils in a recital on Saturday evening. The presentation of certificates of merit followed the program.

Pupils participating were Leslie Bowen, Sandra Nelson, Christopher Rohrer, Gwendolyn Foran, Melanie Fickbohm, Carol Krisbaum, Terrilee Griffiths, Randall Semoreli, Julie McNerney, Steve Fowler, Linda McNerney, Ellen Hill, Cheryl Beebe, Madeline Hales, Natasha Nelson, Sharon Wilson, Marshall Roe, Nancy Adams, Tom Fahl, Roxana Fowler, Mary Doyle and Glen Woods.

TEEN-AGERS' ROOM is a clever combination for sleep and play areas with compact bunk bed arrangement. Wallcovering and upholstery fabric carries out a nautical theme in red, white and blue. Mattresses, pillows and bolsters supply maximum comfort and trim appearance. Even the flooring is practical, as well as decorative, in white striped in blue.

Bunk Beds Appealing To Young

Now that school is out and children are home, interest centers on teen-agers' rooms, where a combination of bedroom and playroom is the ideal arrangement.

The fun and novelty of bunk beds have a special appeal for youngsters, and their practical, space-saving qualities are great assets to mothers. The result is teen-age living quarters where neatness is the order of the day and night. Enough floor space is left over with this compact arrangement for a play area, with table and chairs for games or the coke hour.

A SALTY, nautical theme, with sturdy soil-resistant materials on upholstery, walls and floor to keep the room ship-shape, is a gay yet sensible idea. The bunk beds, reminiscent of berths on a ship at sea, are trim and neat with 4-inch thick mattresses for snug sleeping comfort.

COVERINGS OF upholstery in red, white and blue are decorative as well as practical, with spills removed simply by the whisk of a damp cloth. The jaunty, nautical mood is reflected in the wall-covering.

BUILT-IN CUPBOARDS beneath the bunks provide ample storage for bed-clothes or toys, plus easy availability. The white flooring is striped in marine blue, and simple tables painted in red, white and blue double for snacks or display points for ship models or other mementos of the briny deep.

Summertime Can Call For Beauty Care

Because of heat and outdoor activities, most women find it more difficult to stay fresh and beautiful during the summer months.

For one thing, the sun dries the skin; and even if you limit your tan to a light shade—which you should—you still can have trouble with freckles or patches. For another, harsh sun can alter delicate hair shades.

Summer beauty ideas may help:

Sun bathing a favorite "sport"? Always use your suntan lotion—remember that you baste a roast to keep it from drying out in the oven.

You will be bathing more often—your skin can get parched and dried, an invitation to scaliness and wrinkles. Soothe it with bath oil.

Don't go without lipstick when sunbathing. Your lips are delicate, and lipstick is good protection. Use one of the luscious, pale ones.

Most frequently seen hair-do's are short, but some beauties let their hair grow long during the hot season. They wear it up, and then cut it for a neat (on the ski slopes) winter.

If you tint your hair in any way, always wear a scarf or hat when you are out in the sun. The bright sunlight will turn the delicate blonde shades brassy, and redden brown/brunette colors.

Tinted toenails in pale pink or coral are devastating with a tan.

If heat, sunbathing or sunburn makes you feverish, overtired and headachy, lie down for a while with feet elevated, and put a soft cloth, dampened with ice water, over your eyes. When you get up, splash yourself with cologne.

And finally, you feel excess pounds more in the summer, so start thinking now about slimming down for next summer. Dieting is a serious business and should be done under the advice of a physician.

THE BUCCANEER LOOK

From the Eighteenth Century comes inspiration for this coordinated sports costume. Antique-like buttons accent the waistcoat and the matching cotton suede pants also are trimmed at the bottom with the buttons. The blouse features narrow Buccaneer sleeves and a narrow bow at the neckline. By Bobbie Brooks.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A pediatrician friend of mine told me recently that good food alone is not the complete answer to the development of sturdy bodies and good eating habits. In his opinion, an important ingredient in a baby's diet is the smiling climate which surrounds him at mealtime. If you're more concerned with how happily your baby eats than how much he eats, you'll find your darling will eat as much as he needs, will blossom accordingly, and will learn to accept new foods without undue fuss and fanfare.

•

A smile in every spoonful—that's the mealtime success story when you serve foods that look good, taste good and offer good variety. Gerber Strained Foods fill all three qualifications beautifully. To begin with, they have nature's own come-hither colors and appe-tempting flavors. And Gerber offers over 50 taste delights for bright-eyed sprites.

•

Introductory plan. Timing is ever so important when you introduce new foods to baby. It should be when he's reasonably hungry but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly as to when they are receptive to new foods. With a bit of experimentation (garnished with grins), you'll soon learn whether your baby finds new foods more acceptable at the beginning of a meal or after the first hunger pains have been eased with a favorite food.

•

Undercover story with built-in protection and comfort. Gerber Baby Pants are made of soft, polyvinyl film that's waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof, so baby can visit on any lap without mishap. Amply cut for free 'n' easy maneuvering . . . bound in downy nylon edging for feather-soft contact with tender legs and waist. Extra rugged, they'll withstand many, many washings, stay soft, too. Medium, large, extra-large and in toddler sizes, pull-on or snap-on styles. Gerber Products Company, Fremont, Michigan.

With Children Home Beware Possibility Of Accidents

Where do you think most of the fatal accidents of childhood and early adolescense take place? Not on the highways, railroad tracks or in boy-built tree houses, but in our own homes.

Incredibly, home is the scene of more accidents to people of all age groups than are our much-maligned freeways and throughways. What causes these accidents? Falls, most frequently. Other common causes are fire, suffocation, poison and electric shock.

PREVENTING FALLS: 1. Be sure all small rugs are skidproof. (Anchor them with small suction cups or a liquid spray.) 2. Repair wobbly legs on all chairs, sofas, tables, beds and ladders. 3. Mop up wet floors immediately, and use non-skid floor wax. 4. Be absolutely positive your stairs are well lighted, well bannistered, uncluttered and non-skid. 5. Protect toddlers from stair falls with a barrier gate. 6. Have grab bars above your bathtub. 7. Put non-skid mats in your tub and shower.

FIRE: 1.Be sure your wiring system is adequate for the load you're putting on it. (Your fire department can help you here.) 2. Install one of the new inexpensive fire alarms systems. (Your fire department will advise you here, too.) 3. Replace all frayed cords on electrical appliances. 4. Be sure all fire places are protected with good fire screens. 5. Destroy oily paint rags. 6. Store inflammable products safely in a well-ventilated space. 7. Be utterly firm about the no smoking in bed rule. 8. Invest in several dry chemical fire extinguishers, and keep them handy.

POISONING: 1. Store all poisons safely. This means cleaning agents of all kinds, lye, weed killer, insecticides, as well as all your drugs and medicines. 2. Keep a first aid manual in your bathroom and kitchen.

ELECTRIC SHOCK: 1. Never touch any electrical connections with wet hands or when standing on a wet surface. 2. Keep all electrical devices — radios, heaters, etc.—far, far away from bathtubs and sinks. 3. Don't be a do-it-yourself electrician.

SUFFOCATIONS: 1. Don't use flame-type heaters, as they deplete the oxygen supply. 2. Teach children that they may absolutely not play with the knobs on your gas stove. 3. Keep bite-size toys and other small objects away from your little one. 4. Do not leave a small child unattended in the tub even for a minute. 5. Never leave the motor running in your car once you've put it in the garage.

Mrs. Eugene Hecht Is The New President Of Church Group

Mrs. Eugene Hecht has stepped up from the position of vice president to president of Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of Our Savior in Mill Valley.

The change was the result of the resignation of the president Mrs. Robert Mackay-Smith when she moved from Mill Valley to New York with her family. Other officers will remain the same.

Mrs. Hecht has been active not only in the Mill Valley organization comprising some 450 members but also on the Diocesan level, where she has been a member of the women's board for two years. She served as president of St. Celicia's Guild, the main women's group of the church, before Episcopal Churchwomen was organized to include all women of the parish.

The new president plans to continue working on the previous president's plans for remodeling the kitchen and dressing room and she will continue activities in connection with the group's "Better Buy Shop" in Tamalpais Valley and Church World Service.

Mrs. Hecht is also active in the Old Mill Parent-Teacher Assn. and in the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women. She is a member of its drama section.

A native of Germany in the Dresden area, Waltraude or "Waldi," as she is known to friends, came to this country when she was six months old. She was graduated from Monrovia High School and Whittier College with major in physical education.

She went on to take graduate work in occupational therapy at the University of Southern California and is a registered occupational therapist. She worked four years at Children's Hospital of the East Bay in Oakland.

She and her husband, a transportation rate expert with the Public Utilities Commission of California in the San Francisco offices, came to Mill Valley from the Los Angeles area in 1955. When they were married he was with the U.S. State Department foreign service, and they lived three years in Vienna.

They have three sons, Christopher, 12; Timothy, 10; and Peter, 8.

Mrs. Hecht says she likes tennis, reading, sewing and gardening, and she and her husband enjoy playing the recorder.

Zonta Club Meet Thursday Night

The Zonta Club of Marin will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Viola Carlson, 86 Park Drive, San Anselmo.

Parents Of New Inductees Are Targets For Fraud

Graduation season has increased the number of letters to high school seniors, soliciting recruitment in the Armed Forces. Certainly there is no objection to their being advised of the many advantages a military career offers those who enlist. But quite a number will go into uniform through selective service induction, and the parents of these are considered fair game by a few out-of-state insurance firms, seeking insurance sales by subterfuge.

Parents, be on your guard against mail efforts to sell insurance on newly inducted servicemen. Should you receive an unsolicited life insurance policy—with a bill covering premium — check before you accept it.

The pattern in this field appears to be getting names and addresses of newly-inducted youths, then writing their parents an intimation that the enclosed life insurance policy has government approval or sponsorship.

During World War I and through the Korean campaign, Uncle Sam himself wrote insurance for those in the service. Since then, readjustment of military pay and allowances brought discontinuance of new Government Life Insurance policies. At every post and station, an insurance officer will inform any inquiring service man as to the status of any insurance company, quoting from standard rating records. They make no recommendations for any particular company.

Despite what the letter accompanying the policy—and premium bill—might intimate, Uncle Sam sponsors no program for any insurance firm.

Attorney General Mosk has warned that publication and distribution of advertising soliciting insurance applications for firms not licensed in California is unlawful, and subject to criminal action.

Unfortunately, California's stringent laws to protect its citizens from fraudulent, undercaptialized or otherwise unsound insurance firms has a limitation. The State of California has no jurisdiction over such promotion going through the mail. Offers of such policies to parents or guardians of new inductees come through the mail.

There are many insurance companies licensed to operate in California, with thousands of reliable agents and brokers.

Before you pay the premium bill, do a little checking. Ask the lad in uniform if he asked that the policy be sent you. Have him check further with his unit's insurance officer. Take the matter up with your own insurance agent or broker. Should the issuers of the unsolicited policy start writing forceful letters — refer the whole matter to the State Insurance Department, 1407 Market Street, San Francisco.

4,000 MILES AN HOUR BY PLANE

A supersonic airplane that can make an almost vertical take-off and speed along at more than 4,000 miles an hour may be a common means of travel in another decade or so.

According to Dr. S. G. Hooker, technical director of Bristol Siddeley Engines, Ltd., the engine for this new manned aircraft has already been flight tested.

He said that it was designed for passenger transport as well as defense, and "may look like science fiction today, but will become a reality of tomorrow."

He predicts that the present 2,000 m.p.h. speed and 100,000 feet altitude are only a beginning.

Science is making phenomenal strides in hurrying man at breathtaking speed to every corner of the earth and into the far reaches of outer space.

But much remains to be done to match the daring enterprise we show in behalf of physical achievements with a determined resourcefulness in the even more meaningful realm of the heart, mind and soul.

"The Father of glory . . . grant you the spirit of wisdom." (Ephesians 1:17)

Grant, O Lord, that we pay as much attention to the spiritual betterment of man as we do to material advance.

SACRAMENTO REPORT

'Wipe The Slate Clean' Proposal Is Harmful To Right To Know

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Growing trends toward secrecy in all forms of government bring up some far-flung questions of just how much protection people can expect in their private lives.

The latest move to cover up the activities of people embroiled with the law is the consideration of a law which would provide for expunging all records of an arrest and trial if a defendant were acquitted, a matter heard recently before an assembly committee.

ON THE FACE of it, this appears to be a somewhat reasonable request but further consideration of such a law reveals it would, in fact, hamper and destroy the very right of the people of the state to know facts about the operation of their judicial system.

Should a law like this be adopted, probably the next step would be to seek confidential trials, wherein the public and the press would be excluded. Such a trend would seriously hamper the operation of justice as well as deprive the democracy of ensuring the open conduct of its affairs.

THE THEORY of the suggested law is that when a defendant is acquitted, the matter of his arrest and trial is a closed book, and should not be presented as a matter of record to the public. However, no matter whether the record is expunged or not, the fact still remains that the defendant once was acquitted of a crime.

And in most instances, it is reasonably difficult to ignore facts, although this is being done more and more as officialdom presses toward secrecy.

The law would work an exceptional hardship upon newspapers and other means of public communication, along with depriving the public of information to which it is entitled in the course of keeping track of the daily events of the democracy.

UNDER THE LAW, no record at all would be available in the event a libel suit cropped up, nor would there be any record in instances of continued arrests and acquittals. As Ben Martin, general manager of California Newspaper Publishers Association aptly put it:

"The problem would be for a newspaper to defend itself for carrying a story about an arrest and trial, if after an acquittal, there was no record of there ever having been such an arrest and trial."

Fundamentally, additional tampering with laws forcing secrecy into a democratic government merely point the way to procedures which eventually could change the entire form of government.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bagley Appraiser Bill Given A Bow

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With reference to your editorial endorsement of Assemblyman Bagley's proposal to place inheritance tax appraisers under civil service, I feel that those of your readers who will someday die and leave an inheritance should, before their demise, become more familiar with those who will be perched on the railing of the court which probates his estate.

First let me say that Mr. Bagley is correct in his concern for saving California's widows an estimated one million dollars a year; he is also correct in trying to remove the pork barrel aspect. . . .

Why start with the appraisers? Or, if Mr. Bagley's measure becomes a law, why stop with the appraisers? Why not subject probate attorneys and accountants, doctors and undertakers, even the cemeteries? We can exclude the clergy, as their work is the only gratis work performed in the whole solemn affair—and the nicest.

Your statement that inheritance tax appraisal is not considered terribly difficult work is a bit off base.

To reduce the proof of this to an accepted exact science which the state's widows can understand, ask the next 1,000 people you meet if any are equipped and experienced enough to appraise your estate for your widow, and make it stick in a probate court. You might be fortunate enough to run into the dozen we have in this county. . . .

Appraisal work is a profession and not to be bartered for. Hiring the cheapest appraiser available can be compared to hiring a medical student for a brain operation, because he would work for less money.

Why does the law require a judge to obtain one or more appraisals by appraisers, instead of entrusting the job to an experienced probate attorney? The answer is too obvious to mention.

Many government agencies, such as the Division of Highways and the various redevelopment agencies, employ full-time appraisers in the public acquisition of real estate, but these agencies obtain one or more separate (fee) appraisals at the first sign of controversy.

The American Institute of Real Estate appraisers—and its California chapter—is as august and ethical a body as the State Bar. I feel sure that, with the right approach, the legislature could convince the AIREA to handle probate appraisals by qualified . . . members, in much the same method that the legal profession provides attorneys through the legal aid societies, and at reasonable fees.

I also feel sure that the quality of this method of appraisal would far surpass anything the state could hire at $6,000 to $8,000 in Class 29A on the civil service rolls. . . .

The only reference to civil service in Mr. Bagley's proposal (A. B. 127) is a one-sentence referral. I quote: "Section 18595 of Government Code. On and after the effective date of this section, the provisions of Article XXIV of the State Constitution and of this part shall apply to, and the term "State Civil Service" shall include, the persons appointed by the Controller as inheritance tax appraisers."

Now I ask you, if the controller is still going to appoint the appraisers, albeit to the sacred civil service roll, in the odoriferous matter at hand, where is the remedy? . . .

Why turn California's widows over to the caprices of unexamined political plum pickers enjoying the powerful protection of civil service tenure? The fealty and homage to Lord Cranston, or Lord whoever, will not be destroyed. By virtue of civil service tenure, it will on the contrary be perpetuated! . . .

I'll close my letter like you closed your editorial, by commending Mr. Bagley's thought and effort. . . . However, neither you, I, nor Mr. Bagley is naive enough to believe that putting any of the professions under civil service will stop soliciting or acceptance of campaign contributions. No one can travel far on a spur track—let's get on the main track before proceeding!

Redwood High Students Thank I-J

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the close of another school year, the staffs of the Redwood Bark and the Redwood Student News Bureau would like to thank you once again for publishing many of the news stories and features that we have sent you from September to June.

We know that the additional practice we get from writing stories to send to the Independent-Journal and the county weeklies has played a big part in helping us to produce a better high school newspaper and we feel that this additional writing opportunity has bearing in our having won so many awards. The News Bureau simply gives us many more writing opportunities.

We always like to see our stories in print but we feel that for a newspaper with a circulation of 35,000, you have been particularly generous with bylines to us students. Thanks now for every one of them.

Our editors and news bureau directors for next year are already making plans for the 1964-65 school year and we look forward to continued pleasant association with the I-J.

Incidentally, we think your initiation of the American Newspaper Publishers Association most valuable staffer award to Marin County school newspapers a wonderful innovation and a real incentive to young journalists.

THE LATE FRED ALLEN claimed he had a friend who owned fifteen cats, and drilled fifteen holes in his dining room door so he could get rid of them when he so desired. "One hole would be enough," pointed out Allen. "The cats could exit one by one." "Nothing doing," countered the friend firmly. "When I say 'scat,' I mean 'scat.'"

IN PARIS, best-seller authoress Taylor Caldwell once sought out a dentist and asked to have her teeth cleaned. The dentist asked, "Which one." It developed that French dentists charge by the tooth, and that since only the front teeth show, many frugal Parisians confine operations to that region. Miss Caldwell, no piker she, ordered the works.

IN LOS ANGELES, an author waxed so indignant over the lower royalty rate proposed by his hard-pressed publisher that he answered, "I shall change the name of the miserably paltry checks that you send me from 'royalties' to 'peasantries.'"

Scranton Maneuver Is Just Another Twist In GOP's Tangled Ball Of Yarn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania has definitely stated to the country that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination —it is just one more twist in an already unforgettable campaign.

AND IF THE PUBLIC is now no less confused after Scranton's action, the prime movers in the Republican party—Scranton not excluded —will have to share the blame.

For while Sen. Barry Goldwater was emerging as the GOP's only aggressive leader, they were looking more like caretakers than captains. They were sitting back, doing nothing, saying nothing now that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only top Republican willing to stick his neck out against Goldwater, seemed at the end of the line although he says he is still in the running.

While Goldwater and Rockefeller were slugging it out in the primaries, there was always the fine chance the two would knock each other out of all consideration before the Republican nominating convention in July. That would leave the field wide open to those would-be presidents who said they'd accept the nomination but would not fight for it.

AFTER GOLDWATER'S California primary victory all but sewed up the nomination for him, they began to wring their hands.

They showed concern for the nation and the party but never enough to really do anything about it.

Former President Eisenhower was also concerned but didn't show any more leadership than the others.

He didn't hide his reservations about some aspects of Goldwater's conservative philosophy but, as he put it, he wants to be in a position to pick up the pieces after the convention and help unite the party behind its nominee.

He had said he wouldn't interfere in the selection of a candidate but before the Governors' Conference opened in Cleveland he called Scranton and nudged him toward some activity.

OF ALL THE Republican leaders, Scranton put on the most indecisive and confusing performance.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan said he'd do everything in his power to stop Goldwater but when former Vice President Richard M. Nixon suggested that Romney actively seek the nomination in opposition to Goldwater, Romney wouldn't.

NIXON, who would like the nomination, but says he isn't a candidate, explained that in urging Romney to oppose Goldwater he wasn't really trying to start a stop-Goldwater move although it might have that effect.

There was always the chance of course, that if Romney and Goldwater fight each other until the convention got deadlocked on them, Nixon might have a chance, perhaps his best and only chance, to be picked finally as a compromise candidate.

Nixon said Scranton would be a good vice-presidential running mate for Goldwater, a view which, if it caught on, might erase Scranton from the convention's mind as a presidential candidate.

Scranton repaid the compliment by suggesting that Nixon, who had been vice president eight years under Eisenhower, would be just the man to run for the vice presidency again.

If all this adds up to some kind of political chaos, that is what it was. Goldwater? All he had to do was sit back and watch the spectacle.

BEHIND BAMBOO CURTAIN

China Discovers Cold Facts Of Real Progress

By G. A. BARKER

MAO'S MOST cherished dream has been to make China a great industrial nation. This was the avowed purpose of the "Great Leap Forward." "Overtake England by 1970" was one of the most loudly parrotted slogans in 1958 when the great leap was underway.

Today the slogan is no longer heard. After the agricultural crisis in 1960 and 1961, the Red planners had to revamp their idea. They learned the hard way that farming cannot be sacrificed to heavy industry. Today the slogan is "Walk On Two Legs"—meaning there must be a balance between agriculture and industry. Now industry must help serve agriculture.

THIS HAS MEANT the forced return to the farm of thousands of Chinese workers. These youths who had enthusiasticaly taken to city life did not particularly care to go back to the tough life, working knee-deep in night-soil and the even tighter regimintation. To paraphrase the old World War I song, "How you gonna keep 'em happy down on the commune after they've seen Peking?" Or Shanghai? Or Canton? This forced return to the farm is believed to be one of the major factors behind the mass exodus to Hong Kong in May of 1962.

Despite her agricultural failures and her cutbacks in her goals in heavy industry, it would be foolish to underestimate China's industrial progress. The four weak links in her industrial system have been greatly strengthened. These are petroleum, timber, chemical fertilizer and special steels.

CHINA HAS quite literally struck oil and now claims to be 80 per cent self sufficient in this field. She has recently ordered several chemical fertilizer plants from Holland and England. She is getting more timber than before, while at the same time carrying on an extensive reforestation program. And her steelmakers have abandoned the "backyard furnace" idea and her techniques of steel making are advancing. So progress is being made in industury, but no longer at the expense of agriculture.

China and Russia signed a trade agreement on May 13. It is interesting for what it does not contain, as for what it does. No grain is involved. Neither side can spare any. Both countries are buying wheat abroad. China will get tractors and trucks, airliners and timber, machine tools and petroleum products. In the main the Soviets will receive farm products, like canned or frozen pork and mutton, apples, oranges, egg products, and silk and woolen fabrics and clothing. It can be seen that China continues to tighten her collective belt for the sake of pushing forward.

HONG KONG buys many of China's agricultural products. Taiwan pork competes with pork from the Mainland in Hong Kong shops. And most of Hong Kong's fruits and vegetables are grown in the nearby Chinese province of Kwangtung. The China Products Company is one of Hong Kong's leading department stores and a good source of currency for Peking. So are the tens of thousands of Chinese who work in Hong Kong and send money to their families in China.

All this, together with the establishment of new industries producing synthetic fibers, plastics, fatty acids, transistors, etc., lays the foundation for further industrial growth. And grow it must, if only to keep pace with her rapidly expanding population.

Novato's Western Weekend Great! All Northern California Invited

THE NINTH ANNUAL Western Weekend celebration starts tomorrow in Novato. This five-day event has become one of the largest, best known community celebrations in Marin. It is an event that grows larger and better each year.

Such a community-wide undertaking does not just occur or grow by itself. It takes a lot of planning and work on someone's part. In this case, the someones are the Novato Horsemen's Assn. and the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The celebration first got started when the Novato Horsemen would meet in Novato and ride out to their grounds on Bugeia Lane. Here they would hold an amateur rodeo and riding event.

THUS WERE BORN the two main events in the celebration, the parade and rodeo. Others wanted in the parade and when it became too large for the horsemen to handle, it was turned over to the chamber of commerce one year and the junior chamber of commerce.

It was when this body of energetic young men took hold of it that it started to grow into the celebration that it is today.

THE JUNIOR CHAMBER enlarged the event, and now there is a professional rodeo. These attractions have continued to grow. This year, the Horsemen's Assn. is holding the rodeo on both Saturday and Sunday. It has enlarged the seating in the arena until it has a capacity of 3,000 for each performance.

THE COST OF RUNNING a parade of the size of that of Western Weekend soon would have exhausted the means of the junior chamber, except that they received financial help from the City of Novato and Marin County.

Even this does not cover the expenses and the junior chamber now has other means and events in the celebration to help raise the funds needed for such an undertaking.

Even with all this other income, the Western Weekend celebration is kept a nonprofit undertaking by the Jaycees. Any money that is made on the celebration is turned back into making it a better event the next year.

The community spirit of the event spread to other organizations and clubs in the city. They undertook to handle some of the concessions and booths at the carnival. This was a surprisingly profitable undertaking for these organizations. Thus, the money usually made from such a celebration was kept in the charitable organizations in the area.

THAT WAS THE MASTER stroke that brought the event into community-wide esteem. Now, all of the organizations in the city have their part of Western Weekend. More than anything else, the five-day celebration draws the citizens of the community together.

Events which are new to the celebration this year include a cross-country race, a donkey race, a night outdoor dance Saturday night, a square dance Sunday evening, and a two-day water skiing tournament at Mira Monte Marina.

Those who have attended past Western Weekend celebrations will not be disappointed because all of the old features of the past have been kept. It is larger and better this year.

This is the weekend of the year when Marin County's fastest-growing and second city in size extends the welcome mat to all of Northern California to come and enjoy the fun with it. This is the time when Novato plays host to anyone wanting fun and an enjoyable weekend.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, June 16, the 168th day of 1964 with 198 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1838, Former President John Quincy Adams began his three-week speech in the House against the annexation of Texas.

In 1916, the Democratic convention at St. Louis, Mo., voted to renominate President Woodrow Wilson for a second term.

In 1932, President Herbert Hoover was renominated for a second term by delegates of the Republican convention.

In 1955, widespread riots broke out in Argentina as the navy tried to oust dictator Juan Peron.

A thought for the day—Geoffrey Chaucer once said: "Sometimes it is art to seem to flee the thing which, in effect, one is pursuing."

Leading Right Suit Might Look Dangerous To Player

The trouble with medicine today is that it tastes too good. When I was a boy, I had to swallow cough medicine that would give a stone statue the collywobbles.

It may not have cured my coughs, but it gave me the fortitude to become a good bridge player.

Opening lead — ♡ K

When this hand was played in a recent rubber bridge game, West was a young man who had never lacked for anything. He took the king of hearts and made a face. He didn't like the dummy.

LED TRUMPS

Finally, West led a diamond.

Clearly, that did the defense no good at all. South won with the king of diamonds, drew trumps, and discarded his clubs on dummy's good diamonds.

South made his contract with two overtricks, and East made a very rude noise. He was unhappy about losing three club tricks, and East was a man who let the world know when he was unhappy.

CONVERSATION

"Why didn't you lead a club instead of a diamond?" East asked.

"How could I lead away from the king-jack?" West countered. "It was too dangerous."

"Too dangerous!" East snorted. "I suppose it was safe to lead diamonds."

We can leave the conversation at this stage because we know just how it will end. Each player will say a few bright things, while the opponents beam cheerfully. Then East and West will go on and try to show each other up, losing a huge rubber in the process.

DANGEROUS

All because West didn't have the strength of character to lead away from a dangerous holding in clubs. Dangerous or not, West must lead a club and hope that his partner will supply either the ace of clubs or the queen of clubs and the king of diamonds.

If East has nothing in clubs, the contract is not going to be defeated. West must nerve himself to lead a club just as though he were taking an unpleasant dose of medicine.

If all goes well, he will defeat the contract. Even if the contract cannot be defeated, it will be good for West's soul to nerve himself to do a dangerous thing.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 6 3 2
♥ 8
♦ A Q J 7 5
♣ 6 5 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades.

The response is the same, regardless of whether or not there is an intervening bid.

No. 38729

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Marin.

Adoption of BABY GIRL HOWARD, a minor.

TO BARBARA A. HOWARD:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Honorable Court a verified petition showing that the above-named minor child, BABY GIRL HOWARD, is within the County of Marin, State of California and is a person coming within the provisions of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the State of California, said petition prays for an Order of this Court determining said BABY GIRL HOWARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, of Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of California, and within the meaning of Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California;

NOW, THEREFORE, you are hereby cited and directed to appear before this Honorable Court on the 29th day of June, 1964, at the hour of 9:30 o'clock A.M., at the Court House, City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, then and there to show cause, if any you have, why an Order should not be made by this Court adjudging and determining said BABY GIRL HOWARD to be an abandoned child within the terms and meaning of Article IV, Section 22 of the Constitution of the State of California, and within the meaning of Section 224 of the Civil Code of the State of California, and of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the State of California, judicially depriving you of any further right or interest in the custody or control of said BABY GIRL HOWARD.

BY ORDER OF THIS COURT
DATED: May 28, 1964
Attest my hand and the seal of this Court, the day and year last above written.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Wednesday, July 1, 1964, at the hour of 10:00 A.M. at the Fourth Street entrance of the Old County Courthouse, between A and Court Streets, San Rafael, California, GUARANTY SERVICE CORPORATION, a California corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property:

All that certain real property situate, lying and being in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

PARCEL ONE: BEGINNING at a post marked "T. M. 2" at the northwesterly corner of that certain tract of land which was conveyed by Henry A. DuBois Jr., to The Mount Tamalpais Cemetery by deed dated July 6, 1880 and recorded in Book "U" of Deeds, at page 554, Marin County Records, which said corner is Station 2 of the survey of the Rancho San Pedro Santa Margarita y Las Gallinas and bears North 11° 15' East (along the boundary of said rancho survey) 70 chains and 20 links from an artificial mound of stones on the summit of the hill known as "Red Hill" which said stone mound is the place of beginning of the final survey of said rancho; running thence along the boundary of said rancho South 11° 15' West 1402.2 feet to an iron pipe; thence leaving said boundary line and crossing and subdividing the so-called "Mount Tamalpais Cemetery Tract," North 76° 44' East 970 feet to an iron pipe; and South 56° East 799.1 feet to an iron pipe set in the easterly line of last mentioned tract and the westerly line of the lands formerly owned by Alexander Forbes; thence along said line North 34° East 1000 feet, more or less, to the boundary of the lands heretofore owned by Lucas; thence along the southerly boundary of said Lucas Ranch; North 65° 30' West 950 feet; thence Southwesterly at a right angle 208 feet to a point; thence North 65° 30' West 208 feet to a point; thence Northeasterly at a right angle 208 feet to a point on the Northerly line of said parcel conveyed to Gilchrist by Deed recorded June 16, 1945 in Liber 489 of Official Records at page 124, Marin County Records; and thence along the Northerly boundary thereof North 65° 30' West 900 feet more or less to the point of commencement.

PARCEL TWO: Right of Way appurtenant to the property described in Parcel One, being through the property of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery as shown on those certain maps filed in Book 3 of Maps at pages 31 to 35, inclusive, Marin County Records, being the right of way first described in the decree had in the Superior Court of Marin County on August 5, 1924 in the action of E. Blois de Bois vs. The Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, Case No. 6677, a certified copy of which decree was recorded August 5, 1924 in Book 52 of Official Records at page 280, Marin County Records, being therein described as follows:

COMMENCING at the end of Culloden Avenue where it intercepts the southeasterly boundary of said cemetery, and running thence in a northwesterly direction to, over and along the Avenue running to Lake View Avenue; thence northwesterly over and along Lake View Avenue around the westerly and northerly sides of Section B to Lot 1 of Division 3 of Section B; thence southeasterly, easterly, northeasterly, northerly and northwesterly, successively, around said Lot No. 1 of Division 3 of Section B to an Avenue leaving Lake View Avenue in a northwesterly direction; thence along said last mentioned Avenue (being sometimes known as Willow Avenue) in a northwesterly and westerly direction to the southeasterly line of the above described 43 acre tract.

PARCEL THREE: An easement for the purpose of laying down, repairing, replacing and generally using a main water pipe or pipes over and along a strip or parcel of land 5 feet on each side of the following described line: BEGINNING at a stake South 34° West 11.5 feet and North 65° 30' West 871.2 feet from the section monument known as "E5" thence South 34° West 872 feet; thence South 65° West 100 feet, more or less, to Willow Avenue; thence southeasterly along said Willow Avenue to the Main entrance of the tract known as "The Mount Tamalpais Cemetery Tract."

BEING the same right of way reserved in the deed from Henry A. DuBois to The Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, a corporation, recorded July 8, 1880, in Book "U" of Deeds, at page 554, Marin County Records.

PARCEL FOUR: An easement for roadway and utility purposes, excluding the erection of utility poles, over a strip of land 54 feet in width lying 27 feet on either side of the following described center line:

BEGINNING at the Northwesterly termination of the center line of Ridgewood Drive as said center line and drive are shown on the "Map of Rafael Highlands Unit 2, San Rafael, California," filed for record on January 20, 1956 in Book 9 of Maps at page 13, Marin County Records; thence Northwesterly along a curve to the right of radius 2400.00 feet through a central angle of 2° 00', an arc distance of 83.78 feet; thence North 58° 45' West 454.0 feet to a point of curve; thence Northwesterly along a curve to the left of radius 1500 feet through a central angle of 5° 30' an arc distance of 143.99 feet; thence North 64° 15' West 96.23 feet; thence Northwesterly along a curve to the right of radius 350.00 feet through a central angle of 40° 24', an arc distance of 246.79 feet; thence North 23° 51' West 240.78 feet to a point of curve; thence Northwesterly along a curve to the right of radius 700.00 feet through a central angle of 17° 08', an arc distance of 209.32 feet; thence North 6° 43' West 22.46 feet to a point of curve; thence Northwesterly along a curve to the left of radius 225 feet through a central angle of 55° 45' an arc distance of 219.06 feet; thence North 62° 30' West 49.90 feet more or less to a point on the Northwesterly boundary line of that certain parcel of land conveyed to Thorinson Construction Corporation by deed recorded December 17, 1952 in Liber 780 at page 483, Official Records of Marin County, said last mentioned point lying North 34° 23' East 128.41 feet, more or less, from the most Westerly corner of said parcel.

PARCEL FIVE: An easement for roadway and utility purposes over a strip of land 54 feet in width lying 27 feet on each side of the following described center line:

BEGINNING at a point on the southerly boundary of the lands heretofore owned by Lucas, which point lies North 65° 30' 00" West 200.00 feet from the most westerly corner of the property conveyed to Thorinson Construction Corporation by deed recorded December 17, 1952, in Liber 780 at page 483 of Marin County Records; thence leaving said Lucas Ranch boundary and proceeding North 60° 00' 00" East, 59.50 feet; thence easterly on a curve concave to the southeast, tangent to the preceding curve, having a radius of 200.00 feet, through a central angle of 56° 30' 00" for a distance of 197.22 feet; thence South 62° 30' 00" East, 14 feet more or less to a point on the northwesterly boundary of said Thorinson property (780 Liber 483), which point lies North 34° 23' 00" East, 128.41 feet more or less from the hereintofore mentioned most westerly corner of the Thorinson property (780 Liber 483), said point being the Westerly terminus of that certain easement conveyed by Alan M. Kay, et ux, to Carl A. Roy, et ux, by deed recorded December 6, 1962 in Liber 1637 of Official Records at page 337, Marin County Records.

Said sale will be made without warranty or covenant regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by ALBERT H. FOWLER, JR. and LUCILLE M. FOWLER, his wife, Trustors, to BAY AREA SERVICE COMPANY, a California corporation, Trustee, for the benefit and security of LIVERMORE - PLEASANTON SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, as Beneficiary, the beneficial interest under said deed of trust now being owned and held by FIDELITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, formerly FIDELITY GUARANTY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, by virtue of assignment recorded at Book 1713 of Official Records, at Page 695, Marin County Records; said deed of trust is dated January 24, 1963, and was recorded on January 25, 1963, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California, in Book 1652 of Official Records, at page 61, Marin County Records.

Notice of default and election to sell the described real property under the above deed of trust was recorded on February 6, 1964, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California, in Book 1777 of Official Records at page 86, Marin County Records.

Guaranty Service Corporation was substituted as trustee by deed of appointment and substitution of trustee dated May 29, 1964, and recorded on June 4, 1964, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California, Recorder's Serial number 22589.

San Francisco's Chorus To Sing At Dominican

Bruckner's "Mass in F Minor" will be presented by the San Francisco Municipal Chorus through the courtesy of the San Francisco Art Commission on June 26 at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

Dr. Hans Leschke will conduct. Soloists will be Ann Moore, soprano; Bernice Sprague, contralto; Kenneth Small, tenor, and Edgar Self, baritone. Wilbur Russell will accompany at the organ.

The San Francisco Municipal Chorus was organized in 1924 under direction of Dr. Leschke, who is retiring this season. It is made up of men and women from all walks of life who present master choral works without payment.

Novato Council Due Pool Rates

The Novato City Council will receive new proposed rates for use of the city swimming pool when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the community house.

At last week's council meeting, several residents protested rates proposed by the parks and recreation advisory commission of $1 for adults, 50 cents for teen-agers and 35 cents for those under 12.

The staff will recommend charges of 25 cents for those under 12 and 50 cents for all above 12.

The council will hold a closed session before the meeting to discuss appointments to two vacancies on the parks and recreation commission and the city's pending lawsuit with William F. and Irene Nave over right of way on South Novato Boulevard.

Sailor Trains

James P. Windrick, Navy electrician's mate third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Windrick of 235 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, participated aboard the Navy destroyer Benner in a combined sea-assault and airborne combat training exercise called LIGTAS, in the Philippines.

Princeton Degree

Princeton University today was to award bachelor of arts degrees to John C. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Chambers of 7 Turnagain Road, Kentfield, and William Delano Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Sherman of 164 Oak Knoll Drive, San Anselmo.

School Districts Group To Hear Of Demise

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization will meet tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

At tonight's meeting, the session will be for the augmented committee discussing the Dixie-San Rafael area. The group will receive a report on the effect of the Unruh Education Act, which eliminates augmented committees.

According to Edwin L. Blackmore, secretary of the committee, the elimination of augmented committees would go into effect 90 days after the end of the last legislative session, but an advisory committee of members of the augmented committee could be set up.

Tomorrow's meeting will discuss the attempt to form a unified district of the Tomales Joint Union High School District by first unionizing the elementary school district in the area.

The committee tomorrow will also officially receive the results of the election June 2 on unifition of the Tamalpais Union High School District area and consider action for further study or a new election.

Chamber Aids Summer Jobs

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce is aiding in the State Employment Department's campaign to find and fill summer jobs.

The chamber today requested any businessman or home owner needing summer help for office, factory of general labor tasks to call the chamber office or the state employment office.

Job orders will be processed by employment agencies belonging to the chamber at no fee, and applicants will be screened and sent to the job.

Collegiate Bay Plans Are On Display

Plans and sketches showing proposed developments for Richardson Bay are on display at Southern Marin Realty, 585 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, through mid-July.

The plans, made by graduate students in landscape architecture, College of Environmental Design, University of California, Berkeley, under Robert Royston, Mill Valley landscape architect, are located in windows of the building and may be seen during the day or until midnight when they are lighted, John David Erickson, City Planning Consultant, said.

Sausalito Expected To Protest Broemmel

A resolution is expected to be approved by the Sausalito City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting today stating that the council protests methods of County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel in his cyclical reappraisal program.

Action to initiate the resolution came following many protests to the council by property owners.

Boys Seen Taking Loot From School

Three Novato boys, ages 7, 8, and 10, paid a vacation visit to school yesterday but took some property and not knowledge with them, Novato police reported yesterday.

The boys were seen leaving the Olive School about 5:15 p.m., by Mrs. Shirley May Young, 37, a teacher at the school who lives in Petaluma.

Novato police recovered several items of jewelry and other items taken from the box of unclaimed property in the principal's office. The boys told police that they had entered the office by crawling through an unlocked window.

Lack Of Quorum

There was no meeting of the Marinwood Fire Commission last night because of lack of a quorum.

Art Show Lists Panel Of Judges

A five-member jury of non-professionals, selected for their varied interests and knowledge, will judge the Marin Society of Artists' patrons' choice show Saturday at the Frances Young Gallery, Marin Art and Garden Center. The show opens July 1, first day of the Art and Garden Fair.

Members of the jury are Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo; Mrs. Roger Kent, an art commissioner; Ralph B. Priestly, architect; Don Keown, Independent - Journal magazine editor, and Peter H. Behr, Marin County supervisor.

Entries include paintings, sculpture, graphics and crafts. The show will continue through July.

Lagunitas School Budget On Agenda

Lagunitas School District trustees will consider a tentative budget for 1964-65 at 8 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

The tentative budget previously has been estimated at $205,301. The current budget is $184,056.

The trustees will hear a report that enrollment increased to 429 this month, and average daily attendance to 418. Also on the agenda are a report on summer school registration, and discussion of the initiative to repeal the Rumford Act.

Trial Scheduled In Salary Case

Vivian LaVonne Metcalf, 42, operator of Fairhaven Christian Science Rest Home, 1373 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday for trial on a charge of five counts of failure to pay salaries.

Mrs. Metcalf, of 3 Marinita Avenue, San Rafael, allegedly failed to pay salaries to five women during various periods during 1963.

Fairfax Area Clusters Given County Approval

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday voted unanimously to recommend zoning allowing cluster development in land west of Oak Manor, Fairfax, with an average amount of liand per house to be at least 20,000 square feet.

An area fronting on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was excluded from the rezoning, and was designated planned residential, thereby allowing apartment development.

The revised request by owner Mildred Simon was for 200 units on the land, not counting the apartment area, which had, in fact, been offered as a gift to the Fairfax School District, but turned down.

Architect D. Hugh Gregory Coleman said he felt 200 houses would be the minimum economically feasible for the 82 acres, to be called Oak Manor Highlands. He asked for zoning which would allow one house for every 10,000 square feet.

Principal Planner David Van Pelt said many of the houses shown on the revised plan would be impossible to build because of terrain. He said the proposed streets would require long stretches of 15 to 20 per cent grade, some places even steeper.

In addition, Van Pelt complained, the upper part of the development, when built, would dump traffic onto the steepest part of Oak Manor Drive.

Daniel M. Miller, chairman of the Fairfax Planning Commission, said the city was opposed to any more apartments for the area.

Van Pelt said the 10,000 square foot average lot size with clusters allowed would set a precedent for the entire valley east to White's Hill, allowing construction of 5,000 homes.

A letter was read from the Fairfax District School Board approving the plans for 200 homes on the property. The board had opposed the original plans, which included multiple units, on the grounds the number of children would overtax school facilities.

Honor Graduate

Peter Fred Stokely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stokely of 45 Marinita Avenue, San Rafael, has been graduated with honors from University of California at Riverside. He received the bachelor of arts degree with a major in chemistry.

New Scooter Throws Rider In San Anselmo

A 16-year-old Tamalpais High School student suffered chin cuts and facial scratches Saturday when his new motorscooter went out of control on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near San Anselmo.

Michael C. Thomsett of 337 East Blithedale Terrace, Mill Valley, told California Highway Patrol officers that he was driving toward the Hub about 6 p.m. when the scooter's front wheel began to wobble. He fell off as the cycle swerved. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Decisions Handed Down By The Supreme Court

The following are decisions handed down yesterday by the U. S. Supreme Court.

1. Reversed the narcotics conviction of Nick Alford Aguilar of Houston, Tex., because the search warrant leading to his arrest was not supported by a proper affidavit. The court split 6 to 3 on the case, with Justice Arthur J. Goldberg speaking for the majority. The issue in the case centered on the constitutional requirements for abtaining a state search warrant.

Goldberg said an affidavit supporting an application for a search warrant may be based on hearsay information and need not reflect the direct personal observations of the one who gives it.

2. Agreed today to consider a challenge on grounds of racial discrimination to Louisiana's antisubversive laws, which are said to cloak harassment of the civil rights movement. The court will hear the case some time next fall or winter and decide it later by written opinion.

The controversy stemmed from the arrest of three men during an interracial conference of New Orleans attorneys sponsored by the national lawyers guild. The warrants charged violations of the anti-subversive laws.

3. Decided today that Tennessee may impose its use tax on government property used by two private companies in operation of Oak Ridge plants of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Tennessee sought to impose the 3 per cent use tax on Union Carbide Corp. and the H. K. Ferguson Co. which operate under contracts with the Atomic Energy Commission.

4. Announced today it will adjourn for the term next Monday "unless otherwise ordered." The justices still have sit-in cases and other important decisions to hand down.

Bridge Meetings

Two committees of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Board will meet June 24. The Finance Committee will meet at 10 a.m. and the Building and Operating Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m., both at the bridge toll plaza.

More Troubles For Checks Suspect

A new bad check charge has been filed against George William Stewart, 37, of San Francisco, who was booked in county jail Thursday by Fairfax police for non-support and passing two bad checks totaling $100.

He was charged Saturday by San Anselmo police of passing a $3,324.80 check on a bank in which he had no account to a San Anselmo used car dealer in payment for a 1961-model vehicle.

Stewart's bail, which was set at $3,300 Thursday has been raised to $9,350, according to San Anselmo Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio.

Brothers Ask Trials On Morals Charges

Innocent pleas by two brothers to charges of statutory rape were entered yesterday in Marin Superior Court. Date for setting of separate trials was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Charged are Harold Dean Arrasmith, 23, of 1679 Hill Avenue, Novato, and Ronald Gene Arrasmith, 18, of Boyes Hot Springs, Sonoma, County. They were allegedly involved with the same 13-year-old Novato girl.

Something doing all the time and fun for everyone is the aim of this year's Ninth Western Weekend Celebration in Novato which starts tomorrow.

The activities start with the carnival and booths at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, both tomorrow and Thursday.

The main events of the Western Weekend celebration start at 8 p.m. Friday at the Community House when the Queen and her two Princesses will be chosen from a field of 15 contestants.

At the same time the men will get into the act with the judging of the Beard Contest.

In addition to other entertainment that night the Community Club will present its annual melodrama, "And the Villian Still Pursued Her."

SATURDAY

All day Saturday the events are piled one on top of another. The day starts at 7 a.m. with a Buckaroo Breakfast at Lee Brothers parking lot. The events of the all-day ski tournament at Mira Monte Marina start at 8:30 in the morning.

The cross country race starts at 9:30 at the Main Fire Station on Grant Avenue. This event no more than gets under way when another race takes place at the Patterson Ranch — a donkey race.

Then the parade, expected to draw a crowd of 20,000 will go up Grant Avenue, starting at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at 11 a.m.

Immediately after the parade, Nick Kobseff's famous barbecue will be held at the Patterson Ranch.

Not to be left out of the fun, the Novato Firemen will be hosts to the annual Water Ball Fight in the Marion School grounds.

The first of two rodeos will be held at the Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane at 5:30, following the awarding of the prizes in the parade at the Patterson Ranch.

Climax of the day comes with an outdoor dance at 9 p.m. in the parking lot of Cloud 5 Restaurant on First Street and Grant Avenue.

SUNDAY

Sunday's activities start with the second rodeo at 1 p.m. in the Horsemen's Assn. arena. During intermission, the beef drawing will be held.

The second day of the water ski tournament will feature events all day long at the Mira Monte Marina, climaxed with the jumping in the afternoon.

An old fashioned square dance will be held from 4:30 to 8 p.m. at the Marion School grounds.

The final event of the celebration is the Pony Give Away at 8 p.m. at the Patterson Ranch.

Rodeo Arena All Spruced Up For Show

Those attending the rodeo at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. arena this year will be surprised at the changes in the seating.

The association has torn out many of the old bleachers and added new ones to make it a complete circle around the arena. These new and better bleachers have added approvimately 400 seats to the capacity of the arena, said Joseph Wright, publicity chairman. The arena now has a capacity of 3,000, he said.

Members of the committee which have worked to make this two day rodeo the best in the history of the rodeos of the Horsemen's Assn. are: Neil Cullins, chairman; Ad Schwindt co-chairman; tickets, Paul Hanson; publicity, Wright; traffic and parking, Ted Lusher and Buck Azevedo; livestock and trailer parking, Orville Peterson; arena, Millard Wallace; secretary, Mrs. Clarie Thomas and color guard, Paula Hansen.

Water Balloons Ruled Out For Western Weekend

Novato police will not tolerate throwing of water balloons during Western Weekend this year, Police Chief Robert Di Grazia declared today.

"We had so much trouble last year with water balloons that we are serving notice that anyone, regardless of age, caught throwing one will be arrested," the chief said.

He said many people in the crowd watching the parade last year left early because they were being pelted with water-filled balloons.

"One girl in the parade had her ear drum broken by one last year, and that is going to stop," he said.

"If they throw the balloons at anyone, they can be charged with assault. If they throw them at a car, they can be charged with tampering with a vehicle. If they throw them from a car, they can be charged with littering."

Patio Pointers

Enclosing a patio with roofing and screening can make it more private and impervious to insects. Simple furniture, soft lights and a few large plants make a patio an ideal place for late dining or TV-viewing.

OVER THE TOW-ROPE — United States Champion Dale St. John goes over the tow-rope in a difficult turn around. He will be the chief judge of at the Second Annual Western Experts Water Ski Championships at the Mira Monte Marina. This tournament is being held in conjunction with the Western Weekend Celebration in Novato. St. John is coming from Fall River Mills to judge the competition.

Water Ski Event Will Make Debut

For those attending Western Weekend who want a cool diversion, a new attraction has been added in a water ski tournament Saturday and Sunday at the Mira Monte Marina.

The Second Annual Western Experts Water Ski Championships, sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn., will be held all of both days at the Master's Water Ski School, Mira Monte Marina, northeast of the Marin County Airport on Highway 101.

The events in this tournament will take place both in the morning and afternoon of each day. These are slalom, tricks, and jumping for Junior boys and girls and senior men and women.

Among those entered in the competition is Jerry Welch, 18, a permanent instructor at the school. He was United States Men's Overall Champion last year. He was also Mexican Champion and Hawaiian Champion last year.

Champion Dale St. John will be the chief judge of the tournament. He will be assisted by Carl Boivie. Wally Pallack is the official boat driver for the competitions, according to Bee Wineman, director of the school.

Many Groups To Share In Weekend Activities

For the second straight year, the Western Weekend Celebration takes on more of a community atmosphere as various organizations sponsor and run the many booths at the carnival grounds on the Patterson Ranch.

This was tried by the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce last year in an effort to aid the various organizations and make the celebration more of a community-wide affair. It proved so successful that it is being done again this year.

The organizations and booths are: Novato Guild Sunny Hills, "Duck Pond"; Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, "Row Down"; Lions Club, "Dart Balloons"; Beta Sigma Phi, hot dogs and corn-on-the-cob stand; Novato Community Ambassadors, "Hi-Striker"; Petaluma Radio, hamburger stand; Moose Lodge, "Milk Cans"; Villa Anita "Hi-Lo Dart"; Kiwanis Club, beer booth; Tars, "One Ball"; Rotary Club, "Bowl Pitch"; Pop Warner Novato Hornets, "Bear Pitch"; Novato Squares, "Dime Toss"; Black Point Improvement Club, "Add'en Pan"; Young Republicans, "Cork Shoot"; NOLA (Novato Oak Lodge Auxiliary) "Tic-Tac-Toe"; Foot Printers, "Cat Throw"; De Molay, "Coke Toss"; and Injectors of Marin, "Dump Tank."

Judge Obliges Worried Inmate

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — "Thirty days," said Circuit Court Judge John J. Sullivan Jr. to Michael Gurn, 78, who had pleaded guilty to intoxication.

"Just a minute, your honor," said Gurn. "I don't feel good and I can't walk. I'd like to ask for 60."

The startled judge agreed to revise the sentence.

Not That Efficient

LAGRANGE, Ky. (AP)—Farmer H. H. McWilliams let the South Oldham County Voulenteer Fire Department get some practice while he burned down an old barn on a site he planned to build a new one. But he had to calm the enthusiasm of some rookies because two or three times they almost put out the fire.

Shields For Awls

Those little plastic caps on lighter-fluid cans and other containers can be used in the home workshop. They serve as excellent shields for awls and other pointed tools.

Minstrel Man Turns Stork Assistant

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Patients and attendants at a Cody hospital were a little astonished when Dr. DeWitt Dominick rushed in to deliver a baby.

Dr. Dominick was on stage at the Cody Rotary Club minstrel show when the emergency call came from the hospital. He didn't bother to remove his blackface makeup before rushing to the hospital.

Nigerian Data To Be Buried At World Fair

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Mental health data and sports statistics from Nigeria will be among material buried in a time capsule at the New York World's Fair.

A. A. Ordia, chairman of this West African nation's sports council, and Dr. T. A. Lambo, a leading Nigerian psychiatrist, helped compile the information to be placed in Westinghouse Corporation's time capsule scheduled for opening in the year 6939, a company statement said.

Aging Thor Missiles Get New Grip On Life

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP) — Thor missiles, 60 of which were stationed in Great Britain as a stopgap measure until the United States developed intercontinental range rockets, are being converted for use as space boosters.

The 1,500-mile-range Thors were removed from Britain in 1963 and are being altered at the Douglas Aircraft Co. plant in Tulsa, Okla. The Air Force is using the re-worked rockets for several space probes.

Olives are graded in as many as 13 different sizes, from Large through Giants, Jumbos, Colossals and Supercolossals. The really big ones are called super Supremes.

Queen Contest Judge Has Tough Job; 15 Beauties Vie

The queen and two princesses of Novato's Ninth Annual Western Weekend Celebration will be chosen and, crowned in ceremonies at 8 p.m. Friday in the Community House.

Judges this year must make their selection from a field of 15 entries who will make their appearances only in bathing suits. Judging will be 50 per cent beauty, 25 per cent poise and 25 per cent personality.

The queen and her two princesses will ride in the parade Saturday morning and reign over the events of the celebration.

In addition, they will receive many gifts from local merchants.

Those entered in the contest are: Jeanie Bergala, 18, of 1025 Fifth Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Nita Bergala, 17, of 1025 Fifth Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Shirley Ann Bradley, 19, 502 Norman Drive, Novato, a graduate of San Rafael High School; Shirley Bowles, 16, of 2 Tyler Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Sharon Bradshaw, 18, of 330 Grandview Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Roberta Chamberland, 17, of 45 Rudnick, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Terry Del Zotto, 18, of 846 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School; Kathy Faulkner, 16, of 707 Bradley Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School;

Victoria Hoffman, 16, of 764 Kendon Lane, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Clarise Kinyon, 16, of 126 H Lane, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Kathi McDonough, 16, of 2068 Carolyn Way, Novato, a student at Novato High School; Carolyn Rowell, 18, of 1523 Buchanan Street, Novato;

Vickie Thomas, 16, of 585 Midway Boulevard, Novato, a student at Terra Linda High School; Dorothy Wigner, 18, of 760 Diablo Avenue, Novato, a student at Novato High School and Linda Heape, 17, of 1563 Buchanan Street, Novato, a student at Novato High School.

Peggy McFarland, last year's queen of Western Weekend, will greet the contestants. At all times, the girls will be chaperoned by Mrs. Karl Johnson and Mrs. Charles Marquardt of the Novato Jaycettes. Mrs. Paul Fry is chairman of the queen contest.

Hugh Turner of KTIM will be the master of ceremonies for the contest.

Water Bill Too High?

Does your water bill seem too high? Turn off all the water faucets both inside and outside the house. Then look at the water meter. If the "one cubic foot" or "10 gallon" indicator is moving, there is a leak somewhere.

Country Into Liquor Business

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria has formally opened its first liquor distillery in association with N. V. Erven Lucas Bols of Amsterdam.

Nigerian Fermentation Industries Ltd., 40 per cent government-owned, has started producing gin, blended whisky and other products in a new plant here managed by the Dutch firm.

A government spokesman said the distillery aims to reduce liquor imports and help curb production and smuggling of illicit gin.

WHOA THERE, HORSE

Bareback riding is the most dangerous of rodeo events except the bull riding event. The trick of the event is to stay on the horse for the required length of time. The danger lies in injury from the flailing hooves of the horse after the rider has been thrown. This rider was doing a good job of sticking onto his horse last year at the rodeo at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. arena, but a few seconds later, he too was thrown.

That's How It Goes In Army

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — An Army reservist who doesn't want his name known attests to the following sequence.

His unit commander received a directive to initial any erasure on an official paper. A second order countermanded this but a third directive reinstated the initialing of erasures.

Then an official document, with an erasure and the proper initials, bounced back with this directive: "Erase the initials and initial the erasure."

Carnivorous plants survive in acid-rich bogs because they overcome the nitrogen deficiency by eating insects.

Beauties And Beards Will Share Stage At Same Time

Beards will share the spotlight with the beauties Friday night when the beard contest is judged at the same time as the queen is selected for the Ninth Annual Western Weekend Celebration sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

So far 39 men have officially entered the contest, but there are many more beards than that in evidence in Novato, so by contest time, that number may be much larger, said Charles Marquardt, chairman of the Beard contest.

Judging of the beards will be done in two phases. The preliminary or elimination judging will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the parking lot of the Community House.

Finalists in this contest then will be judged on the stage of the community house during the ceremonies of selecting the queen and two princesses.

Judging of beards will be in seven catagories. These are: full beard, Van Dyke, Abe Lincoln, mutton chops, novelty, longest beard and best of show.

The judges of the beard contest will be professional hair trimmers.

Never The Twain

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Somebody got their directions mixed in drafting a subpoena for a "Larry C. West." When deputies tried to serve the subpoena at the address listed, they were informed that, "This is the residence of Larry East." A hurried trip back to the courthouse corrected the situation. East was wanted as a witness in a damage suit.

LOOK OUT FOR INDIANS

Gun-totin', bearded cowboys will be the order of the day during Novato's Western Weekend Celebration which starts tomorrow. Peggy McFarland, last year's queen, examines the arrow piercing the hat of Lyle Adin of 830 Hayden Drive, Novato. Adin hopes to take a trophy for his full beard in the Beard Contest.

Think You Are Going To Fire?

LEITCHWIELD, Ky. (AP)—The Litchfield Fire Department ran into costly delays in extinguishing a blaze in an auto.

Firemen figured they could drive out the Western Kentucky Parkway, stretch a hose over a fence and save the burning car, which was on a county road parallel to the turnpike.

They did, But, Chief Carl Collard said, it cost them $5.20 in tolls, going and coming.

Carnival Is Always Tops With Kiddies

If one were to ask the kids, what was the best part of Western Weekend, the answer undoubtedly would be the carnival.

For five days, starting tomorrow, the carnival is the big attraction to the small fry as its rides whirl around on the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

For the third year in a row, Carnival Time Shows has been selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to have the spotlight.

This year, the carnival has added three new rides which were not in the celebration last year. These are The Scrambler, Octopus and Roll O' Plane.

Other standard rides which the youngsters enjoyed are the Rock O' Plane, Merry-Go-Round, Ferris Wheel, Tilt-a-Whirl and Roller Coaster. Some of the other rides include a boat ride, airplane ride, buggy ride, umbrella ride and helicopter ride.

Keep The Cars Somewhere Else

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Workmen went dutifully about their job of tearing down a 12-room house to make room for a used car lot.

Almost through their task, they uncovered the framework of a one-room log cabin. The Historical Society decided it once was a stagecoach depot and later a toll house.

The workers now may get hte job of helping to preserve it.

Red Ripe Orange Found In Italy

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—First-time visitors to Sicily are often surprised when they order orange juice and get a glass of something which looks like tomato juice instead. But is isn't tomato. It's the Sanguinello blood orange Sicilians prefer above all others.

The Sanguinello looks like an ordinary orange on the outside, with only the faintest blush of red, but inside it is extra juicy, extra tasty and red as a ripe tomato.

Jaycees Sparkplug Novato Festivity

The big job of organizing, planning and seeing that the Western Weekend celebration comes off on schedule is done by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. In addition to doing the job of running many of the major events themselves, they must co-ordinate all the other groups into one smooth working organization.

These are the men who have worked hard heading their committees to get this year's celebration underway: grounds, Charles Jansen; parade, William Elverfeld; concessions and booths, Bob Comaduran; beard contest, Charles Marquardt; publicity, Bob Hax; store front decorations, Roscoe Morgan, beef raffle, Duane Stewart; rodeo concessions, George MacKinnon and queen contest, Mrs. Paul (Loretta) Fry.

Much Too Obvious

MOUNT VERNON, Ky. (AP) — Fire Chief John Cox estimated damage at $2,000 to $3,000 when as he was trying to start the fire engine, it backfired and gas was ignited under it. The city then found it had no fire insurance on the fire truck.

TEAM ROPING

The calf hasn't got a chance of getting away—or has he? A team of cowboys waits as the calf breaks from the chute in the Horsemen's Arena on a dead run, trying to get away from the ropers. Occasionally the calf succeeds, but most of the time, it is a race against time. The team who succeeds in roping and tieing their calf in the shortest time, is the winner of the prize money. This year the Novato Horsemen's Assn. has doubled the prize money for the rodeo which will be held both on Saturday and Sunday.

Live Fiddlin' Set For Square Dance

Live music will be an added attraction at the square dance on the Marion Street school grounds from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Sunday night sponsored by the Novato Squares square dance club.

The "Roll Alongs," all from Marin County, will be callers and musicians.

The "Roll Alongs" are Milt Adams, Bill Owen, Gordon Collins, Dave Milano, Jack Olds, Harry Whitlock, Merle Bason and Jim Blackwell.

Double Contest Develops For Prettiest Windows

The store front contest for Western Weekend this year has developed into a contest within a contest.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering three trophies for the three best store front decorations. These will be judged tonight and the trophies awarded tomorrow.

The Novato Fair Shopping Fair Merchants conducted their own contest within this contest. They worked with the art department at Novato High School and had 20 art students paint six by eight feet murals on their windows.

The merchants furnished the paint and brushes for the students to paint their pre-planned picture on the window yesterday. The prizes in this contest for the students are a $50 savings bond, a $25 savings bond and a $10 savings account.

100 Per Cent In Favor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Asbury Place became a part of suburban Mountain Brook by a unanimous vote in an annexation election. The plebicite attracted only two voters, and both favored the attachment. Asbury Place contains a half dozen homes, but only two of the residents had lived there long enough to qualify for the election.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

The cry of "Ride 'Em Cowboy" will be heard many times Saturday and Sunday at the Novato Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane as cowboys from all over the west compete for prizes in the new Redwood Empire Rodeo Circuit rodeo in Novato. The clown in the arena is not just to make people laugh, but to assist thrown riders. The Novato Horsemen's Assn. is sponsoring the two-day rodeo.

Antiques Popular

Home decorators report an increasing interest in early American furniture. They say many young couples are looking for antiques with which to furnish their homes. It used to be that interest in antiques was shown mainly by older couples.

Free Pony Is Prize For Novato Jaycee Winner

Hey Kids! Here's your chance to get a pony free.

And if your parents won't let you have a pony, you can exchange him for a bicycle.

The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce is offering a pony and other prizes during Western Weekend. The tickets for the drawing may be obtained from Novato merchants.

The drawing will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue. There's only one catch, the person must be there to win and must be accompanied by a parent.

The phrase "ear marked" comes from the English farmers' practice of notching the ears of their cattle to identify them permanently.

BULL RIDING

The biggest danger in bull riding is being bucked off "over the hand" as this rider is doing. His own weight will keep his clenched hand caught in the rope against the bull's back. Before he can free himself the cowboy may be whipped around under the animal or bounced on the horns.

Old-Fashioned Melodrama Friday Night

An old fashioned melodrama with weeping, wailing, gnashing of teeth and hissing the villian will all be a part of "And the Villian Still Pursued Her," presented by the Novato Community Club as part of the Western Weekend celebration.

The melodrama, produced and directed by Scott Wright, will be presented Friday night at the Community House following the Queen contest and beard judging.

The cast of characters includes Bill Hints as the father; the heroine, Emaline, Sandy Consagra; Villian, Joe Jacobs; country cousin, Vivienne Terry; maid, Mrs. Connie Craig; hero, Kenneth Craig; heroine's mother, Lena, Elaine Jacobs and detective, Scott Wright.

Lots Of Wood

An old growth forest in the Douglas fir region of western Oregon and Washington will yield 300 to 500 tons of wood per acre.

163 Entries Set Record For Novato's Parade

Making it the biggest parade in Novato Western Weekend history, 163 entries have been received by the sponsoring Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The parade, one of the highlight attractions of Western Weekend, will be held Saturday, June 20, starting at 11 a.m. The route will be west on Grant Avenue, from Reichert Avenue across Highway 101 to Seventh Street.

Among the top entries in the parade will be the St. Mary's Chinese Drum Corp of San Francisco and the Flying Rifles drill team from Hamilton Air Force Base. The St. Mary's group has appeared in many national celebrations, including the inauguration of the late Pres. John F. Kennedy. The Flying Rifles team has been on national television on many occasions.

Guest speaker from the parade platform will be Irving Links, honorary member of the Novato Junior Chamber and owner of a men's clothing store in Novato.

Other guests for the parade will include County Supervisor William A. Gnoss; Novato mayor Robert D. Carrow and the city councilmen; George McDaniels, president of the Novato Kiwanis Club, and Millard Miles, president of the Novato Lions Club.

Entry deadline for the parade was June 6, but entrants registered after that time will be in a special division in the rear of the parade.

Entrants who registered before the deadline will be competing for cash prizes, trophies and ribbons. Providing a lot of color to the parade will be bands, floats, majorettes, military drill teams, mounted drill teams and drum and bugle teams, to name just a few.

Leading the parade will be Marshall J. of Television Station KGO (Channel 7). Another main attraction of the parade will be an authentic Wells Fargo stage coach drawn by a team of horses.

Among the bands entered are the Coast Guard Band of Alameda, the Sixth Army Band from the Presidio of San Francisco, the Shrine Oriental Band of Sonoma, and the Pete Butti Marching Band from San Francisco.

Hearty Eating Is Offered Saturday

The Buckaroo Breakfast will start at 7 a.m. Saturday at the Lee Brothers parking lot and last until 11 a.m.

The Mariner's Club of the Presbyterian Church is putting on the breakfast again this year.

Last year they served hotcakes, eggs, ham, fruit juice and hot drinks to 1,200 people. A crowd of 1,500 is expected this year.

THE MARSHAL IS MARSHALL

Marshall J, commonly known to his Novato friends as Jay Alexander but to his television fans as Marshall J, again will be the Grand Marshal of the Western Weekend Parade Saturday in Novato. The parade is again expected to attract more than 20,000 people to the celebration.

Two-Day Rodeo This Year Means More Fun, Prizes

The Western Weekend rodeo will be bigger and better this year than ever before with a new attraction for cowboys and the rodeo running two days instead of one, said Joseph Wright of the sponsoring Novato Horsemen's Assn.

This year, the redeo will run both Saturday and Sunday, giving twice as much in prize money, Wright said.

In addition, the rodeo has joined the Redwood Empire circuit, giving cowboys two weeks of rodeo work and grand prizes as well as prizes at each rodeo.

On Saturday, the rodeo will start at 6 p.m. and on Sunday, it will start at 1 p.m. Each performance will last about three hours, Wright said.

Championship rodeo stock from the Flying U Ranch of Cotton Rosser has again been hired for both performances of the rodeo.

John Jackson of Woodlake, well known rodeo announcer, again will do the commentary of the events for the crowd.

The Horsemen's Assn. has doubled the prize money, making $600 for each performance, or a total of $1,200 for the two shows, according to Wright.

In addition, there will be a set of silver spurs and a cash prize for the total high point man in each event in all four rodeos of the Redwood Empire circuit. The all-around champion of all four rodeos will get a trophy saddle. All the rodeos are sanctioned by the Rodeo Cowboys Assn.

The events this year again will be saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, team roping, and bull riding. There will be a special event at intermission time.

Sachs Harbour is the only settlement on Banks Island, a wind-whipped land mass about the size of West Virginia in the western Canadian Arctic. The temperature sometimes plummets to 50 degrees below zero in the winter. No trees grow except scrub willow.

Wear A Raincoat Saturday Even If The Sun Is Shining

It'll be a wet time in Novato Saturday afternoon when the Kentfield Fire Department and Novato Fire Department engage in their fourth annual water ball fight at the Marion School grounds at 1:30 p.m.

These two teams of firemen have met three times before but were too wet to bother keeping score.

The idea of the game is to push a disc along a wire with a stream of water from a fire hose. Of course one team must push the other team backwards at the same time, and anyone standing within 100 feet is subject to a free shower — all in fun of course.

Howard Gieselman, Walter Simonds and Joseph McNern are the Novato Firemen in charge of arranging for the water ball fight.

Donkeys Will Run Saturday, Maybe

All former Missourians and admirers of donkey personalities, should be on hand at 9:45 Saturday morning for the first donkey race in the Western Weekend Celebration, sponsored by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The race will be held at the Patterson Ranch at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street.

The course will not be long, but it may take some of the donkeys a long time to complete it, especially if they balk, said Joseph Ladely, chairman of the race committee.

Dance Will Continue To Wee, Small Hours

To keep the pace of the celebration lasting far into the night, the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an outdoor dance starting at 9 p.m. Saturday at the parking lot of Cloud 5 Restaurant at 1005 First Street.

Dancing to live music, both popular and western will be featured. An outside bar will be set up where refreshments may be purchased.

'Wanted' Posters Up For Novato Characters

Novato is taking on the air of an old west town with its store fronts being changed from modern to Old West design.

Characteristic of the atmosphere are the "wanted" signs in Honest Irv's Clothing Emporium, established 1776.

Some of them are:

"Wanted dead or alive, horse thief Chip Chapman."

"Notice to thieves, thugs, fakers and bunco steerers, among whom are Pete Ferrarese . . ."

"Calico Saloon features "The Belle, of the Barroom, Rose Volk."

Rewards of $10,000 each are offered for card shark Irv Links and "Wild Wayne," Horse Thief Harley McAskill is only worth a $5,000 reward.

The names on these Old West wanted signs bears a strikingly similiarity to present day Novato businessmen, but it's all in fun of course.

IT'S WESTERN FUN

Angelo Mirabella, member of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, rides his hobby horse to the parade Saturday while Peggy McFarland, queen of last year's celebration thumbs a ride. The hobby horse gives away to a real horse as rodeo and parade highlight the weekend of fun in Novato.

Glock's Glorious Gabby Almanac

LOUISVILLE Ky. (AP) — More than 30 college students throughout the country are nonpaying subscribers to "Glock's Glorious Gabby Almanac of Useful College Information."

The weekly letter is put together by Milton Glock at his own expense.

After his son and daughter left for college, they wanted to keep track of their high school chums, so Glock offered his home as a clearing house for their letters.

To get on the mailing list, each student must write at least one letter every eight weeks.

Glock then edits the letters and includes the gist of each in his four page mimeograph sheet.

Oysters Drowned By Fresh Water

DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala. (AP)— Freshwater flooding is blamed for a tremendous kill-off of oysters in Mobile Bay and the eastern end of Mississippi Sound. Chief George Allen of the State Conservation Department's Seafood Division said that the spring floods killed up to 90 per cent of the oysters in some areas.

He said that flooding upsets the critical balance of fresh and salt water in which oysters thrive.

Society Meets To Admire Lilies

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — The American Hemerocallis Society has held two of its conventions in this south Georgia town.

The reason: The society is made up of Americans who love day lilies, something for which Valdosta is noted.

The day lily is an unusual plant. Its beautiful blossoms live only from sunrise to sunset. Usually orange or yellow, the flowers grow at the top of a leafless stalk that ranges in height from three to five feet.

Really Cleaning

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — During Starke's spring cleanup drive, C. H. Nasworthy cooperated in a big way — tearing down an unused 1890-built, two-story section of his Commercial Hotel.

CALF ROPING — Timing is the important thing in calf roping. A successful competitor in this event does his work in seconds. Some top ropers in the professional cowboys circuits make up to $25,000 per year. Some of the best calf ropers in the west will be seen Saturday and Sunday at the Novato Horsemen's Assn. rodeo at their arena on Bugeia Lane in Novato.

New Event Is Cross Country Race

One of the new attractions for this year's Western Weekend is a cross-country race of approximately 6.6 miles which will start and end at the main fire station on Grant Avenue.

All entries must have Amateur Athletic Union Card showing them to be of amateur standing. They must be at the fire station at 8:30 a.m. for a physical before the race at 9:30 a.m., according to Carl Jensen co-chairman of the race with Roscoe Morgan of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

So far, 27 people have entered the race, with a field of more than 50 hoped for by the committee, Jensen said.

Starting at the fire station, the runners will go west on Grant Avenue to Novato Boulevard; out Novato Boulevard to McClay Road and south on McClay Road to Center Road. Then they will go east on Center Road to Tamalpais Avenue and south of Tamalpais Avenue to Hill Road; east on Hill Road to Canyon Road, Ridge Road and the water tower on Half Moon Road. From there the race will continue on a marked foot path off the hill to Indian Valley Road; east on it to Diablo Avenue, down it Novato Boulevard; west on Novato Boulevard to Seventh Street and then to Grant Avenue and back to the fire station.

There will be three trophies for the first three place winners and a medal to all who finish the course. There are also trophies for teams of five runners. There is an entry fee for the race.

AAU cards may be obtained from Frank Geiss of 127 Montgomery Street in San Francisco, Jensen said. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office in the Patio Building.

Famous Barbecue To Follow Big Parade

Those who attend the parade Saturday morning, will find a mouth watering treat ready for them when the parade ends at the Patterson Ranch at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

Nick Kobseff of Rancho Nicassio will have his famous barbecue ready to take care of the parade crowd. This year the barbecue will feature both chicken and ribs.

Perk Up Entrance

Perk up your front entrance and make it easy to locate night or day with bright stainless steel house numerals and letters. They resist wind and weather without painting.

New Word For Working Sculpture

NEW YORK (AP) — Sculpture doesn't always just sit quietly in museums and get looked at, any more. Some sculpture moves and makes sounds as visitors nudge the works or press buttons of throw switches.

Steelways, a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute calls the phenomenon "synaesthesia," meaning hearing stimulated and accompanied by illusions of color and seeing stimulated by sound.

For Show, Not Go

WALTON, Ky. (AP) — Volunteer firemen in Walton want it known they're up to date even if they bought a 1918 fire truck. The old vehicle was overhauled and dolled up for parades and the like.
